Within this np, spear, and the bow used in his invocation as known, to be able to use one per match)HISTORIA The protagonist of Ramayana, one of the two most important epic poems in India. Vishnu reincarnated as Rama, the prince of a normal country; an ordinary human being who had forgotten everything. Rama was intelligent from birth, but ended up being stripped of his legacy to the throne and was banished from his country because of the plans I devise with a relative. In her adventure of exile her beloved Sita, who traveled with him, was snatched by Ravana, hands a master of demons who could enslave even the gods because of a power acquired to deceive a great god. Ravana was famous for the fact that only humans had the capacity to defeat him. Rama fought alongside an army of monkeys (which included the famous Hanuman). His battle spanned 14 years against the demon Ravana, PERSONALITY at first glance resembling a cryo. Although he is a knowledge sage, his mentality is simply trying to be fashionable. Although they are friendly to animals and their subordinates, their attitude becomes very cruel to servants who are known tyrants. Ravana - who could enslave himself the gods because of a power acquired by deceiving a great god - was a demon lord famous for the fact that only humans had the skills to defeat him. Vishnu, who gives the appeals of the gods, reincarnated as the prince of a particular country; an ordinary human being who had forgotten everything. That's Rama. Parameters Strength A Endurance B Agility A+ Magic B Luck B NP A Background 1 Height & Weight 168 cm 65 kg Alignment Lawful Good Series Fate/Grand Order Gender Male Origin Ramayana Region India Comment He refers to himself 「Yo」 Background 2 Rama was wise from birth, but he ended up being stripped of his inheritance rights to the throne and expelled from his country because of his relative arrangements. During his beloved Sita - who was traveling with him - ripped away by the hands of Demon Lord Ravana, Rama boldly decided to fight. Along with an army of monkeys that included the famous Hanuman, Rama - who was bestowed with many weapons by a sage - continued to fight the demon lord Ravana and his army for over 14 years. Background 3 And even such Rama had once committed a fatal blunder. After intervening in a battle among monkeys to save his ally ape Sugriva, he carried out a cowardly attack on enemy monkey Vali. Not forgiveness that Vali's wife placed a curse on Rama. Even if you take your empress back, you will never be able to share joy with her again. ... such a curse is binding even now. Background 4 As for the Master, he fundamentally takes a somewhat haughty behavior. Because of that, he can give the impression of a rude brat. Although he is as your average elder in terms of knowledge, his mentality simply does not catch up with it – such peculiar circumstances as a waiter are probably making him have such an attitude. Although he is gentle on animals and his subordinates, his attitude becomes rather stubborn to servants who are commonly known tyrants. Background 5 BrahmastraIndestructible Blades pierced through RakshasasRank: A + Type: 1 – 10Maximum Goals: 1The 「indestructible leaves」 that he was born with to defeat Demon Lord Ravana. It boasts enormous power against demonic existences. Originally an arrow; something to be fired from a bow, but Rama - who wanted to become a Saber - forcibly rebuilt it. But the function of a thrown weapon has not been discarded, and this sword can also be violently thrown. You can't point out 「so you throw it anyway」. Background 6 His desire for the Holy Grail is 「en reunion with Sita」. He died already and became a heroic spirit, but the effects of the curse that holds binding him have not grown dim. And that curse will continue as long as the two continue to love each other. You could say that such a curse is at the same time a testament to their love. The reason why Rama is called up as a young boy is because, just as it was alluded to in the main scenario, the period when he fought in search of Sita is actually his golden age.
