Montclair public library foundation

The Montclair Public Library Foundation was recently awarded a $5,000 grant from the Investors Foundation to support the library's popular Open Book/Open Mind author speaking series. The grant will further help the Library mission, which provides lifelong learning to residents in and around Montclair. Investors Bank representative Susanna Allegretta Montclair Public Library Director Peter Coyl and Bruce Naidoff presented a check for $5,000, MPL Development Director. Library Director Peter Coyl said we are deeply grateful to the Montclair Foundation for its support of our Open Book/Open Mind series. A distinctive program that helps Montclair residents stay informed and engaged about today's important issues. Open Book/Open Mind is capable of broadening Montclair's intellectual horizons by bringing in speakers who can explore in-depth topics. The series, now in its fifth year, offers talks on a wide range of topics and genres, from fiction to journalist, through discussions and presentations by thought leaders and writers who are leading writers in their fields. Since the series began in January 2015, 38 speeches have been presented with nearly 6,000 participants. Recent speakers include celebrity chef Lidia Bastianich, best-selling novelist Julia Alvarez, Edward Tenner discussing the Paradox of Efficiency, and New York Times writer David Izkoff for more on the impact of struggles with mental illness played in the life of comedy superstar Robin Williams or to donate to the Montclair Public Library Foundation, visit www.montclairplf.org. If you have any questions, contact Bruce Naidoff, Development Director bruce.naidoff@montclair.bccls.org or 973-744-0500, x.2269. They make a thoughtful gesture in memory of someone or just tell someone that you appreciate them and that they did it. The bricks will be laid in the Main Library Square at 50 South Fullerton Avenue. When you think about giving, you also consider giving an unusual and meaningful gift that does a good job. Proceeds from carved bricks are used to improve the Library's book collection, expand the scope of activities for young people, children and the elderly, and generally do many valuable and important things in our library that are not otherwise possible. Therefore, consider adding your name to the long list of those who have already helped pave an extraordinary and extraordinary Library. If you wish, we will send a Certificate of Recognition to the honorary award or Presentation. Are you trying to get a grant from home during the shutdown? You can access Candid's (candid.org) Foundation Directory Online via MPL HERE. Staff can also help you with direct funding searches. Email reference@montclair.bccls.org for assistance. FDO, which is the most up-to-date and complete information you can get about grantees and their grants, was formerly known as the Foundation Center. FDO and GTI are only available in-library (Main Library) through public internet computers or the library's WiFi. I don't need a library card. The Montclair Public Library Foundation remains committed to the fundraising mission to support our community library - a vital resource for educating, entertaining and enriching. During this pandemic, private library staff continue to work remotely and we are proud to be under extended access to digital resources and platforms. We continue to accept donations to continue our support for the library. If your situation permits, we encourage you to do so and thank you for your generosity. Montclair Public Library Open Book / Open Mind ONLINE has announced a live, free webcast release of its popular, long-running literary talk series with top writers and thinkers. After discussions, viewers can participate in Q&A sessions with authors. Events will host on easy-to-download GoToWebinar (similar to Zoom but with additional features such as enhanced security). Bibliothek · Founded in Ehrenamtliche Tätigkeit1893, Montclair Public Library serves montclair, New Jersey citizens through two facilities: the Main Library at 50 S. Fullerton Street and the Bellevue Boulevard Branch at 185 Bellevue Street. Montclair Public Library resed on municipal and private funding to provide free education programmes, family events and services seven days a week, changing lives every day with words, ideas and community connections. The Montclair Public Library Foundation is a non-profit organization that develops charitable support for the Montclair Public Library. Founded in 2002, the MPL Foundation provides library programs, collection development, staff development, special projects and other critical projects that transcend the municipality to increase funding for . Works. Through the development of new financial resources, the MPL Foundation aims to ensure that the Library meets the needs of its diverse community and maintains its position as one of the state of New Jersey's leading libraries. The library's automatic book browser. As part of the Montclair Public Library budget, it asked the county for a $400,000 funding increase this year. ERIN ROLL/STAFFBy ERIN ROLLroll@montclairlocal.newsMontclair hopes to add several new staff positions to the public library, give current staff raises, keep the Bellevue Avenue branch open for more hours, and buy a new sorting machine to help you get books back on shelves faster. The library requested a budget of $3.8 million for fiscal 2019, an increase of $400,000 from last year. These are some of the requests included in the library's budget presentation, which was submitted to the county council on January 22nd. The library's total requested budget is $3,818,093. A state-of-the-mill fund of $2,600,327, plus additional funding from the county of $1,217,766 is required. I think the most important thing to emphasize is that we often see ourselves as the center of society. Said. And we are one of the few institutions that everyone in the city can go to without an entrance fee, or even without a library card, you can still enter the library. New Jersey libraries are entitled to a minimum amount of funding: a third of a mill, or a tenth of a cent for every tax dollar. Beyond that, the municipality will decide how much funding a library provides. Nationwide, only 21 percent of people have a library card. Coyl said 81 percent of people in Montclair have library cards. And the library is also a good investment for customers: For every dollar we spend, [bosses] get the value back $2.75, Coyl said. Coyl said that while library funding has been growing continuously, the library has still not returned to the level of funding it received 10 years ago. This is a generous amount, but it is still not enough to run the library. Said. But in addition to the funding the county provides us, we're also trying to get grants. The Coyl Montclair Public Library recently received grants from the Investors Bank, the Montclair Public Library Foundation and the American Library Association. The library was one of 70 libraries Club.At nationwide to receive grants for Bellevue Avenue branch office and Big Stories, the library wants the branch open 50 hours a week instead of the current 30. This ensures that the library has evening hours and weekend hours. Coyl said it would be beneficial for everyone, including schoolchildren who attend school in the area. Library He wants to add an appointed branch manager and children's librarian at Bellevue, as well as some part-timers. The branch manager position will pay a total of $75,962 per year: a salary of $59,568, plus benefits of $32,568. Another full-time staff position to be added will be one responsible for communication and publicity. In this position there would be a salary of $53,000, plus benefits of $31,330. The current staff also has a raise. As you know, every year people need raises, and we have to absorb that cost. Coyl noted that New Jersey has increased the minimum wage and that the increases should reflect that. And health insurance costs went at a cost of $450 per employee. Last year, library workers got a three percent raise. In 2012, the library tagged all items with rfid chips so that they could be controlled and controlled with custom scanners at the expense of about $140,000. Coyl said it was a time-long job and staff couldn't spend that much time helping customers. The library is now looking for $170,000 to pay for upgrades to the book scanning machine and radio frequency identification (RFID) technology used for security gates. An RFID book separator typically uses conveyor belts to drop their books into specific boxes assigned to a specific location in the library: another location in the same building or a linked library branch. With a book extractor, library staff will be able to spend 40 percent more time helping book sorting customers instead. Besides the book separator, the library wants to upgrade the security doors at the library gates, since these doors are not currently RFID compatible. Councilman Bob Russo asked if the library employees were unionized. Coyl said none of this was going on. The library has a total of 55 employees, 24 of them part-timers. Councilman Sean Spiller questioned why the library wanted an additional $400,000 in its budget for the coming fiscal year because it had received this amount of additional funding over the past five years. Coyl said the library did not see an increase in funding last year and the library was trying to make amends. In addition, Coyl said, RFID upgrades should be completed this year. Years.
