Punk girl costume ideas

I've had some fun experiences putting together my own punk ensembles... you can check out the photos I've included here. What's a punk fantasy like? Before you make a punk fantasy, you should know that it's kind of hard to define what punk is. Sure, you can always check Wikipedia, but it only scratches the surface. The main thing about punk: it's about breaking rules and not letting Man tie him up. With that in mind, use my examples as guidelines! And don't be afraid to take the costume in your own direction. A real punk would never care about the details, and neither should you. Another thing to remember is that the contrast is good. Hard and soft, bright and dark, playful and angry — the more, the better. DIY Punk Costume: What you'll need From HairShipantshirtShoes and Big Accessories, messy and colorful (instructions below). Tight jeans. Old band/concert t-shirt. Combat boots! Fake Hawk (see instructions below). Leather pants. Tight fit, bright colors. Belt collar (see instructions below). Peaks (see instructions below). Chess or any strong graphic pattern. Conflicting patterns, strange or random images and texts. Safety pins and nails. Hair spray or gel. Golf pants. Cut it here and there for a distressed look! Piercings on the ear, nose and lips. A homemade punk costumeThe punk shirt shows your punk pride! You have many options when choosing a shirt. Band and show t-shirts are always a good choice, just like any shirt with bright colors. The shirt better be tight on you. If you don't have the right shirt at home yet, go to your local thrift store. Look for anything with strong patterns that contrast with other parts of your costume (such as pants). If you see something that makes you scratch your head, like a shirt with a decapitated doll or a dead chicken, it's probably perfect. Don't be afraid of modifications! I cut slits on the sides and top of the shirt in the video above and tied the sides to give a distressed look. It's a great way to add your own personality to an outfit. PunkSPut pants and shoes your crazy pants! If you have tight jeans or leather pants, these can work well. Alternatively, scour the thrift store or other local low-cost clothing store for pants with a strong graphic pattern. Chess is a good choice along with anything labeled golf pants (multicolored pants that signal at the ankles). Camouflage pants also work. The more they contrast with your shirt, the better! As for shoes, black combat boots are a good choice. You can also wear statement sneakers, such as Converse. Hey, take this back. Converse are a little too much in now and punks never go with the flow! A Studded Necklace is good as well What is yours favorite of the punk costume? Vote here! How to create a fake mohawk hairstyleWant Spikes instead? Earrings and Other AccessoriesThe cherry on the punk cake: If you have piercings in on heard or elsewhere, simply find some big, dramatic gems to fill them. Security pins and other graphic items are good. I wouldn't want to stick a safety pin in my ear, but you can find jewelry from safety pins, or just put safety pins on your clothes. Nose, eyebrow, lip and other piercings are very punk. If you're not the ingest of a piercing just to suit your costume, consider some fake piercing jewelry. You can find them in magnetic and flexible form. Go to the party! Are you going to try this punk fantasy? Can you handle it? Vote here! Anyone can say of course! Punk Rock 101: Boot Camp — Music to Take You to Punk MoodPictures of Punks: Find more ideas hereRichie in the movie Summer of Sam. The punk from Star Trek. Thoughts on making a punk fantasy? Share them here! The good doctor on September 23, 2018:We are not jokes or fantasies for people to mock us. If you don't like our music or culture stay away. I'd like my rich housewife costume and. It comes with wine and OxyContin.dinolee on June 20, 2013: Amazing! I like the hair style, great lens you made!emmaklarkins (author) on April 17, 2012:@anonymous: Sorry I didn't find what I was looking for! Don't worry, there's a wide variety of punk looks to choose from. If you're looking for different top ideas, a military/leather jacket (often found in surpluses or thrift store) can go over any kind of interesting t-shirt you can imagine. For the bottoms, you have a lot of options: anything from faded/torn jeans to dark socks and a plaid skirt. You can do an internet search for images of punks or punk clothes to get more ideas. I hope this helps!anonymous on April 17, 2012:My daughter is doing a dance recital.
