[6] Appearance Concept arts for Broly by Daizenshuu 6 Broly Broly Daizenshuu 6 Broly Daizenshuu 6 Broly Broly Daizenshuu 6 Br is a light-skinned Saiyan with dark eyes and spiky black hair reaching her half-back with short fringes framing her forehead. As a child, he wore a black tunic of a strip with gray pants and brown boots, next to a rope belt and bracelets. As an adult, Broly is an imposing man with a slim but well-constructed frame. Her facial expression, even before wearing the crown, had a melancholy dear to her. He is shirtless while wearing white pants with a blue jewelry center. He also wears similar yellow boots with a blue jewel on the top of the front. It is implied that the clothing was made of a material similar to That of Battle Armor, regardless of the growing transformation he wore, his clothes always remained instability continued to grow, Paragus placed a crown on Broly's forehead, along with bracelets and a necklace with a flat plate over his chest, each of which are gilded with a blue jewel. Broly also wore golden bands over his biceps. After freeing himself from Paragas' control, Broly's crown, collar and armbands were After Broly's defeat against Goku, he obtained burn marks on his chest. Personality He was a true warrior, born with strength and influence that would make most Saiyan parents proud. But there was something much darker about him. Violent, threatening, and over time began to scare me. I had no choice but to have a scientist create a device that controls his power. Paragus reminiscing about Broly's true nature. When first seen, Broly is seen as a rather docile and harmless saiyan (not characteristic of most of the Saiyan breed). However, Broly has an unpredictable dual nature, as indicated in Paragus's flashback, when he wakes up briefly and calmly asks what Paragus is up to, only to end up getting into a scream attack upon realizing that Paragus is about to put the crown of mind control on his head. Once shifting to his more aggressive state, Broly demonstrates his love for fighting and brutality as the typical Saiyan, but on a much more destructive level. This violent and manic side of him apparently stemmed so much from his extraordinary power that he never learned to properly control, as well as the traumatic events of his birth, causing his frenzy to happen more often and last longer as he grew older and these eventually caused him to tear out his father's left eye. Largely because of his insanity, Broly was also known to get hysterical while causing destruction or getting into a frenzy, as being especially evident in Paragus's flashback where Broly after destroying a city landscape as a child is seen laughing uncontrollably, even being physically restrained by Paragus. Broly also seems to have a real problem controlling his anger, which means he may end up destroying himself. In an effort to control his erratic behavior, Paragus used a device to master Broly's temper. When free of the Paragus control device, Broly's saiyan nature becomes dominant, as shown by his destruction of Planet Shamo. Paragus also implies that his place by combat, death and destruction was on a scale far above even the typical Saiyan. Broly seems to recognize his malevolence; Piccolo calls him a freak, to which Broly replies that he really is a devil (the funimation voiceover for the film decreases slightly while at the same time getting the implications through having Piccolo in the aforementioned scene accusing Broly of attacking children first in a disgusted tone, as well as Broly replying that he just does what is necessary to be done, before telling him that The Namekian should have expected this from a real aberration). It is suggestive that although Broly has been crazed with his power given to birth and the various circumstances of his birth, Broly has some sanity such madness, for he also showed a high-grade intelligence while in his fury: he sees through the lies and plans of Paragus to have him die in the collision of the planet with comet Camori, as well as engaging briefly in in against Gohan, Goku and Future Trunks within the ruined city and catch them successfully off guard, and also deducing just before their first defeat that Goku's increased power had been due to donations from his allies. A similar display of intellect was also demonstrated in the Victory Mission manga, where he, similarly to King Piccolo, went on to devour two Dragon Balls in front of Beat and Froze, and then forces them to fight him, knowing full well that they cannot actually harm him. Paragus trying to contain his dangerous son too (in the dubbing funimation, at least), he has a very gloomy sense of humor: When Goku demanded a disadvantage during the fight, Broly went on to ask sadically if disadvantage is another word for a coffin. He also had a more sarcastic sense of humor, at least in the dubbing of funimation, as evident before destroying Planet Shamo, where he commented that shamoan slaves decided to show bravery, despite being healy scared at the time. He also seems to have some degree of respect for fighters who try to stop him even when the Japanese version where he even claimed that they were very worthy of his Saiyan blood (in the DUBbing FUNimation, he says otherwise: he instead calls them Saiyan Blood residues). Similarly, he seems to have some hatred of fighters who were all talk and no action, as evidenced by his remark to Vegeta shortly after he ended up guickly defeating them where he called it a real piece of garbage. Although largely without self-restraint, he, however, was implicit in the Japanese version to hold on to the destruction of the New Vegeta Planet to allow Goku and the everything they had (although this was mainly because his Saiyan instincts required him to fight). Largely because of his true nature as the Legendary Super Saiyan, he acted as one of the few people Vegeta was initially terrified of, with other competitors being Freeza and Beerus, to the extent that he was initially completely willing to fight and even desperately demanded that the other Z-Fighters cease their attacks on him due to being useless. Broly's most striking feature is his intense hatred for Goku. While both were newborns, Goku's relentless cry greatly angered the next Broly, arousing the hatred for Goku is because he subconsciously associated Goku's incessant crying with the horrible things he had to endure late, how to barely survive the execution and barely escape the destruction of Planet Vegeta, and so blamed Goku for these things. While under control of the mind, and later, when his insanity settled, he he shouts Goku's Saiyan name, Kakarot, in an exclamatory way. Although he usually addresses Goku by his name Saiyan, he referred to him by his name on Earth twice, both times during his fight on the New Planet Vegeta (at least in the English dub). Despite his hatred for Goku, however, the Japanese version of Film 8 implies that he at least respects Goku's determination to try to stop him, regardless of the low chances of doing so, due to calling him and the other Z-Fighters worthy of his Saiyan blood. Although not to the same extent as Goku, it is implied that Broly has a similar low opinion of Vegeta, as in the Japanese version when Vegeta recovers enough of his bravado to try to attack Broly, the latter coldly states that he has no intention of letting Vegeta have an easy death against him. By the events of his second film, his defeat at the hands of Goku, as well as his serious injuries result in his total loss of his sanity. His speech is now limited to pronouncing Kakarot (except for a rare exception) and he has a diminished sense of reality, as he confuses Goten with a Goku baby, although he has also confused Gohan with an adult Goku. Xenoverso 2 implies that another reason for him to confuse them with Goku was because they carried a similar smell to him. The only aspect of his mind that seems intact is his sadistic desire for revenge against Goku. It is implied in Bio-Broly clone apparently inherited his hatred and habit of saying Kakarot!, indicating that he passed to his clone through some form of genetic memory. Interestingly, in a What-if setting in Supersonic Warriors 2, Broly loses his memory and becomes more subdued (in a way much like Goku) and is found by Mr. Satan, whom he befriends. Although he later regained his memory after meeting Goku at the World Tournament, he and Mr. Satan were participating and transforming. His memory of Mr. Satan's friendship prevents him from killing Goku and destroying earth, and it is implied that he managed to learn to control his darkest impulses, allowing him to live a peaceful life on Earth in a manner similar to Good Buu, indicating that Broly might have been different had it not been for his infernal life and the influence of his father. In addition, his personality in said that the scenario is similar to his super-dragon ball indicating that he probably would have been different had it not been for his infernal life and the influence of his father. Similarly, another plot involving Broly, where Broly and Paragus successfully eliminated the Z-Fighters, had Broly conquerearth acting as a kind of defender of the planet against various threats to Earth, such as Cell and Majin Buu, and also has a (comparatively) better relationship with Paragus. In Dragon Ball Xenoverse 2, it is revealed that he committed the aromas of Kakarot and Vegeta in his memory. In Xenoverse 2, he maintains his hatred for Goku and is obsessed with finding him. He treats the Warrior of the Future as a toy and a slave (presumably due to his father's influence as Paragus had an army of henchmen) stating how he will kill them and destroy the city. However, like all villain instructors, his destructive tendencies are toyed, even planning to leave the city to destroy a planet elsewhere to blow up steam, which is one of the few times Broly has shown any semre of restraint, as he could have simply destroyed Conton City. In addition, he will respect the Saiyan Future Warrior if they complete their training even stating that they may be worthy of his Saiyan blood, after all, just as he told the Z Fighters in the Japanese version of Broly - The Legendary Super Saiyan. Similarly, during the DLC plot for the Infinite Story saga, although it makes it clear that he is only participating in the mission to fix the rift in order to find Kakarot, he agreed to accompany his student to do the mission. He gets confused when the Warrior of the Future asks how they plan to destroy and simply states that if someone attacks something enough it is certain to fall apart, showing that his thinking when it comes to fighting is simple and violently simplistic. He also disagrees with Turles' claim that true Saiyan warriors have finesse, arguing guite accurately that Saiyans don't care about finesse, inst battle, showing that he has a good view of his own inborn saiyan drives and impulses that, unlike Turles, he fully embraces. In the World Mission, an anomaly causes Broly to become even crazier than normal to the point that he is unable to recognize Xeno Goku as Kakarot and sees goku beat's Saiyan-Earthhybrid descendant (Great Saiyaman 4) as his enemy referring to the boy as Kakarot. He ignores Xeno Goku as he repeatedly insists that he is Kakarot and attacks Great Saiyaman 4 tirelessly with Ki Blasts which the boy repeatedly dodges, briefly attacking Xeno only once, before returning his focus to Great Saiyaman 4. When an enraged note attacks Broly with a Ki Blast while yelling at him that great big 4 is Beat and not Kakarot, he fires a single Ki Blast in his knockout, causing Great Saivaman 4 to mistakenly believe that she killed. This, however, causes the boy's Great Saivaman Suit to turn off while Beat transforms into his super saivan natural form. Still seeing Beat as Kakarot, Broly responds in kind, turning into his legendary Super Saiyan 3 form, telling him that he will be the massacre with him. However, after ssj beat dealing with the Legendary Super Saiyan 3 a crushing defeat as punishment for hurting Note, Broly refuses to accept defeat and turns into his Super Saiyan 4 forms to help ssj beat in super saiyan 4 Broly defeat. After being defeated, the weakened SSJ4 Broly believes that defeating him is impossible, but is killed by the young Super Saiyan with a Ki Blast that retorts that is possible thanks to teamwork. Although Broly's disorder appears to be the result of the anomaly, it should be noted that Beat is a descendant of Goku and Broly is known to target Goku's family (as Goten in Broly - Second Coming) and Xeno Goku is a different incarnation of Goku. Broly's Background biography as a child, bothered by Kakarot's constant agitation, the baby in a neighboring Broly crib was born at age 737, during the period of intense turmoil between Freeza and the Saiyans. At birth, his most curious feature was his disorderly power level of 10,000. This anomaly meant that, at birth, Broly's power was already close to that of Bardock and King Vegeta at the time of their deaths. In Saiyan's delivery room, where he rests afterwards, Broly is tormented by the constant crying of his neighbor, Kakarot. Kakarot's crying affected Broly's psychological mental state, causing him to hold a subconscious grudge against him. The two babies would not meet again for nearly three decades. King Vegeta feared the threat the boy posed to his empire, and so he gave the order for the execution of the child. Broly's father, Paragus, begged the king to spare the child's life, attesting that his son could be an extremely valuable asset to King Vegeta and his son. King Vegeta was quick to point out that while this is true, the same is true that Broly could use his growing strength to overthrow the Saiyan royal family. King Vegeta closes the argument by sentencing Paragus to death, shooting him with a wave of energy. Broly is then stabbed in the chest and left for dead with Paragus. Baby Broly saving his father When planet Vegeta is destroyed, Broly climbs up and uses his powers to protect himself and his father. Ironically, the destruction of Planet Vegeta had been orchestrated by Freeza for exactly the same reason king Vegeta tried Broly earlier: Due to the fear of the Legendary Super Saiyan rising and He. Broly then stays with his father while Paragus plans revenge against King Vegeta and the royal family for the sentence they passed. consequence of this was when Broly punched Paragus in the face and blinded him in the left eye. Paragus prepares to put a crown to control Broly, but not yet willing to kill Broly, Paragus used a ring as a special control device to keep Broly under restraint. Paragus barely managed to survive adorning Broly with the ring; Broly's calm disappeared as soon as he noticed the crown that Paragus tried to put on his forehead. After successfully doing so, Paragus launched a plan to use earth as a base of operations for universal domination and to take revenge on Vegeta, luring him to a doomed planet to be destroyed by a giant comet. During this time, he also used Broly to destroy the remaining planets in the South Zone, being as the main cause of the disturbance in King Kai's universe; this caused him to contact Goku and inform him of the super saiyan threat. gentle Saiyan until his personality is later dissipated like a riddle caused by the suppression of his ring. He accompanies Vegeta to the planet Todokama, ironically in search of the Legendary Super Saiyan. When Goku appears in Paragus's palace after deforming with New Vegeta using instant transmission, Broly begins to fill himself with anger at seeing Goku, before his father finally manages to calm him down. However, that night, Broly can't control himself and goes into a blind rage, attacking Goku in his suppressed super Saiyan form. Eventually, Broly manages to increase significantly, with Goku in doing so recognizing him as the same energy trail he had been following, and then promptly accuses Broly of being responsible for attacking the Southern Galaxy (in the funimation voiceover, he instead only demands that Broly listen to a newcomer Paragus and calm down). The battle is pulled to an early end when Paragus arrives and is able to once again use his control over Broly. This meeting leaves Goku by surprise and certain that Broly is Legendary Super Saiyan he's been tracking. Broly runs runs and Future Trunks When Vegeta tries to leave the planet with others and Paragus's plan is exposed, Broly begins to walk toward Goku and pronounce his name in fury. His bandana is destroyed and he transforms into the Legendary Super Saivan, free from Paragus' control, Vegeta is completely shaken by Broly's ki and Broly begins to fight Goku and the others. Enraged beyond control and rampant with insanity, and despite Broly's request that they fight with all their might if they wanted to stop him, goku's super saiyan combined force, Gohan and Future Trunks are useless. Eventually, Piccolo makes an appearance on the battlefield, but he also provides little help against Broly's incredible power. Soon after, Vegeta dispels his fear and admiration for Broly, joining the fight, only to be quickly overcome. Vegeta attacks Broly with an upside-down kick while the devastated Dragon Team is scattered over the rubble of a fallen city. Broly ties another loose end confronting Paragus, who is making an attempt to escape the doomed planet in a Saiyan Pod. Broly ignores his father's fabricated situation, crushing in his arms the Saiyan Pod, and Paragus with him; he ponders that Paragus's plan for the comet to kill him would not work. Goku climbs one last time and asks his friends to channel all his energy into him, being Vegeta's energy the final conduit due to his beliefs that he should not help a lower-class Saiyan. Broly throws a powerful punch to finish Goku, but with the addition of Vegeta's energy, Goku is able to catch Broly's punch. Goku then issues a powerful ki that causes Broly to retreat in fear. Realizing Goku's energy source, Broly laughs at the idea of Goku being able to kill him before calling guickly. The two Saiyans face off head-on,

The combined power of the three warriors is sufficient to overcome the Legendary Super Saiyan, as Broly is defeated and killed. 2 Main article: Dragon Ball Xenoverse 2 Decisive Battle with Majin Buu Broly is recruited alongside Super Super for timebreakers controlled through Towa's new supervillain spell. Broly delighted with the supervillain power-up heads of state for the battle between Majin Vegeta and Goku to interfere, but is knocked down by the Warrior of the Future allowing Majin Vegeta to knock out Goku and die fighting majin Buu as he should. However, Broly survives and becomes stronger through Saiyan Power, taking on his Supervillain transformation in order to interfere in the battle between Ultimate Gohan and Super Buu, however, he and Super Buu are both defeated by Gohan and the Warrior of the Future who takes Broly down to ensure he doesn't return a third time. Warrior saga of Hope However, unfortunately, this is not the last time they face the empowered Supervillain Broly. As part of super pack 4 DLC, Broly appears during the Warrior of Hope Saga, where he appears at age 796 from the Dragon Ball Super Futures timeline after Goku Black misused the Time Ring in conjunction with his sitdown creates a Rift in Time that connects multiple time lines and times together. He is joined by other villains from Time Breaker, Super Janemba, Metal Cooler and Lord Slug. Broly tries to kill his enemy Kakarot during his confrontation with Black, who leaves Goku, Vegeta and the Warrior of the Future to deal with his deadly opponents as he plans to merge with Zamasu of the Future. Although his supervillain transformation is no use), he is no match for Super Saiyan Blue Goku's combined bout, SSGSS Vegeta, and the Warrior of the Future, although they are outnumbered by villains 4-3. He is implied to have been killed and since he died in the future timeline his soul was presumably erased by future Zeno, although his death probably disappeared when Chronoa put the scrolls together after it was successfully corrected. Infinite Story Saga As part of the Extra Pack 2 DLC, Broly can be recruited as a partner to join Future Warrior if he is your current instructor. After the Warrior of the Future inadvertently enters a timeline where Demigra is Supreme Time Kai and time patrol leader who is somehow absorbed by a mysterious swordsman, they are informed of a new crisis involving four Rifts in Time that have been brainwashed The Time Rangers sent to investigate them and are beginning to affect the residents of Conton City. While Trunks: Xeno and his partner keep those affected contained, the Warrior of the Future is tasked with investigating how Chronoa and Elder Kai think they should not be affected due to their experience. Trunks: Xeno, however, questions sending that she had already thought about it and has already concluded that someone from another of time will not be effected before revealing that she had convinced her instructor Broly to help them. As Broly enters the Nest of Time the ground trembles from his Chronoa explains that the cracks are separated from the official story, amitondo Trunks: Xeno's fears can alter the story. Carefree, Broly insists that the Warrior follow him, infernally committed to finding Goku. They finally discover that Dabura was rescued from death by Towa during his invasion of the Time Nest shortly before his own death at Age ???. As a result, they are forced to confront Dabura, who plans to seek revenge with the help of his enigmatic artificially raised nephew Fu.

DragonBall, Emperor Pilaf manages to collect all seven, but accidentally makes a wish to summon someone strong to scare away the fighters from the tournament who were beleaguered that resulted in the Legendary Super Saivan Broly being summoned to the 4F Timespace Rift Area, however, Broly got out of control looking for kakarot and so the Pilaf Gang was forced to flee. Broly soon saw Tekka's team and noticed the young self of his enemy Kid Goku that Broly immediately identifies himself as Kakarot, while Kid Trunks and Goten recognize Broly and explain to Pan, Tekka and Kid Goku who he is. As they flee Broly they encounter Pinich who comes to Tekka's defense when he sees his rival & amp; friend being beaten by Broly. However, Pinich is no match for the Legendary Super Saiyan and he easily defeats Pinich who is sent flying. After finding Pinich unconscious, Tekka leaves him in the care of Wanta and Paprika, who came across Pinich after he was knocked out. Tekka's Team decides to open several time holes to summon someone who can help them defeat Broly. This results in Towa and Mira being summoned to the Rift of Space Time. Unaware of its evil nature, Tekka's team enasks for the duo's help to stop Broly, who Towa surprisingly agrees. However, when Towa meets Broly, she reveals her true nature to Tekka's Team, then turns Broly into a Great Monkey so that he will fight Tekka's team - thus allowing her to reap her energy to Mira, who she reveals to be king of the Demon Kingdom. He's defeated, but he gets up. However, soon after, he is blown up by Beerus, causing Towa and Mira to flee. Tekka's team finds the adult Goku in Area 4F and he asks them how their training is going. Super Saiyan 3 Broly appears and they fight and defeat him, returning him to normal. Towa of Approaches behind them and takes control of Goku and Broly's bodies using their magic. Towa uses his magic to force Goku and Broly to EX-Fusion, which results in karoly's creation, which she plans to use to collect energy to power Mira. However, Goku later reveals that he allowed Towa to control him so that he could merge with Broly, which would not have happened otherwise due to Broly's intense hatred of Goku. The legendary Super Saiyan Broly can be recruited by KOing him with a Zenkai Attack. He can be found as an enemy as part of an S-Rank rift created by opening holes twice using Burst Ki in Area 4F (after defeating Great Ape Broly). The legendary Super Saiyan 3 Broly can also be recruited by KOing him with a Zenkai Attack when he is found as an enemy as part of an S-Rank rift created by opening holes twice using Burst Ki in Area 4F or Area 7F. Supersonic Warriors Scenarios 2 Main Article: Dragon Ball Z: Supersonic Warriors 2 Broly has three scenarios in Supersonic Warriors 2. In the first scenario, Paragus arrives on Earth early and tricks Vegeta into reaching the New Planet Vegeta alone, Broly then defeats Vegeta, Freeza and his empire took over the planet and Freeza placed his Saiyan servants there before going to Earth, only to be killed by Future Trunks, so Cooler began using the New Planet Vegeta as his base. After Broly kills Vegeta they discover Cooler and his armored squad and destroys the New Planet Vegeta. Paragus and Broly then began to build an empire.
however, since all the Saiyans are dead Cell was able to easily achieve his perfect form on Earth, Broly feels Cell and his anger causes Paragus to decide to take him so he could deal with the Bio-Androids. Broly defeats Cell and destroys him, however, unbeknownst to the two Babidi was drawing energy from the battle and transferring her to Majin Buu in order to wake him. Buu wakes up and fights Broly, however, he is also defeated and Broly kills buu and Babidi. In the second scenario, Broly fights all Z Fighters and defeats them, however they escape to Earth and New Planet Vegeta is hit by the comet, Broly escapes in his space capsule and arrives on Earth several years later, landing at a location where Goten Trunks are playing, Broly thinks Goten is Goku and attacks, so the two merge into Gotenks, just to be They flee to get help from Gohan, who is teaching Videl to fly, Broly fights and defeats Gohan, but then Goku's spirit appears and he and his sons fire Kamehamehas in Broly, he brushes them, but is hit by lava and submerged under it. The Z Fighters think he's been defeated, but in reality, he survives and vows revenge. In the third scenario, Broly escapes the New Planet Vegeta when it is about to be destroyed and years later lands on Earth (after the defeat of Kid Buu), crashing into an area near satan's city, he hits his head hard and loses his memories beyond his own name. Mr. Satan to pay the cash prize of the World Martial Arts Tournament she had played for him, Broly is angry that she is threatening Mr. Satan and defeat. Satan then realizes Broly's power, takes Broly as his disciple, organizes a doubles tournament, and enters with Broly. The two enter and face krillin, Tien and Yamcha in the first round, with Kuririn recognizing Broly but not remembering who he is. Broly defeats all three and he and Mr.
Satan will face Goku. Vegeta and Gohan, the three recognize Broly and Broly regains his memories, propelling himself to the Legendary Super Saiyan and fighting the three, he defeats them, but before he goes into turmoil Mr. Satan manages to calm him down. Broly then lives peacefully on Earth with Mr. Satan and the Z Fighters, but is still excited whenever Goku is around. Burst Limit Main Article: Dragon Ball Z: Burst Limit Broly has its own saga in the game. It largely features some dialogue on Broly's part, as well as the rest of the cast, from the original film. In the saga, Kuririn stumbles upon Broly while the latter is furious about Goku (with Kuririn's reaction indicating that this had not been his first encounter with the maniac Saiyan), and was horrified that he was present. Unfortunately for Kuririn, Broly felt him close by and considered him an insect, forcing Kuririn to fight him before being defeated. While Broly shouts Goku's saiyan name and energizes himself, Kuririn began to lose consciousness, though not before weakly apologizing to Goku for being unable to stop Broly, as he was too powerful. He then found Gohan, who Broly recognized as Goku's son, and went on to use a Heavy Finisher on him, with the blow being powerful enough to send him flying despite being Super Saiyan 2, with him denouncing Broly as a monster. Broly then scolds him about how he should be proud of his Saiyan heritage before fighting him. After finally beating Gohan, Broly, while demented laughing, announces that the massacre with Gohan. Presumably, shortly after that, he then notices Piccolo Piccolo and deduced that another insect had come to die. Piccolo, unadot by the threat, simply claims that Broly decided to show off. Broly then deduces that Piccolo thinks he is a monster, before correcting him by stating that he was, in fact, the devil himself before laughing hideously. After defeating Piccolo, he then dismissed his previous opponents as insects before making it clear that he is feeding that he is feeding that he is waiting for Goku's arrival. He then found Future Trunks, and demanded that he fight him to the fullest, otherwise he would destroy the Earth. Trunks then mentioned that Broly will destroy the entire universe if he is not paraded. Ultimately, Future Trunks can no longer fight, demands that he get out of his sight before blowing it up. Vegeta then arrived and demanded to know what Broly was doing while denouncing him as an aberration, while pointing out that he intended to defeat Goku. He then managed to hold his own for Broly, causing him to ask the Legendary Super Saiyan if he was too strong for Broly. Broly in response makes it clear that he does not intend to let Vegeta kill him easily, with Vegeta then stating that Broly will now face Prince Saiyan in battle. However, Vegeta ended up defeated by the legendary Super Saiyan, with Broly stating that it is over and that in the end, Vegeta is still useless before feeding. Eventually, Goku arrived, with Broly shouting Goku's saiyan name, causing Goku to correct him about what his name was on Earth. Broly then informs Goku that he intends to tear up the latter. Goku then realizes that Broly simply cannot live, and makes it clear that he will not lose to the Legendary Super Saiyan. Broly then screams that he will kill Goku, with the planet acting like his grave. After a long battle, Goku then attacks Broly, only for the latter to walk away and avoid his guick attack, leaving Goku confused about where Broly went. Broly then calls goku's name. Goku then turns well in time to be hit by a Heavy Finisher and then begins to knock him down, before using a barrage of blows that eventually hits Goku on his back. Broly then declares that he is unstoppable, before stating that his ki is rising and overflowing before calling. He then decides that the only thing left to do before moving on to destroy the universe is to destroy the planet before laughing aninsively. Unexpectedly, however, Goku comes back up and up to Super Saiyan 2, with Broly initially being shocked before finally preparing to fight Goku. Raging Blast Main Article: Dragon Ball: Raging Blast Broly managed to survive his encounter with Goku and landed on Earth. Dr. Gero somehow managed to locate him and, in brainwashed him to serve him, feeling that his hatred for Goku is the key to his own plans for revenge against him. He. then Goku fights Broly, only for him to inevitably backfire due to his hatred breaking Gero's control over him, similar to Broly's father before him. Power Films Broly overloads Goku Before Broly is revealed as the Legendary Super Saiyan, and largely because of Paragus restricting Broly's power to his base form through his crown, Paragus states that Broly's power level is weaker than his own, with Future Trunks confirming this earlier, citing the latter as being a toothpick in comparison. However, his base form may have been weaker than Paragus, at least by the time he was first adorned with the crown, due to the latter proceeding to secure it long enough to put it on and struggling to take down Paragus during his scream attack. Broly's ki in its super saiyan form was strong enough to be badly felt from King Kai's planet while it was wreaking havoc in the Southern Galaxy.
Moreover, even when in its restrained state super saiyan A-type A, it is strongly implied that it was powerful enough to obliterate the Southern Galaxy alone, leaving only a few planets and stars. While he was in his legendary super saiyan form, ki broly is potent enough to be felt all the way from Kami's Lookout on The Earth of the New Planet Vegeta. While in his form of Super Saiyan A heavily contained, he is able to make the Goku base fight a little, although he is restrained by paragus's bandana. When he reaches all the power of his Super Saiyan A-type, he is able to take numerous attacks from Super Saiyan Second Vegeta Series without flinching. When in Legendary Super Saiyan form, he is stronger than Goku and Gohan in his Super Saiyan forms, Future Trunks and Vegeta in his super saiyan second series forms and the Super Namekian Piccolo; he easily beats all five out there. Even when Piccolo and Goku both dambro with punches and kicks, Broly takes no damage, and if anything effortlessly dodged his combined front, and wipes them aside. Perhaps most tellingly, he purposely caught a Super Kamehameha at close range from Super Saiyan Goku, and not only got out completely unscathed, but laughed at the attack, even continuing to sarcastically ask Goku what the attack was supposed to be. Being able to receive Super Saiyan Goku attacks without any damage means that Broly was at least twice as strong as Goku. [3] Her physical strength in this form was also enough to effortlessly crush Paragus's attacking ball, which was heavily armored and then threw it off the planet. However, the channeling of ki from the exhausted base form Gohan, Vegeta, Future Trunks and Piccolo in Goku is significantly by ki, Broly also expresses some shock and fear at the unexpected increase in energy, although this was short-lived, even confidently declaring that, that, of how much power was given by the other Z-Fighters to Goku, it would not be enough to kill him. It is declared by Vegeta that he is the most powerful Saiyan in history. Although unconfirmed, it is possibly implied that his legendary super saiyan form may have been stronger than Gohan's Super Saivan 2 form at the time, as Goku urged Gohan to flee when Broly threatened him, despite already being aware of his Super Saivan 2 form, In addition, Broly also showed exceptional endurance, being able to survive serious injuries that would normally have killed other individuals. These included being stabbed in the heart during the time of his childhood and being soshot in the abdomen by an empowered Goku and then forging at the end of his fight. Due to his Saiyan Power, he inevitably became much stronger during these times. After gaining more Saiyan Power in his second film appearance, Gohan claims that Super Saivan type C Broly is as much a challenge as before, suggesting that his super Saivan-type C state in the film was of power comparable to his legendary Super Saivan state from his previous appearance. In this form, he is able to easily overload Videl as well as Goten and Trunks in his Super Saivan forms before continuing to fight on par with the Gohan base. On a related note, it was also implied that Broly managed to overcome the problem of venting with his legendary super saiyan form, as he did not vent at all during his fight with Gohan at the end of the film. In his legendary Super Saiyan form, he is able to defeat Super Saiyan 2 Gohan without any difficulty. However, with the trunks barrier helping to block Broly's connection to his Giant Meteor, all the power of the Kamehameha family used by Super Saiyan 2 Gohan, and Super Saiyan Goten was powerful enough to push Broly to the core of the sun OVAs and cinematic attractions In Plan to Eradicate the Saiyans, Goku states that Hatchiyack may be even stronger than the legendary Super Saiyan). In Dragon Ball Z: Super Tenkaichi Budokai, Broly in his broly god form is shown to be strong enough to fight both Super Saivan Blue Goku and Vegeta base at the same time. A full bout of Broly knocks out Super Saivan Blue Vegeta when he is forced to take all the weight of it as he defends Bulma, however, Broly God is no match for God Fusion Goku and is quickly dispatched with a Kamehameha God, although he temporarily holds his own against the various physical blows mergers. Mission victory in Dragon Ball Heroes: Victory Mission, Super Saiyan 4 Broly is shown to be strong enough to easily defeat Eis Shenron, Nuova Shenron, and Rage Shenron (Electric Slime Body Build) with just a few blows, and is unharmed after his struggles with them.
Statements by authors and guides IS IS IS in Daizenshuu 6 which after his resuscitation and resulting Saiyan Power, Super Saiyan Goku[6] It is further stated that the Legendary Super Saiyan Broly is an enemy with bottomless power. [6] It is stated on the toei website for the dragon ball films that Janemba was the strongest of the film's thirteen original villains, with Hirudegarn being the second strongest of them,[7][8] making Broly weaker than these two villains. According to Takao Koyama, the writer of dragon ball z's first thirteen films stated that – even including the TV anime – no one exists in the world that is stronger than Broly, and that there is absolutely no way Goku could knock Broly out of the unorthodox methods he used in the film's antagonists that preceded him. However, Koyama went on to state that Broly was a pushover compared to Beerus. [10] If Broly in Film 8 was stronger than Bojack was left ambiguous due to the latter never actually fighting Goku. After being stronger than the previous villain (Android 13 in this case). Broly 's English teaser trailer Second Coming also refers to him as the strongest being in the universe. [11] Video games in Super Butoden 2, Broly manages to easily kill Bojack since the Z Fighters failed to beat him earlier, suggesting that he was much stronger than the last. In the alternate stories of Supersonic Warriors 2, Broly proved not only strong enough to eliminate the Z-Fighters, but also Cooler, Perfect Cell, and even Majin Buu; In addition, in the second alternate storyline, he was also powerful enough to defeat Gotenks with minimal effort. He was also able to survive getting stuck in the lava, as evidenced by the end of the last plot.
Broly's profile in Dragon Ball Z: Budokai Tenkaichi refers to legendary Super Saiyan Broly as the biggest and most powerful opponent of the villains in that game, which includes Strongest Form 2 Baby Vegeta, Super Buu (Absorbed Gohan), and Super 17. In a segment from E-up for Dragon Ball Z: Budokai Tenkaichi 3, Broly proved stronger than most Z Fighters, although Max Power Master Roshi was shown to beat Broly in his legendary power level listed at 1,400,000,000 in V-Jump In its story mode during Dragon Ball Z: Burst Limit, Broly proved powerful enough in his legendary Super Saiyan form to defeat and presumably kill Super Saiyan 2 Teen Gohan (who had beaten Super Perfect Cell by that point), although he was shown a little shocked when Goku became a Super Saiyan 2 at the end of his chapter (however the ends before the fight could begin). In addition, he also briefly shown of power as a Legendary Super Saiyan in Movie 8 is about 1,400,000,000 according to a 2004 V-Jump announcing his appearance in Dragon Ball Z: Scouter Battle Taikan Kamehameha - Ora to Omee to Scouter. In Dragon Ball: Raging Blast and Dragon Ball: Raging Blast 2, it is stated in the profile of Super Saivan 3 Broly that he actually survived being released into the sun and the zenkaj obtained from this event allowed him to take on a legendary super saivan 3 form. He was, however, still defeated when he attacked the Earth once again, Promotional material for a boss mission in Dragon Ball Heroes references Super Saiyan 3 Broly as being stronger than Full Power Frieza, Hatchiyack, Super Perfect Cell and Super Saiyan 4 Form in Dragon Ball Heroes, Broly is able to defeat Super Saiyan 4 Goku (GT), Super Saiyan 4 Vegeta (GT), Super Saiyan 3 Gotenks (GT), Mr. Satan, Piccolo, and all Super Class avatars without taking any injuries. In the animated trailer for JM7, Broly easily fights on par with Super Saiyan 4 Vegeta, Super Saiyan 3 Beat, Super Saiyan 3 Note, and Super Pikkon, with the heroes fighting in their fight against him. Promotional material also states that his Super Saiyan 4 form is the appearance of an even stronger warrior, suggesting that he may be more powerful than any previous character in Dragon Ball Heroes and calls him the ultimate warrior. In Dragon Ball Xenoverse, it is stated by Trunks of the Future that when the legendary Super Saiyan Broly is infected by Demigra's Dark Magic, its power multiplies by several folds. In fact, it takes the combined power of Grand Monkey Bardock, the Warrior of the Future, and Vegeta (Coolness Saga) to defeat him. Promotional material for Dragon Ball Xenoverse 2 states that Broly is the fighter recognized by all for having the greatest power. [12] In Dragon Ball Xenoverse 2, the imperfect Supervillain Broly is apparently strong enough to interfere in the battle between Majin Vegeta and Goku (who were fighting in their Super Saiyan 2 forms). However, he is shown weaker than the 2nd Warrior of the Future who was able to defeat him while Majin Vegeta fought with Goku and then Majin Buu. In his full supervillain form, Broly's power increased even more. It is stated by Elder Kai that even Ultimate Gohan will struggle to fight both Supervillain Broly and Super Buu. In despite his increased power, he still proves to be inferior to the 2nd Warrior of the Future. In both it is strongly implied that Broly in his legendary super saiyan form (exempting Broly God) is weaker than Super Saiyan God, as special dialogue took place between Super Saiyan God Goku and Broly where this last guestion in a terrified tone what was the form, with Goku stating that he went to a new world that Broly can never enter. In Dragon Ball Fusions, Great Ape Broly manages to get up after being defeated by Tekka's Team, but is easily blown up by Beerus, showing that his form of Monkey Broly, though powerful, is no match for the God of Universe Destruction 7. In World Mission, the Legendary Super Saiyan Broly is shown to be stronger than Note (even though she has achieved God Class-up or Super Saiyan Blue, respectively, as his default form) as he is restless by his Ki Blast and is able to knock her out with a single Ki Blast of his own. However, this causes Great Saiyan 3 to turn into Super Saiyan Beat which in its natural super saiyan form to fight the Saiyan-Earther hybrid, but delivers Beat a punitive defeat while he plays with Broly for apparently killing Note (as Beat assumes the explosion killed her). However, Broly refuses to lose and turns into his Super Saiyan Beat. However, SSJ4 Goku & Doku weakening him to the point super saiyan beat can kill him with a Ki Blast. Also, Super Saiyan Xeno Vegeks was confident he could defeat the legendary Super Saiyan Broly, but he disarms before they can fight, so it's unclear if he could as Broly could have used his highest ways against him as he had with Beat. In addition, while Note was knocked out, she survived the legendary Super Saiyan Broly's Ki Blast regaining consciousness after Broly is killed. Forms of Abilities and Transformations Great Monkey Main Article: Great Monkey While Broly never turned into a Great Monkey in the series, he has a tail and, by extension, the ability to turn into one when exposed to Blutz Waves from the moon or a Power Ball. Super Saiyan, Broly is shown using his normal uncontrolled Super Saiyan form. Due to the lighting, the hair sometimes appeared pink or purple. Due to the crown of mental control forced by his father Paragus, Broly possesses a weakened state Super Saiyan. It was also strongly implied that this was the way in which Broly stood when he significantly damaged Shamo and presumably the rest of the Southern Area while being adorned with the crown in on Command. During Broly's first psychotic outburst, where he pursues Goku, he transforms into a Super Saiyan, although his appearance in form differs as a result of his crown containment. In this super-saiyan form controlled by the mind, Broly's muscles swell slightly, his hair takes on a neon blue tint with purple hue (completely purple if in a dark environment, like his first fight with Goku), and his skin pigment is dulled, moreover, he does not gain as much power as he would in his true Super Saiyan form - this form is called super saiyan (a type). [13] Broly energizing while in his mind-controlled super saiyan form Although his powerful, able to kick directly into his neck followed by a powerful burst of energy on Broly's back from Super Saiyan Second Series Vegeta, both of which have no effect. In addition, during his fight with Goku, his power also gradually increased in this state in a more dramatic manner (though not to the same extent as his legendary super saiyan form), as being demonstrated when, before being hit in a lake, Goku kicked him strong enough to have Broly reel back, even later when Goku managed to kick Broly in self-defense and later when he punched him in the face Broly was completely affected, except for a little bloody his mouth in the previous example. In Broly - The Legendary Super Saiyan, just before turning into the Legendary Super Saiyan, Broly becomes a green-haired Super Saiyan (type C).
In Broly - Second Coming, Broly Super Saiyan's regular Golden Hair transformation makes its full screen debut. This form is referred to as Super Saiyan from what is shown from broly's regular Super Saiyan form, he is strong enough to take down Goten and Trunks as Super Saiyans without much effort, as evidenced by the ease with which he knocks Goten and Trunks from their super saivan forms at one point in battle. However, upon seeing Gohan transform into a Super Saivan forms at one point in battle. However, upon seeing Gohan transform into a Super saivan forms at one point in battle. was no match for Gohan's Super Saiyan 2 form. Legendary Super Saiyan main article: Legendary Super Saiyan Broly transformed as the Legendary Super Saiyan Broly transformed as strength and speed extraordinarily stand out from that of any Super Saiyan shown earlier. Broly's height and muscle mass also increase in large numbers after transformation; the first reaching 9'0 (274cm) in height. His level of power also rises on several occasions encountered throughout the film, although whether this is caused by form or whether it is simply Broly increasing his level of power is up to the debate. In addition, the iris and in his eves disappear, and his hair changes to a light green color. In addition, although it has superficial similarities to the super saivan form of the third grade, it also possessed tremendous speed, with the Daizenshuu 6 even stating that his speed in this form was Ultra-First Class, which was demonstrated with his effortless dodge of quick attacks from a combined front of Goku and Piccolo at one point, as well as a clothesline maneuver he performed on Goku at the end of his battle. This form is alternatively called super saiyan (type B)[13] or Super Saiyan (Final Form). This form is also one that is genetically unique to Broly (and his bio-broly clone) due to being a power given to birth. Since the level of power in this form is so vast, Broly has been shown to take extremely powerful attacks without as much faltering as a Kamehameha at Goku's close range. Broly shows his strength in this form by destroying planet Shamo with a single sphere of energy. The effectiveness of the form is shown in full force as he fights with two Super Saiyan Full Powers, two Super Saiyan Second Grades, and a Super Namekian, all at the same time, while remaining in control of the entire fight, with his opponents being unable to hurt him at the very least. It was only when Goku uses gohan's channeled ki, Piccolo, Future Trunks and Vegeta that Broly is first defeated in this form. The legendary Super Saiyan Broly uses all his power, making his hair completely golden by turning to his super saiyan power maximum in this state Broly's hair changes from a green color to the golden glow of an ordinary Super Saiyan. He uses this fully powered enhancement at the end of his battle with Goku in Broly - The Legendary Super Saiyan and throughout his appearance as a Legendary Super Saiyan in Broly - The Second Coming. When he reappears on Earth during Broly - Second Coming, where Gohan can hardly hold on against the legendary Super Saiyan. In his super Saiyan transformation 2, Gohan is able to inflict some damage on Broly, but not enough to change the battle in his favor. During the
