The game has been available on Android and iOS operating systems for some time and has a base in the world gaming market. After nearly 7 years of release, the game has had over 100 million downloads on Google Play with extremely high points: 4.5/5.GameplayHungry Shark Evolution follows predatory gameplay to death similar to the other two ubisoft hungry dragon and hungry shark world products. In which you will take active control, hunt and eat meat at will. The game only ends when your health score decreases to 0.As rules in Hungry Shark Evolution are relatively similar to Feeding Frenzy, the game was probably attached to many people's childhood. Basically, you just need to use the virtual button to control the shark to find prey. Tapping one more finger on the screen will make you run faster, increasing the likelihood of chasing your fish. When you collect a certain amount of food, you will activate Gold Rush. During the Gold Rush, players will not limit themselves to speeding, becoming immortal for a few seconds while turning everything into gold (i.e. you can eat everything, including those bigger than you). As a child, you should only hide on the bottom of the sea bullying animals like baby fish or crabs to avoid being ate by larger sharks. By eating small fish, you can extend your life, increase your score while increasing your size. 10 is the maximum level you reach in a game. When you ate big enough to go to the senior level it is also time to get close to the water to confirm who is the hegemon of the ocean. Don't get tired of anyone is the first sentence to say about you right now. Many large fish species for you to experience in the diverse animal world, each animal is divided into different types of appearance, size or shape of hunting. Sharks are no exception. Hungry Shark Evolution has a lot of sharks for you to experience. These species are designed based on real-life elements and combinations with the human imagination. When you enter the game for the first time, you will be familiar with the basic sharks. The first fish that trained was the Tubarão-Recife with a modest physique, then with a large scale are Mako Shark, Hammerhead Shark, Tiger Shark and Great White Shark. The bigger the fish, the higher they will be for smaller species in all respects, not only that, they will also give more money and points. In addition, with each fish unlockable, players can use gold to upgrade their skills, including bite, speed, acceleration. When you reach a score of 500000 in a game, you can unlock new waters with many really scary sharks. The long-destruted legendary Megalodon suddenly has the opportunity to once again dominate the sea. In addition to the super tyranny sharks there are other fish and many particularly interesting skills, such as the electric launch Electro Shark that hardens the prey, the icy Shark freezes an entire sea or the Robot Shark can throw mines from your mouth! You need to eat everything, but not every Vietnamese language has a very good phrase Meet the enemy knows me, one hundred battles win. This saying is true for a king like you. Even if you reach the maximum level, you should still be careful with some things that should not be touched. Throughout the game, you need to notice the blue bar in the right corner of the screen, which is your blood column. The blood column will decrease over time and eating other fish will fully carry the blood bar. However, there are some things to play that will make the shark lose blood directly. Be careful with torpedoes hovering in the middle of the sea (it hurts!), jellyfish or stingray poison can also cause you to release blood without brakes. Hungry Shark Evolution has a huge boss crab at the bottom of the map, let's go there and explore!
