External links official website retrieved from after five months of hard work and dedication, BBA students from Thammasat University are honored for winning the CFA Stock Analysis Challenge in 2019 - 2020 CFA Challenge Institute in Thailand. This year, the competition started on September 28, 2019 and ended on February 15, 2020. In total 16 teams, including both undergraduate and postgraduate students from all over Thailand, competed for the opportunity to represent Thailand, having wha PCL as the subject company. After the start-up meeting and the company visit, eight teams were selected as teams in the semi-finals according to the order of points in the 10-page research report. The semi-finals teams have been given the challenge to make a 10-minute presentation to the panel of judges on the company's analysis on the subject and stock trading recommendation, as well as a difficult 10-minute guestion-and-answer session. The four candidates then face a more challenging challenge to be named winner. The student team consists of Bahen Jingarasul, Natathasak Enthasagasan, Palita Farujibin, Braweina Manop, Sanibat Kosiaporn of bba #25. Students express their appreciation to Dr. Warapong, Asuk, Prof. Dr. Bantisa, Prof. Dr. Anshada, and BBA graduates for valuable guidance and intensive courses of the competition. The team also reveals that they have to apply all the experiences and knowledge they have learned in the last 4 years from BBA Thammasat University to meet the challenge and write the report for the company subject. Analyze outstanding challenge, display skills, and answer questions ground them on the first price. The beginning of the contest Palita Varojpiputhn says that before he is a school representative, they have to pass the test ing process within the college. In the test, project advisors ask students to compete by submitting a 3-minute stock offer, writing a report on the simulation challenge, and attending a personal interview with the project consultant's teacher to assess the willingness and attitude toward the challenge. The consultant then selected 5 students to be the representatives of the competition. The difficulties of the Natathasaeng says one student, this contest is a very difficult challenge. The company's stock analysis report theme has been complex, since WHA PCL cooperation, as an industrial real estate company, has a status And the business model. With regard to business, industrial park, logistics, water and electricity, and digital business model, the team spent a lot of time studying the basic budget and structure of the company. Palita Farobibten also adds: Not to mention that it is not something i am familiar with. It was a summary of the B2B business (business transactions) which is not the same as the purchases we make on our daily lives. So, to find an appropriate solution, we have to take a step back and look at the whole situation and think about influencing the country's economy as well. The strength of The Braweina Manop team says that one of their team's strong points is the BBA network. The support of senior lecturers is very important for the team. She strongly believes that classroom lessons are not the only place students can learn. Sometimes it can be out of the classroom with a group of people, especially a strong network like the one in bba. Braweina also mentions that the last q& a is the turning point for the team. BBA students have plenty of opportunities to practice creating a presentation and gaining other useful experiences. The Team not only applied all the knowledge, but also did a lot of preparatory work to plan for the answer to the judge's questions. Preparation is our strength. Having won the national tour, students from the BBA Thammasat team are now ready to participate in the Asia-Pacific Regional Competition, which will be held from March 18 to 19, 2020. The team will face other teams from different Asian countries, and the winner will later represent the Asia-Pacific region at the World Tour in New York. York.
