Kerri, Information Center Supervisor 573-874-7418 Kerri.Seversen@CoMo.gov chief of chief, Picked up in The Chief, Mr. Joseph Jones and was educated in Columbia. When I was 15, I demanded me from the Columbia Police Department to join as a cedit. After college, I became a police officer and our family stayed here, deepening our roots. My home was more than a dream to name the city police chief. It is an honor for the safety and care of the community that I love. Our community, including the cpd men and women, is strong and frequently diverse. We share the high expectations of citizens as professionals and humans. The police will not really work in any other way. All oaths and civilian CPD employees expect everyone to treat fairly and respectfully. We are dedicated to serving with honor and compassion. I am grateful for all cpd employees and commitment that they show every day. Everyone in Colombia is connected to each other, and we fall together. As I write this message, our connection is being challenged. Public health is at risk. People are concerned about the ability to provide for their families. Many are angry that the promise of our Constitution still seems to be a dais. I believe in Colombia. I believe in the strength of our human relationships to create trust and guide personal empowerment. I believe in transparent decision making that as partners we all bring together. This is the approach for the police in Colombia. No matter what the challenge comes, we'll stay here for you. I hope our website needs you to know about the Columbia Police Department. As always, I welcome you and the opportunity to learn more about your interests. Feel free to tell me what you're thinking. Thank you for being part of this community. Honor, The Chief of The Columbia Police, See The Chief's Bio Here. Here.
