Kiss my face shampoo reviews

After going through a period of trial and error, trying to wash my hair with Dr. Bronner, both original and Shikakai soap, I delved in after two months of bad hair days, leaving to do any review about it and began looking for other alternatives... I came across this brand called Kiss My Face in one of the big supermarkets around where I live, and after quickly reviewing the ingredient list after seeing that they listed Cocamidopropyl Betaine pretty low, I took it to convince my boyfriend to buy it. He wrinkled his face when I saw the price, but I claimed that other natural shampoos like JM were even more expensive and that this one was a good find! Check to see my hair type before reading on! It is important to note that there are two versions of Kiss My Face Whenever shampoo and conditioner! The one I review and recommend is the one in the green bottle, not the white bottle. White butylated has a completely different list of ingredients with foaming tops on the list! ★★★★★ €13,325ml at ICA Maxi Birsta – €0.04/ml Experience I took whenever a series that is for everyday use for all hair types. The citrus aroma goes for both shampoo and air conditioning and is quite pleasant and not too strong I think. Since this shampoo has its foaming agent lower in the ingredient list, it doesn't foam as immediately as conventional shampoos. It will take a while to get used to, and a few more pumps than usual to get it foamy - because when your hair is clean, it will foam with ease. Conditioner does a great job in softening and moisturizing hair. Maybe nothing too out of the ordinary, but it simplified the work for my tangle of teezer, leaving my hair ultra smooth. And again I really liked the aroma of lemon, which felt clean and fresh. Conclusion I think you will get a product that works very well with an impressive clean list of ingredients. Even though you may need another extra 1-3 pump to get your hair clean, it lasted me about 6 months. I'd definitely buy it again, though unfortunately, as this review is published, ICA Maxi in Birst, where I bought it, discontinu products from Kiss My Face and natural hair care from Angel too. I think in the world of Gliss and Head & Shoulder's price is a bit too steep, and while people here are very into organic food, they haven't yet gone to see the importance of clean beauty products just yet... Whenever shampoo and conditioning left my hair in great condition and I never felt like I had to wash it more often than usual or left me with any leftover icky/itching. I was very happy with it. The only problem with this is that it is very difficult to find even online. So when my grocery store decided not to take more of this brand of hair care, I stayed to find brand for use. What is so just when I found something that worked! INCI SHAMPOO: Aloe Barbadensis *, Rosemarinus Officinalis (Rosemary) Leaf Extract *, Romashkova Recupiation
