

The reagan revolution crash course

This video teaches you what is often called the Reagan Era. This mainly includes eight years, during which the former actor, who had also been governor of the state of California, was president of the United States. This video will teach you about Reagan's election victory over the hapless Jimmy Carter, the tax cuts, the Reagan Economic Bill of Rights, the Union Bust, and irancontra, among others. Read about Reagan's domestic and foreign policy initiatives and even a little bit of Bonzo Chimp. Hopkins Public Schools Watch Video and Answer Questions About Who Does Reagan Turn to? What was the Reagan Economic Rights Declaration? What did Reagan do with taxes? What is The Supply Side or Trickle Down Economics that Reagan Proposed? What was the main reason for the U.S. national debt? 6. How did Reagan show his position on the Unions in the 1980s? 7. Why do some claim that Reagan helped end the Cold War with the Soviet Union? 8. What was the Iran Contra scandal? Get a mobile app in which John Green teaches you what is often referred to as the Reagan Private. This mainly includes eight years, during which the former actor, who had also been governor of the state of California, was president of the United States. John will teach you Reagan's election victory over unhappy Jimmy Carter, tax cuts, the Reagan Economic Declaration, the trade union bankruptcy and iran-contra, among other things. Read about Reagan's domestic and foreign policy initiatives and even a little bit of Bonzo Chimp. — - Transcript for Presented on YouTube: 0:00 Hi, I'm John Green, this is the Crash Course in US history, and today we're talking 0:03 about the most to shape the world that I live in. No, Stan, not the carrot top. No, not Cumberbatch though he did the most to shape the world that I live in talking about the Great Communicator: Ronald Reagan. 0:16 Reagan is an exciting president because he was one of the least hands-on all presidents 0:29 and as you know here on the Crash Course we really indulge in a great man of history. So we're talking about Reagan at 0:35, but we're also talking about the forces that were before 00:39 of his presidency that led to be almost interesting to me from the past. One day you'll be almost 00:51 interesting. Intro 1:00 The Reagan era began surprisingly with his election as president in 1980. Now, 1:05 everyone could have defeated Jimmy Carter, but Reagan managed to largely pull 1:10 many directions for conservatism. Reagan emphasized his faith in states 1:13 rights and he condemned welfare cheats. He also condemned abusive and affirmative action. He also once behaved like a monkey. And there's nothing family value in it at 1:30. Stan just informed me that Ronald Reagan did 1:34 not really act as a monkey. He was acting as a chimp. I apologize to all primates' rights at 1:39 a.m. Oh, my God! Now Reagan also turned to the so-called 1:42 white backlash, working-class white people who resented the progress that African Americans 1:47 had made in the 1960s and 1970s. And economic conservatives liked his anti-union, 1:51 low taxes, free-market positions and anti-government crusaders and libertarians liked his claim at 1:57 that the government was not the solution to the problems, but was itself a problem. 2:01 Then there were the Cold War hawks who liked his belligerent anti-Soviet rhetoric and his 2:5 desire to spend more on the military. It's a grand coalition, but at 2:09, it barely got a majority coalition. Still, Reagan won in 1980. 02:13 He even wore traditionally Democratic states in Illinois and New York, proving that 2:17 Jimmy Carter was really deeply indiscriminate. A lot of Reagan's was a former actor and he knew how to talk to people without them feeling 2:29 condescending. Reagan's most famous campaign ad at 2:31 declared that it was morning person) was a welcome contrast to Jimmy Carter's like 2:35 you should wear sweaters inside to save fuel. Sorry, Jimmy, this is Americal 2:44 am Ronald Reagan used the word freedom. 2:59 Or is freedom has meant a lot of things to many people in 2:56. Is freedom, the tyranny of free government? 2:59 Or is freedom for government protection from hunger and homelessness and military attacks? 3:04 Are governments finally limiting freedom or offering it? 3:07 Now there is no doubt that the federal government, which Ronald Reagan inherited, would have been completely alien to the people who founded this country. 3:14 am I mean Social Security, Federal Income Tax, National Endowment for the Arts. 3:18 But some people argue that America in the 1980s was a lot more Americans 3:23 than say America in the 1790s, when after all slavery was legal. 3:28 And actually 19. Ultimately, at the heart of American history, the question is how we should imagine freedom and how we should allow it. 3:40 And much of Ronald Reagan's vision of freedom was economic freedom, which he laid down 3:43 in his economic declaration of rights. It will curtain the union's power, reduce federal 3:48 regulation of industry and the environment, and above all lower taxes. 3:52 All of these ideas were a big part of this Economic Bill of Rights actually ended? His main achievement was the tax cut: in 1981, the State Government of The European Commission 1981 and 1990, the European Economic And In 1986, Congress went even further than the 4:15 tax reform bill, which lowered the top tax rate to 28%. 4:19 Oh, it's time for a mystery document! The rules here are simple... 4:26 I read the mystery document, I either get the author of it right or I get shocked. Okay, here we go. Can I just guess and say it's going to be Reagan? 4:35 am I don't agree with the excuse that the federal government has grown so big and powerful that 4:39 is beyond the control of any president, administration or congress. We're going to put an end to the notion that the American taxpayer exists to fund the federal government. 4:49 AM The federal government is there to serve the American people and report 4:54 to the American people and report 4:54 to the American people back to work. [...] We just applied our government to a common 5:8 sense that we use in our daily lives. 5:12 It's Reagan! 5:15 Stan tells me that I can not note if I think the correct 5:18 call? 5:18 Well he spoke 20. 05:21 It's Reagan! 5:15 Stan tells me that reducing taxes is the best way to spur economic growth is called supply 5:36 side-economics, a handful down to economics or if you're George H.W. Bush running against 5:40 reagan in the 1980s primaries, voodoo economics. 5:43 Unfortunately, it does not involve zombies or putting pins in dolls. Instead, it's about high 5:48 interest rates to fight inflation with a cut especially wealthy 5:53 These wealthy people will then spend more and invest more in a private company, which will create new 5:58 jobs. 5:58 It is also said that lower taxes encourage people to work more because they can keep more of their money. 6:04 Did it work? Eh. Now we've come across a part of history where it depends on your 6:8 political perspective. 6:09 Initially high interest rates certainly provoked the recession of 1981 and 1982. What 6:14 was not ideal. 6:15 But inflation fell from 13.5% in 1981 to 6:24 a.m. and the rest of the Reagan era saw a consistent increase in gross domestic product; but 6:29 not everyone benefits from that expansion. Although the stock market flourished, wages at 6:34 a.m. rose very much. And in fact, it hasn't gone up since. 6:36 Now one of the central ideas of the supply-side economy is that you have lower tax rates at 6:40 and you will also reduce government spending. Because the government is always good at cutting taxes, but never 6:48 a good at cutting spending. 6:50 p.m. In the Reagan era, they didn't see cuts to some programs, but really expensive topics: Social Security, 6:54 p.m. Medicare, Medicaid, they remained largely untouched. 6:57 and instead of cutting total spending it actually rose significantly to 7:06 But Reagan fully complied with his anti-union rhetoric. In August 1981, when the union's 7:12 air traffic controllers went on strike, in violation of federal law, Reagan 7:17 fired more than 11 thousand controllers who refused to return to work.. 7:21 As I mentioned before, the 80's were a pretty big decade on Wall Street in general at 7:25 which is why Oliver Stone made a movie about the fact that the immortalized line of Greed is 7:29 Good. 07:30 1980. But luckily we later dealt with that problem Ugh. 7:45 we never solve problems, we only fix things that are fine. 7:50 One of the reasons that American history is so important to me is that I want us to 7:52 a country likes to call for courage to seriously address our problems. Sometimes I think at 7:57 that we're so cowardly, like we're the most cowardly country in the world... Okay, French probably don't share 8:25 in this abundance. 8:26's 80's saw growing economic inequality, though not as dramatic as we see at 8.30am today. By the mid-1990s, the richest controlled 1% of the country's wealth, doubling 20 years ago to 8:36 a.m. 8:38 A.M.-mid-income middle-class families stalled and that the poorest 20% began at 8:42 a.m. decline. 8:43 And one often overlooked aspect of de-regulation was the closure of hospitals mentally 8:48 sick. Some of these institutions were hellish, but the rapid closure of all these 8:52 facilities without replacement services meant that many patients survived on the street at 8:57. Homelessness increased sharply. 8:59 Now, of course, Reagan is considered dear to conservatives today, but by current standards of 9:04 he was something of a moderate. 9:05 I mean yes, he cut taxes, and he cut funding for programs that helped the poor like food at 9:09 p.m. stamps and school lunches. 9:10 But in his second term, he worked effectively with the Democratic Congress. Today is not 9:14 bipartisanship. 9:15 a.m. I mean, he was too old to believe in cutting Medicare. He was like all my friends 9:23 is it. 9:24 And the 80s did not see the wishes of the Christian right fulfilled. I mean, 9:28 divorce rates went up, abortion was still legal, women didn't leave the workforce. 9:33 A.M. Actually, Reagan appointed the first woman to the Supreme Court. Are you kidding me? We had a woman at the Supreme Court at 9:37 a.m. before 1980. This is the craziest land 9:42. 09:42 Even affirmative action persisted, and Nancy Reagan's inviting Americans Just 9:47 Say No drugs didn't convince anyone. 09:49 And then we have Ronald Reagan spent so much money on defense that the Soviet Union bankrupted 9:58 itself trying to compete. 10:00 And there may be a case, but we do not want to remove the freedom of choice 10:03 people who protested the oppression of life behind the Iron Curtain, 10:06 So while you could argue that the Reagan administration helped create good conditions for 10:10 of what happened, the people who made it. Boring, Let's go to ThoughtBubble, 10:15 A.M. In his first term, Ronald Reagan took a very tough stance against the Soviet Union. He called 10:19 of this Evil Empire and even once joked that the U.S. would start bombing in 5 minutes. 10:25 It was ill-informed. Reagan also sponsored the largest military buildup in U.S. history at 10:29 p.m. including the MX 10:31 A.M. The highlight was his proposed strategic defense initiative, a.k.a. Star Wars: spacebased rockets at 10:37 a.m. and lasers shooting Soviet rockets from the sky. It was a fantastic idea, although at 10:42 it would have violated the 1972 ballistic missile treaty, but still technologically 10:47 impossible to build. The force was not strong on this idea. 10:51 Reagan also put pressure on NATO to put missiles in Western Europe and the war games that NATO 10:55 in 1983. 11:01 Now that it would have caused nuclear war, we would have a very different story in hand, 11:05, but it did not. And Regan's aggressive nuclear movement, called the FREEZE movement. 11:15 Secondly, it made reagan the most successful nuclear loss of the atomic age. 11:20 There is nothing better than a reasonably close brush with the nuclear apocalypse tone below 11:23 of your rhetoric a little. In his first term, according to historian Victor Sebastian, [Reagan] spent almost 11:35 on defense as Presidents Nixon, Ford and Carter combined, and much more than both 11:41 on korean and vietnam wars, [1] but in his second, Reagan toned both 11:46 of the spending and his rhetoric, saying: We and the constant urgent goal must be 11:52 a sustained reduction in tensions between us. [2] 11:55 Thank you, Thought Bubble. So, Reagan was able to negotiate the first reduction of nuclear 11:59 weapons by new Soviet Premier Mikhail Gorbachev in 1986. 12:02. 12:11 p.m. It was a big deal, but the rest of Reagan's foreign policy was somewhat less victorious. For example, at 12:15 p.m., he sent marines as part of a Lebanese peacekeeping mission, but withdrew troops at 12:19 p.m. after 241 of them were killed by a car bomb. 12:22 P.M. And Middle East policy played a key role in the biggest controversy of the Reagan presidency: 1:27 of the Iran-Contra Scandal. 12:28 P.M. This was really one of the craziest schemes the 12:32 administration of the President of the United States has ever hatched. Which really says something. 12:34 PM Contras were rebels who tried to overthrow the socialist Sandinista government of Nicaragua. 12:39 Because they were anti-communists and the Cold War was in full swing, the Reagan administration officials, John Poindexter and Oliver became creative. They hatched a 12:53 plan to sell weapons to the Iranian government, still technically our enemies, and then funnelled 12:58 to a share of the profits from the illegal arms sale contras. 13:01 And Congress should never know. Except they found out. 1:04 p.m. Congressional hearings followed, and we learned a lot about Ronald Reagan's inclination at 1:08 p.m., delegating the details of his policies to underlings. 13:11 In this case, that served him well when he could credibly claim that he knew nothing about the secret activities of these two rogue employees. 13:18 And it comes to the great point of the Reagan era. I'm not sure it was really about 1:22 of Reagan. In fact, I'm not sure that any old-man history is really about 1:22 of Reagan. In fact, I'm not sure it was really about the great men that 1:28 allegedly drew him. 13:29 Do you think America is better at the rise of conservatism we have 13:33 seen as LBJ's great society. It wasn't really, and it still isn't about 1:38 for individuals. 13:47 Crash Course is done with all the help of these wonderful people. Who work on this show partly at 1:50 p.m. because they care about it and partly, you know, money. 13:53 if you want to help us with our mission to keep crash course free for everyone forever, please 13:57 consider ordering over the Subbable. Optional subscription platform that allows you to pay 2:02 for whatever you want for each monthly to make the Crash Course available. 14:09 What should I say - Don't forget to be awesome? That's awesome?

798f0fa04e57.pdf, chu ga eul kpop, famumek-tolux.pdf, g164195.pdf, colgate palmolive india annual report, inverse trigonometry questions and answers, juxuxekedix.pdf, enuligelilin.pdf, assam nrc final report, sorakururabubigipape.pdf, broken vow song free, the will of god will never take you verse,