Minecraft ps3 seeds

When you spawn a Minecraft world, you are using a seed number to generate... Well, everything. This core is the basic code that builds the world and you choose the spawn point in it. The good part is that if you find a world you really love, you can copy, save and share the core. The result is a growing collection of very useful or interesting seeds that are perfect for players who want to discover something new - but not entirely random. We've got some favorites downstairs! Note: These seeds are intended to work with Minecraft Java edition. There is no guarantee that it will work with other versions of the game. Sometimes, however, you can switch to the Bedrock version with the cores held up to 2147483649, and then subtract or add the word 4294967296 to seeds higher than 2147483649, depending on how you switch. Seeds are higher than 4294967296 and negative seeds will not work on Bedrock. We know it's weird, so it's best to use the Java version whenever possible for this trick. Read more at All-Biome World Seed: 1083719637794 via: Reddit/Plebian This incredibly perfect seed spawn set on a mushroom island around continents that include each and every civil partnership. If you really like putting some time into the world and exploring all it has to offer or finding the right life-wanter for your current project, this is one of the best possible starting points. This includes most (but not all) structures with added exploration. Water Village and Taiga Seed: -888030258844065321 This handy seed spawns right into a village that is partially submerged in water, fun for both exploration and role-playing, depending on what you think (there is no blacksmith here, but not everything can be perfect). It also sits next to a wide taiga section - a northern forest full of spruce trees, and sometimes full of wolves. It's a good core for more casual exploration of players who want to try something unique that doesn't take much travel or danger to check out. Island Survival Seed: 6073041046072376055 This neat seed spawns directly from the three small islands. The islands technically contain everything you need to survive if you are willing to do the work that makes the seed an excellent shipwreck or survival stories. Once you're confident enough, the surrounding ocean is full of ocean monuments that you can explore with much higher levels of loot - if you can survive. There is also a shipwreck that spawns, which increases realism! Desert Emerald Temple Seed: -139003 If you want to get right to the action and get equipped as soon as possible, this seed spawns you near the emerald temple, which will be filled with everything you need to build up supplies, from horse armor to diamonds. It's a great choice if you don't want to waste too much time before going on an ambitious project. Village of mushroom island Seed: 5654047780178337342 via: Reddit/Plebian This lucky seed sports a mushroom and mesa island in the middle of a village. When fungal bioms spawn on the islands, they do not multiply into hostile mobs, which makes it much safer to explore and build up resources. If you feel like traveling beyond the island, there is an ocean monument to find too! Beautiful Plains Valley Seed: 4725084288293652062 via: Reddit/SpaceBoiArt Something many Minecraft players are looking for in a world of practical, level, and open space to build more dazzling creations. This core spawns players from a plains valley that looks beautiful and is the ideal starting place for ambitious architects. There is also a snet forest nearby with supplies, which is much easier to get started. Woodland Mansion Seed: 960570313 via: Reddit/Methosis If you love forest mansions, check out this seed that spawns right near the village and is a castle for mature exploration. There is also a desert village to the east, and the seas have plenty of shipwrecks as well as an underwater temple to find. It's a good pick for those who want to start a lot to do, but I don't mind putting time into the world later. Dungeon Exploration Central Seed: -8993723640229201049 via: Reddit/MGJared If it's all about dungeon life and like dealing with enemy spawns, try this core. You're breeding near a village, two forest mansions, a witch's hut and a ruined portal. We're not saying it's easy, but there's definitely all the action! Stronghold Adventure Seed: 2700163110 via: Reddit/Chesseking If you're looking for a quest, this core contains a really fun gap village that has a little problem: You have a fortress and Pillager tower in the village center. This perfect setup jumped into a rewarding raid, with the bonus of high role-playing possible. Survival Mode at Sea Seed: 3010064798083778592 via: Reddit / HydroPunkBot If you are looking for a particular challenge, you will love this seed. It gives birth to you trapped in an underwater shipwreck in a warm ocean, so you must act immediately to survive. Then you need to sweep everything from dirt to build a garden with your new shipwreck home string to create beds. You'll need a bit of luck, but it's definitely an adventure and an excellent remedy if you feel a little bored with more usual spawns.
