Piet Levy | Milwaukee Journal Sentinel Editor's Note: Since this story was published, Summerfest executives have that the Editoin of the 2020 festival would be postponed from summer to the first three long weekends in September: 3 to 5 September, 10 to 12 September and 17 to 19 September. For more information, see the latest story, that the Pandemic erased several major spring concerts in Milwaukee Thursday - Kenny Chesney with Florida Georgia Line, Blake Shelton, Michael Bublé and more. And before that, it led to the cancellation or postponement of SXSW, Coachella and other major music festivals. But for now, Summerfest is still a go, and it is still expected to bring about 800 bands and more than 700,000 fans to the Milwaukee Lake Promenade from June 24-28 and From June 30 to July 5. The safety of our fans, employees, partners and artists is our top priority, and we will do everything in our power to ensure a safe operating environment at Henry Maier Festival Park, Summerfest parent milwaukee World Festival Inc. executives said in a statement Thursday. Information from civil servants, healthcare professionals and industry experts will guide our decisions in the coming months. However, any decision to change the 2020 summer festival is a future decision, the statement continued. We are currently proceeding as planned with the Summer Festival 2020 and look forward to welcoming our fans on June 24. These are hardly typical times, but typically Summerfest announces its complete headliner line-up between the end of March and the end of April. The festival has already announced nine shows for the 23,000-seat American Family Insurance Amphitheatre, reopening on June 25 and 28 around her stops in Chicago and Detroit. Steely Dan In recent years, the talent team of Summerfest has carried out amphitheatre tours and divided acts on different stages. Steely Dan's summer shed tour has open dates on June 25 and 27, around a show in Chicago. Steve Winwood With Donald Fagen's group, his summer co-headliner and Rock and Roll Hall of Famer Winwood could also be booked for a Summerfest stage on June 25 or 27. Major LazerThe Electric Forest Festival celebrates its 10th anniversary on the first weekend of Summerfest in Rothbury, Mich. It has booked many major EDM acts, including the earlier Gig headliners Flume, Diplo and Louis The Child -- but Major Lazer has never played Summerfest and would be a great win. Turkuaz with Jerry Harrison and Adrian Belewit gives several Electric Forest acts lower on the lineup poster that is on But let's highlight the funk band Turkuaz, who plays Talking Heads' Remain in Light for the 40th anniversary with Heads' touring guitarist Belew and band co-founder Harrison, who would have the chance to perform in his native Milwaukee. Lindsey StirlingThe creative violinist could swing at summerfest just before or after a Minneapolis show on June 25 (before heading to Electric Forest as well). JeezyThe hip-hop veteran has a one-off time at the Aretha Franklin Amphitheater in Detroit on June 27, so he could easily get a Summerfest date around this window. T.I. opens for Jeezy on this Detroit show -- but he played Summerfest last year, and only a handful of headliners are booked in consecutive years. The RootsBut one of those headliners who could come back for the second time in a row are the Roots. For nearly a decade, the house band Tonight Show has been one of Summerfest's hip-hop bookings, and the group plays Ravinia in Highland Park, Ill., June 27. Trombone Shorty & Orleans AvenueAnother Summerfest favorite, Trombone Shorty opens for the Roots at Ravinia and is expected to make a stop at the Milwaukee Festival this year. Indigo GirlsThe duo are touring behind the new album Look Long this summer and will play Ravinia on June 26, with an open schedule around the event. Ani DiFrancoThe veteran singer-songwriter is co-headliner of the Ravinia show with Indigo Girls and also has an open date around the date. King CrimsonThe 52-year-old progressive rock band has three days on their summer tour before meeting in Ravinia on July 5. John FogertyFogerty already plays many Midwest shows around Milwaukee -- Ravinia, July 1; Madison, July 7; Green Bay, July 8 -- and has open dates in its schedule to add a Summerfest slot. Toad The Wet Sprocket Summerfest has already booked Sprocket's summer tour co-worker Barenaked Ladies, so there will probably be A Slot (and possibly the tour's other 90s rock act, Gin Blossoms). Lamb of GodEs would be great for Megadeth to stop at Summerfest, after Dave Mustaine's successful treatment for throat cancer, which forced the band to cancel a big gig show last year. But Megadeth is the headliner of the Resch Center in Green Bay in October. To avoid these ticket sales, it is more likely that the tour opener, Lamb of God, will be able to make a summer festival stop if they have a day off in the Midwest on June 30 or July 4. Julio Iglesias Summerfest has long needed more Latin music, and in terms of routing, they have a perfect opportunity to celebrate his 50th career with a special Chicago Theatre performance June 30 and a Calendar sit-down around engagement. Louis TomlinsonOne of the other One Direction boys, Niall Horan, actually arrives at Maier Festival Park -- after the festival, on August 1. We think tomlinson will do the same; do; wide open during most summer festivals, and is in Detroit July 2 and Indianapolis July 6. Pop Evil The hard rock band's summer tour currently ends on June 27 in Detroit -- unless there is a Summerfest show. The RevivalistsThe popular alt-rock band has a lonely date in Indianapolis on July 3, and no shows planned around them. Runaway JuneSummerfest has a robust country lineup every year, booking several acts that are in the state at Country Fest in Cadott and Country USA in Oshkosh during its window. Runaway June seems like a likely Summerfest booking and a chance for Summerfest to bring an all-female act, which is traditionally a male-heavy cast. Joss StoneStone played a rare Milwaukee show at Summerfest in 2017 - and could be back this year around her Detroit show on July 3. Cold War KidsThe indie rock band is at Big Top Chautauqua in Bayfield on June 28, then Ribfest in Romeoville, Ill., July 5. So expect a summer festival stop on the way. NellyNelly is playing his blockbuster album Country Grammar in the Bonnaroo this summer. Will he do it at the summer festival? He plays near Milwaukee, on Ribfest, July 4. Fitz and the TantrumsThe soul-pop band really thrives in a festival setting and on the stages of the Summerfest. They are also on Ribfest, July 5, so they're likely to stop here this weekend. REO SpeedwagonBad news for local fans - the band's concert to Milwaukee Admirals on March 14 was cancelled due to the Coronavirus pandemic. But they could make it at the summer festival.
