Photo Credit: Harmon Quest acquired from VRV in last week's episode of the fantasy role-play comedy series Harmon Quest, and our team of heroes faced a new chapter in their journey as they navigated hell and defeated the puppet king. Brought back to life in sword form, Fondue was reunited with his father Chadge, while Beor's older brother Limerick made a surprise comeback (and showed off his crazy chain skills) to bring Beor home to the Barbarians. Will Beall leave the quest and join the Barbarians? Will Limerick team up with our heroes? Will the game master bring another fun and strange character back into his voice? Episode 2: With Spencer Crittenden as game master, Dan Harmon as Limerick, Erin McGassey as Bear and Jeff Davis as Boneweerville, Special Guest Kate Mixch from Episode 2, who plays HarmonQuest Season 3, Harmy, a Druid with unique skills and lovable personalities, will join the heroes. Limerick leads the group at the start of the walk to Ivory Key (home to skull tree barbarians), but they find themselves in the shattered myriad ruins that both magic and pop of pudding seem to have value, whether they believe it first or not. Harmon Quest Season 3, Episode 2 Synopsis from VRV: Limerick drives our hero's adventure towards their savage home, but they meet the strange druids, discover the secrets of this land, and not only pass through magical catastrophes during pauses, but also the havoc they inadvertently forged, possible solutions based on the convergence of demons. Druid Hermie is an asset to the team in this week's episode, and it's as fascinating as kate Mikuch's look at how to make the most of her assigned gaming skills as she portrays her character. VRV sent an exclusive clip to the hidden remote that Crittenden shares from HarmonQuest Season 3, Episode 2, which introduces a new volcanic-like structure called Transhelm, which is surrounded by a magical force field and guarded by a bug. There are a lot of bugs. Watch the exclusive clip from Harmon Quest Season 3 Episode 2 below: As you can see in the clip, BoneWeevil is brave enough to try and investigate dangerous magic bug situations, and Limerick decides to make his chain-throwing skills useful. Let us be able to watch the full episode this Sunday on VRV to see what happens when his single chain throw rips open the wall and our hero (and those two adorable foxes) take on the magic shield and its creepy crawler. Harmon Quest Season 3, Episode 2 is a fun kickoff for how our heroes move forward in the story after the doll king's defeat, and while the episodes are filled with jokes, don't funny Crittenden cameos. magic and puddingsWe're looking for clues to a major plot that heralds what's going to happen for the rest of the season. Next: The Boys showrunners will talk Supes, which will adapt Comic Harmon Quest Season 3, Episode 2 with special guest Kate Mixch, and will be available to stream on VRV on Sunday, August 25.
