However, if you prefer a bottom freezer and still want energy saving priorities, look for an Energy-rated Star device. Is a Frizeer more expensive in the running? Because a top freezer uses less energy, the functioning costs are also lower. The annual average price for operating [a top freezer] is between $37 and $94, says Johansson. Freez downward costs a little more to operate, with average annual energy consumption between $64 and $104. Which type of freezer has the best storage? On the other hand, Freeze themselves are more accessible for those who store heavy items (like that 30-lb Grasksgiving turkey) in the freezer. Which type of freezer is best for small spaces? For an apartment or more compact kitchen, a top freezer is the best — hands down. Even if you don't live in a small space, a smaller unit is more than adequate for those who don't cook or spend too much time in the cookies. For those who keep cool and bell some whistles, it's a solid, conventional option, Johansson.Ki what's the best Choice for Family?
