O Allah, I seek Your forgiveness and protection in my religion, in my business 2000, in my family and in my wealth. O Allah, hide my secrets and preserve me from anguish. O Allah, protect me from what is before me and behind me, from my left, from my right and from above me. I seek refuge in Your Greatness from being struck from beneath me. [4/2088 مسلم] Asbahna wa-asbahal-mulku lillah walhamdu lillah la ilaha illal-lah, wahdahul la shareeka lah, lahul-mulku walahul-hamd, wahuwa 'ala kulli shayin qadeer, rabbi as-aluka khayra ma fee hatha-alyawmi, wakhayra ma ba'daho, wa-a'oothu bika min sharri hatha-alyawmi, washarri ma ba'daho, rabbi a'oothu bika minal-kasal, wasoo-il kibar, rabbi a'oothu bika min 'athabin fin-nar, wa 'athabin fil-qabr. We arrived in the morning and at this very moment Allah belongs to all sovereignty, and all praise is for Allah. No one has the right to be worshipped but Allah, alone, without a partner, all sovereignty and praise belongs to Him and is on all things omnipotent. My I ask you for the good of this day and the good of what follows it and I shelter in You from the evil of this day and from the evil of what follows it. My Lord, I shelter in You from laziness and seniality. My Lord, I shelter in You from torment in fire and punishment in the tomb. In the evening you say, amsayna wa amsal mulku liillah... and replaces 'hatha-alyawmi' with hathihil-layla. [Saheeh Muslim 4/2088, Silsilah Ahadeeth as-Saheehah, n. 262, 1/525.] Sheikh Ibn 'Uthaymeen (may Allah have mercy on him) said: The author (may Allah have mercy on him) said: Chapter on dhikr in the morning and evening. What he meant by morning and evening was at the beginning of the day, and at the end of the day and the beginning of the night. The morning begins when the sunrise breaks and ends when the sun has risen to the exoneration. And the evening begins with the prayer of the Asr and ends with the prayer 'Isha' or through it. Final quote from Sharh Riyadh as-Saaliheen Ibn al-Qayyim (may Allah have mercy on him) said: Chapter on the memory of Allah (dhikr) at both ends of the day (as mentioned in Hud 11:114), which are the times between Fajr and dawn, and between 'Asr and Maghrib. Allah, may He be glorified and exalted) says: O you who believe! Remember Allah with a lot of remembrance. And glorify His Praises morning and afternoon [al-Ahzaab 33:41-42]. The afternoon: al-Jawhari said: This is the moment after 'Asr to Maghrib. Allah, may He be exalted, says (interpretation of meaning): and glorifies the praises of your Lord in the Ashiy (i.e. the period of time after the middle finger until sunset) and in the lbkaar (i.e. the period of time from early morning or dawn until before midnight) [Ghaafir 40:55]. The ibkaar is the beginning of the day and the ashiy is the end of the day. Allah, may He be exalted, say (interpretation of meaning): and glorify the praises of your Lord before the rising of the sun, and before his sunset [Ta-Ha 20:130]. This interpretation is what is mentioned in the 1980s about saying this or that in the morning and evening. What is meant is before the sun rises and before it sets. So the time for these adhkaar is after Fajr and after 'Asr. And it was authenticated by Shu'ayb and 'AbdulQaadir al-Arnaaoot in Tahqeequ Za'adil-Ma'ad (2/342). I seek protection with the perfect words of Allah from every evil that He has created. (Recite three times) Listen / Download Mp3 Du'a: Aboo Hurayrah (may Allah be pleased with him) narrate from the Prophet: Who recites in the evening three times; I seek protection in the perfect words of Allah from every evil that He has created, then not so much a sting (humah) will hurt him that evening. In Muslim there is a similar formulation without mentioning reciting the supplication three times (#2709) and at-Tirmidhee (#3898), and al-'Alaamah Ibn Baaz (may Allah have mercy on him) mentioned in Tuhfat-ul-Akhyaar, saying: The noun al-Humah denoted an animal that possesses a sting filled with poison such as a scorpion, snake or something. And Suhayl bin Saalih, who is one of the narrators of this narrative, said: Our people had learned this plea and recited it every night when a teenager was stally but did not suffer from pain or affliction (from the sting).
