The school is a member of the International Baccalaureate Program. Director - Lisa Kunze. Namesake Nease High School is named after Allen Nease, a pioneer in Florida's reforestation efforts and a donor to the land on which the school was built. Nease also served on the St. John's County School Board for 24 years, 17 of whom served as chairman. The story of Growth in the northeast corner of St. John's County, primarily in the Ponte Vedra Beach/Palm Valley neighborhoods during the 1970s, was justified by the construction of a new school. The school, which opened in 1984, is the second public high school built in St. John's County. The school first opened as a high school, but as the growth of the northwest county of St. Johns rose the school eliminated its junior middle class. Nease was originally designed to accommodate up to 1,500 students, however, enrollment has historically been above capacity. Bartram Trail High Schools opened in the fall of 2000 to ease overcrowding. Due to the steady growth in the Northwest District of St. John's County, Ponte Bucket High School was built and opened in the fall of 2008. Allen D. Nease Senior Training Groups are currently in the service area of the communities of Palencia, Ponte Vedra, Nokati, Kensington, Las Kalinas and World Golf Village. The main filing schools are Pacetti Bay High School and Valley Ridge Academy, while other students come from Alice B. Landrum High School or Fruit Cove High School. Academics Nease High School was rated the 81st best high school in 2007, 91st in 2008, 93rd in 2009 and 185th in 2010 by Newsweek. Nease High Schools ranked 977th in the U.S. News and World Report 2018 list of the best public high schools in America.
