Altierus career college accreditation

Florida Metropolitan University in Florida, USA, formerly located at Everest University Florida is an American private university. Since 2015, it has been run by the nonprofit Zenith Education Group, as former for-profit owner Corinthian Colleges had to shut down its operations. It was established in 1940 as Fort Lauderdale College of Business and Finance and later known as Florida Metropolitan University, a name that it held until 2007. Part of the Everest College Group with dozens of campuses across the United States, the Florida-based university also offers online courses for students across the country. The program focuses on career orientation, offering online programs for adults working day, night, weekend and working, with programs and programs varying from campus. History Founded in 1940 as Fort Lauderdale College of Business and Finance, the college was renamed Fort Lauderdale College in 1976. Another name change created Florida Metropolitan University, with last name changes to Everest University. The operation by Corinthian Colleges in 2006, an arbitration procedure ruled in favor of the FMU/FMU, is a process ruled by the FMU.... [1] In August 2007, an investigation of company practices was closed by Florida State with no fines, penalties, or pursuit of wrongdoing. The investigation examined FMU advertising, marketing and business practices related to the sale of educational services to Florida residents.[2] As a result of voluntary compliance between the FMU and the Florida Office of the Attorney General, assurances indicated that the FMU would pay $99,900 to the Attorney General's Office for its investigation and contributions for various consumer education purposes. [2] It indicated that the FMU amended its pre-enrollment documents to include clear and specific language regarding credit transfers, its return policy, and its tuition costs, among other conditions that, in part, better train its teaching personnel will serve to meet certain student needs. Assurances of voluntary compliance found that FNU/Everest participates in the Florida statewide course numbering system to facilitate the transfer of eligible credits to other institutions. [2] [3] Everest University's previous marketing efforts specifically target vulnerable, low-income job seekers and single parents who have annual income near the federal poverty line. In internal company documents obtained by the Justice Department, CCI describes its target demographic as distinct. impatient. With 'low self-esteem', those who have 'some people in their lives who care about them' and who are 'stuck' and are unable to 'look and plan well for the future'. It is alleged that schools targeted people who met these goals through aggressive and frequent internet and telemarketing campaigns and through television ads on day shows like Jerry Springer and Mori Povich. [6] In 2012 and 2013, Everest suffered site shutdowns as a result of lower job placement rates. [7] In November 2013, Corinthian colleges reported that they were under investigation by the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau. [8] Operation by Zenith Education in February 2015, a non-profit education firm ECMC owned more than half of the campuses of Corinthian colleges. The ECMC also agreed to waive student loans on Corinthian College's origin loan after several years. [9] Zenith Education Group, a newly-created nonprofit provider of career school training, announced in February 2015 that it had finalized the acquisition of more than 50 Everest and WyoTech campuses from Corinthian Colleges Inc., a transaction that was first announced in November. The deal will allow about 30,000 students to pursue their career goals without interruption, and give those students the opportunity to complete their education under the new management that is set to implement a new plan to improve their students' education. [10] Everest University is now known as Altierus Career College and Career Education. [11] His program offerings are now limited to associate degrees and career diplomas in the health care, trades, technical, and business sectors. [12] Campuses Brandon Jacksonville Lakeland Largo Melbourne Orange Park Orlando-North and South Campuses Pompano Beach Tampa Accreditation and Credit Transfer Everest University lacks regional recognition. However, Everest University campuses in Florida were recognized for diploma, associate, bachelor's and master's degree awards by the Accredited Council for Independent Colleges and Schools (ACICS)[13]. Some of the programmes offered at Everest University include: Accounting Applied Management (AS) Business (BS) Computer Informatics Criminal Justice Graduate Education and Family (Grade K-8) Master of Business Administration Master of Science in Criminal Justice Medical Assistant Medical Insurance Billing and Coding Paralegal Everest University is accredited by the Accredited Council for Independent Colleges and Schools (ACICS) , which was the agency formerly recognized by the United States Department of Education. [14][15] The decision to grant transfer loans has been left to the discretion of a secondary institution. Many regionally recognized universities do not accept credits earned in colleges like Everest that lack regional recognition. Everest University takes part in Florida's alternative credits Program, Florida Statewide Course Numbering System (SCNS). Scns were established to facilitate the transfer of students and credits between attending Florida's public postsecondary educational institutions and non-public educational institutions such as Everest University. [17] Courses that have the same academic content and are taught by faculty with comparable credentials are given the same prefix and number, and are considered equivalent courses. Equivalent courses are guaranteed to be transferred to another institution participating in SCNS, and the credits provided for these equivalent courses will meet the institutional requirements of the receiving institution on the same basis as the credits given to the original students. [16] All Florida public universities and colleges attend SCNS as well as several career/technical education centers and non-public institutions, such as Everest University. [16] On August 24, 2010, Everest University listed 709 courses on SCNS.
