Taking the ib practice history exam before the actual exam will help you get acquainted with the length, style and format of the test. In this guide, we explain the format of the IB history test and a link to the best available earlier work. Finally, I will explain how to make the most of this IB History of recent work to study. Disclaimer: These free exams should be used at your own risk. The exams are not authorized by the IB And most likely have been placed online without the consent of the IB History Exam Cancelled Due to COVID-19 Because of the COVID-19 (coronavirus) pandemic, all IB exams in May 2020 have been cancelled and class dates have been extended for schools that have been closed. (Yes, that includes IB History SL/HL exams, too.) Stay up to date with the latest information on what this means for IB diplomas, course credit for IB classes and more with our IB COVID-19 FAQ article. The IB History Exam The IB History course has been completely renewed in 2017. Now, there are five rewritten topics: Military Leaders Conquest and Its Impact Moving to a Global War of Rights and Protest Conflict and Intervention Your Teacher will choose one that you'll cover, and you'll be tested on that on paper 1 (one hour long). There is also a list of twelve themes of world history. On paper 2 (1.5 hours), you will discuss two of them: Society and Economy (750-1400) The causes and effects of medieval wars (750-1500) Dynasties and ruler (750-1500) Societies in transition (1400-1700) Early modern states (1450-1789) Causes and effects of early modern wars (1500-1750) Origins, development and impact of industrialisation (1750-2005) Independence movements (1800-2000) Evolution and development of democratic states (18 48-2000) Authoritarian States (twentieth century) Causes and effects of the wars of the twentieth century Cold War: tensions and rivalry of superpowers (20th century) For students taking IB History HL, they will have the last document (paper 3), which is 2.5 hours and will cover one of four Depth Studies: The History of African and Middle Eastern History of American History of Asia and Oceania History of Europe Current IB History Papers The best source for the current IB History of recent documents is the IBO store. Each paper and every marxcheme is $4, so a full test worth it will cost $16 for SL or $24 for HL. (While the NP page has a sample of SL/HL 2 paper available free of charge, it has been since November 2005, before the latest curriculum updates.) Currently, the IB store has papers from 2011 to 2018, but we recommend only buying paper from tests from May 2017 or later, as these are exams that fit the new curriculum. Be sure to check not only the test date, but also the depth of study area for each exam paper and marxcheme to buy to make sure they fit yourself, you do not want to buy the history of Asia and Oceania exam paper, but the history of Europe marxcheme! marxcheme! we found these IB History past documents available for learning. They date back to 2017 and follow the same format as the current IB history exams, so you can be sure they will be close to what you actually see on your own paper. Since they are not on the official IB website, however, we encourage you to use them with caution. Paper 1 prompts and evaluates Paper 2 prompts Alan O'Rourke/Flickr Old IB History Papers These documents are before the IB History course was renewed in 2017, so topics that include documents won't be exactly what you see on your course. However, they can still be a useful way to better sense the types of documents you'll see in IB history and the types of information you'll expect. 2003 Paper 1Paper 1 Source BookletPaper 2Paper 3 2004 Paper 1Paper 1 Source BookletPaper 2Paper 3 2005 Paper 1Paper 1 Source BookletPaper 2Paper 3 2006 Paper 1Paper 1 Source BookletPaper 2Paper 3 Paper 3 Topics Paper Chart 3 Topics From 2000 to 2012 How to Use History IB Past Papers Each full IB Exam History Practice will take you 2.5 hours for SL or 5 hours for HL, so you need to get the most out of each test. Below are some tips about your practice. Tip 1: Take documents 1 and 2 Sequentially (if possible) For both IB History SL and HL, papers 1 and 2 are fed one by one, requiring concentration maintenance and endurance testing for 2.5 hours. Part of the exercise for the test means building test endurance so you don't make careless mistakes or lose concentration at the end of the tests. IB History HL contains a third, 2.5-hour paper fed on the second day of testing, which you should also try to match in your exercise schedule. About the test spread over several days means that you can not just push and then immediately forget about everything after the completion of documents 1 and 2; you need to practice preserving information even after the 2.5-hour slog on the first day of documents 1 and 2. If you don't have time on schedule for a full 2.5-hour session (or two 2.5-hour sessions two days in a row for HL), splitting documents 1 and 2 up for a few days is OK. Just make sure you follow the next tip during your studies: Tip 2: Time alone on each paper you need to get used to the time pressure of this exam. The time allowed on paper is: IB History SL Paper 1–1 hour Paper 2–1 hour 30 minutes IB History HL Paper 1–1 hour Paper 2–1 hour 30 minutes Paper 3–2 hour 30 minutes Don't give yourself extra time. If you do this, you won't figure out the pace for a real exam and probably score higher than it actually will be test day. I want these practice exams to give you an accurate picture of the actual test result. Stephan Baum/Wikimedia Tip 3: Check your mistakes! At the end of the exam (end of 2 for SL or paper end 3 for HL) If you miss this step, you won't learn from the mistakes and continue to create them. You must take at least one hour of exam review. I know it may seem like a lot of time, but you want quality practice. If you only end up taking two practical tests with a detailed review, you will be better prepared than if you took six tests without a review. What's next? Taking IB History Now? PAPER 1: QUESTIONS AND EXAMINATION TECHNIQUE Paper 1 is worth 20% (HL) or 30% (SL). Since you know the structure and type of questions that will be asked, this is a great paper for which you can get valuable ratings! Structure Question 1a: [3 characters] = 5 minutes This question tests you for reading comprehension and requires you to write about the source message, which is what the source says. It's worth 3 characters, so you should aim for at least 3 main points, 4 if you have time. Do not spend more than 5 minutes on this question. Paraphrase parts of the text. You can include short citation sections, but don't include large pieces of text because it takes time and doesn't show the examiner what you understand from sources. Tips for answer returns: The first source point is what/the first reason given by the source... The second is... The third is... Question 1b: [2 characters] = 5 minutes This question also requires you to show your historical understanding, but an image or cartoon. It is worth 2 characters and so you should aim for 2 separate points about cartoon messages. Use the cartoon evidence to support each of the points Make sure you have a clear understanding of the cartoon before you start writing the answer, otherwise you'll chew up valuable time! Tips Phrasing response: The message conveyed by the cartoon is that ... and this is supported by... The second message transmitted by the source is... because the source shows... Question 2: [6 characters] = max. 12-14 minutes Question 2 requires comparison and contrast of source content. The origin or purpose of the source should not be taken into account in its analysis; it comes later in qn. 3. Make sure that you compare and contrast sources using the criteria/specific factors described in the question, e.g. Compare = Similarities = 1 paragraph, 1-2 points Contrast = differences = 2 paragraph, 1-2 points Make sure you have run a comment on both sources relative to each other. Do NOT return to sources separately. A good way to approach this is: if you are writing about a point that creates one source (content), you should analyze immediately afterwards how the other source creates a similar or different point. Read the sources carefully and highlight the key quotes you use (or parts of the citation you use) Tips for formulating the answer: Paragraph 1 (Compare): Both source A and D agree that Source A states that and source D states that Both sources agree that because Source A says quote and source D says that (use transient or connecting phrases, such as: similarly; both, etc.) Paragraph 2 (Contrast): Sources contrast with While source D says, source A says (use transient or connecting phrases to show the difference, such as: however; unlike this, while this fact is ignored in the source ... etc.) Question 3: [6 characters] = 12-14 minutes In this question you will analyze: O (Origin) P (Purpose) V (Value) L (Limitations) 2-3 sources! Opvl address of each source separately in different paragraphs Origin of the source will be at the top of the italic Be specific: avoid general statements about the purpose, value and limitations of the source type, and instead discuss the specific value and limitations of the source that you received Unlike question 1 you should not comment on the source content, however, read carefully the source for each exciting or convincing language that will help you write about its purpose How to organize your paragraphs: Origin source C is ... (what, who, when, where) The purpose of the source is ... (why it was made; use words such as: to convince, inform, influence, etc.). The source is valuable because ... (origin) The source is also valuable because it shows ... (purpose). Source restrictions are ... (origin). The source is also limited because ... (purpose). Question 4: [8 characters] = 20ish minutes Refer to all sources in response, plus own detailed knowledge- you need to do both of these in this mini-essay otherwise you will be removed significant characters You need to answer the question, as in a normal essay Use sources as evidence to support your points Before you start question 4: Re-read the sources; Plan your answer; Work out your thesis or argument there is no need to enter, especially if you are running out of time! Just get straight to paragraph 1 (oh yes, use paragraphs!) Make sure you show balance in your arguments, especially if sources offer different opinions; show examiners that they are aware of different interpretations of time management tips After reviewing paper structure 1 and practicing over and over again (and over and over) from different sources, you should make sure that you follow the suggested terms for each question. It's time for any kind of question; know the structure; you have key phrases that you know to use if you're running out of time, dot the answer point GOOD LUCK! Happiness!
