Hawaii state swimming championships 2020

By Paul Honda on January 8, 2021 The Big Island Interscholastic Federation made official Thursday as directors voted to cancel autumn and winter sports due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The league's athletics executives voted to cancel two days earlier, while the number of cases rose after the holiday season. BIIF followed under the Interscholastic Association Oahu and Maui Interscholastic League. This hurts my heart, said Konawaena girls basketball coach Bobbie Awa, who guided the Wildcats to nine Divisions I state crowns. More [...] The Paul Honda on January 6, 2021 Maui Interscholastic League is the last of the five state high school leagues to cancel the sport. MIL announced on Wednesday that it had cancelled all autumn and winter sports, including football and competitive cheerleaders. The two sports were due to begin in the spring after being postponed. Air riflery, basketball, bowling, competitive cheerleading, cross country, paddling, football, swimming and diving, and wrestling - all achieved for the 2020-21 pandemic year. I think it's because of all the challenges. [...] By Paul Honda on January 5, 2021 Falling under the public-school Oahu Interscholastic Association, athletics directors in the Big Island Interscholastic Federation voted Tuesday to cancel the fall and winter sports. THE BIIF, made up mostly of public schools, will take the recommendation of athletics executives to vote on Wednesday - which is almost always a mere formality. That means no air rifle, basketball, bowling, competitive cheerleading, cross country, paddling, football, swimming and diving, and wrestling. In addition, previously postponed sports, which were originally pushed [...] The Paul Honda on December 15, 2020 Finality is not here yet not quite in the odd year of 2020. While vaccines for the COVID-19 virus are being flown across the country, high school sports in Hawaii remain on hold. Leagues are waiting on bated breathing for word - and approval - from the Department of Health. Coaches across the state are optimistic about the chances for outdoor sports, such as football and swimming/diving, according to a Hawaii Prep World survey. Eighteen winter sports coaches, about half of the [...] By Billy Hull on Feb 16, 2020 Note: This story appeared in Sunday's edition of the Honolulu Star-Advertiser. For the fifth year in a row, Punahou swept the team titles in the K. Mark Takai/HHSAA State Swimming Championships on Saturday on Maui. Buffnblu did not have an individual event winner on each side, but swept boys and girls 200 medley relay and 400 freestyle relay events. The Punahou girls' 60 points doubled King Kekaulike, while the boys' 58 points beat Kamehameha, who beat second place with 32 points. [...] By Nick Abramo on February 15, 2020 Year was 1989, when girls who played baseball in The Little League less common than it is today. Victoria Ruelas was one of the girls who excelled at her at the time. Now, Kalani swimming and diving coach, Ruelas broke the new ground when she was the first American woman to play in the Little League World Series and the first front front player start player and first-girl pitcher. Was with the San Pedro Little Eastview League in California, [...] By Nick Abramo on February 11, 2020 Kalani swimmer Paulina Ruelas sometimes wonders not to be busy with school or practice. There are a few times I go to the mall and be a regular teenager who is not involved in school so much, she said. In those moments, I say, Wow, this is what it's like. If I could, I'd stay with friends and go to the beach and relax. When we go to the beach, it is usually for practice at [...] By Billy Hull on February 1, 2020 Kamehameha Junior Shaye Story and Pac-Five Sophomore Grace Monahan added to their collection of ihl swimming gold medals on Saturday at the championship championships in Kamehameha.
