Data glitch[edit | edit source] Data glitch is a problem that changes dealing with the game's data. This includes money, timed and enhanced. They can be: Note: Egg, Inc. has an integrated function, if the time detection has been set forward (when the background process is not terminated), it will suspend egg production for one hour. This can be easily returned by setting the transition time again for the paused amount of time. Infinite Golden Eggs: Leaving the game and setting the system date at least 7 days in advance will give a welcome prize back including golden eggs, the number of eggs varies with each egg. (Before May 1, the welcome return gift can be obtained after 7 days for 396 eggs.) This can be abused several times to get as many golden eggs as one would like. The game must be exited as well as terminate its background process for cheats to be successfully activated. Carry boxes: Prestiging or selling your farm and constantly tapping two unboxed boxes on the farm during the prestigious transition cause the second box to be made through prestige or farm and into edible eggs. Rewards: Collecting daily gift calendars before downloading a save game will allow a second collection for rewards. The original reward will still be available. Additional contract increases: Promoting contracts and restarting apps will help people re-use of enhanced positions. The buttons will turn gray but still clickable. Restart changed Contract: Starting a legacy contract with altered egg targets will erase the eggs of prophecy obtained from the above-mentioned contract upon game restart. It is returned after the completion of the contract again. More prestige: Quickly clicking on the reputable confirmation button will add more credibility to the stats, but will only give a prestige value of Soul Eggs. Keep infinite angles to hatch: Flicking a tap on the edge of the chicken button and quickly leaving it will cause the buttons to be further held down. No more ads: If the game is connected but the ad hasn't loaded, the video reward warning will still pop up, but the watch button will make the reminder disappear when clicked. To fix this, go to settings, privacy & data, and turn off personalized ads. Your game closes shortly there afterwards, and by repeating the steps to turn on personalized ads, the ad will start showing again. Ads can't load: When an ad is pulled up, the game can go right to the black screen to load the ad, but stay on the black screen until the game is restarted. This only happens on the second ad seen during the ad's session, to avoid this, restart your game as soon as you see the first ad to avoid the black screen in the second ad. Faulty ads: When they're finished, they may freeze, causing you to see them but not get rewards. If this happens to you, close and reopen the app without restarting it so it exits the freeze phase and leaves you with a reward. Negative cash: In some cases, the number of bocks can become negative, so the player can not buy anything and all the digits are displayed. This can be fixed by prestiging. For example Farm Multiplying: Occasionally, a contract farm will load the habitat and vehicles of the main farm without spending bocks. Image glitches [editing | editing sources] Visual glitches are errors related to problems with game images. Broken display: Game links can be eavesdropping, resulting in models not loading properly and displaying missing holes and parts, making the game almost unplayable. This can also blur the background while on any menu flashes black or white. Rarely, the screen can still flicker colors even when off the menu. Even more rarely, the game world can turn black, leaving only moving objects, such as delivery vehicles, chickens and visible drones. Superscrolling: Tapping, holding, and release with multiple fingers can cause the menu to fly to the top or bottom. Offset UI box: Tapping a box while it is being thrown out of the car, causing the pop-up box to open in abnormally fast or higher. If the pop-up turns off the screen, the game will be soft locked and must be restarted to continue playing. Offset user interface upgrades: When upgrading or purchasing a live environment or media, tapping the upgrade twice —once in the middle and once in the left — causes the upgrade menu and and Screen to switch to the right and make another menu to move further to the left. Touching the X moves the menu screen to the left. No user interface: Similar to the previous glitch, clicking the upgrade button while the menu screen is moving left will cause the menu screen to move right without a menu. This also happens if a menu button is pressed twice in a row. Trucks become habitats: Sometimes recently when buying a habitat, a few minutes later you can find habitat on the road, replacing sprite for trucks. Duplicate Wheels: Setting the game to low performance mode will cause the wheel of the car and other specific parts to repeat in the middle of the farm path. Invisible drones: Very rarely, the drone's lights will appear without the body, or the body of the drone will appear without lights, although you can still take it down if it is moving. Invisible cash text: Very rarely, cash text (e.g. quintillion) will disappear. This happens to phones with very little RAM. [This glitch was last observed on v.1.10 and the problem may have been fixed.] Frozen chicken: Opening an app can rarely cause chickens to run frozen. Overlapping text: Touching multiple icons (i) at the same time causes their text to overlap. Z-combat: Most, if not all 3D models have a z-fighting number. 0 bocks per second after cheating time: If you warp forward time until the fraud penalty ends, the bocks per second read will always show 0.00 bocks per second. Income is not affected by this. Eggs per second counter are not affected. The screen is dimmed: Touching the store icon quickly twice will cause the store to close, but resulting in a blurry screen. This can be overcome by clicking on the egg, research button, ad button, trophy button, main menu button and store. The truck will press the horn and the chicken will run if you click the correct button, but those two actions will not fix the screen. 0 bocks per second after the box performs: If you bring a box into the enlightened egg, your bocks per second will show up as 0 because your actual income is too low without enough accuracy in the game for it to count. Lack of contracts: When exiting a contract on a different farm, the contract list will not show the exited contract. Problem[editing | editing source] The problem is a game termination problem. Scrolling issues: Scrolling extremely quickly in menus (usually due to super scrolling) can sometimes cause the game to crash. Image sharing: Trying to share images by pressing the share button from an old farm will cause the game to crash Patch glitch[edit | edit source] These glitches were originally in the game but were patched in the previous update Increase the flow below: Pressing two fingers on the confirmation button to increase costs by at least 1,000 will cause the number of price increases to increase Double. This means that if a boost is left, it will have underflowed to a maximum of 32-bit unsigned in indi numbers, 4,294,967,295. (un patched) Bring daily gifts: Get a daily cash gift on a farm that will store the value of the gift from that farm. Switching to a different farm while warning of active gifts will give the number of bocks as it would be the original farm. This was patched in update 1.12 when daily gifts were only allowed to be collected in the main farm. Infinite Prestige: Terminate the application immediately after prestiging is used to give the soul eggs from prestiging while keeping your farm progress. It had a chance to cause game corruption permanently. Set a backward time: Set the back time used to add the reset interval to multiple timer. Now, there is a feature that pauses egg production when time is set again. However, this can be remedied by setting a transition time of 1 hour or more. Completion of the contract: Exit a contract after receiving its award used to allow infinite Eggs of Prophecy since the contract opens again. When this glitch has been fixed, it receding take away more Prophetic Eggs. Chicken manufacturer: Hold down the chicken button and release it during the menu transition used to hold the chicken button indefinitely until the button is pressed again. Bonus before warping: Warping while the chicken bonus is running is used to cause the spur to give regular amounts to be added to the bonus. Bonus after warping: Racking up a chicken bonus runs immediately after warp is used to cause the warp to give regular amounts by the bonus. It has been removed along with warts. Copy golden egg trophies: Click on the gold cup reward repeatedly used to award multiple rewards. After this point, if the player spends most of the eggs, a restart of the game will award the player 18,447 Quintillion golden eggs. Restarting the game will again reset this number to less than 1 million. Soul Egg Spill: If you get more than 18,447Q soul eggs, you used to lose all of them except how much you exceeded that amount by. Overlapping car menu: Can go to have the items of the car menu overlap with any other menu. Opening the car menu at this point will crash the game. Keep a gray button out hanging game: Keep a gray button out used to sometimes cause the game to crash. Egg Upgrade Crash: When pressing the egg upgrade button several times quickly, the game is used to crash. Open package crash game: Rarely, opening the package reduced by delivery truck will crash the game, and the items will be lost. Invisible Income Bonus: When reaching 18,447Q, the income bonus is used to disappear from the prestige page for the entire game. This was replaced by the visual income bonus capped in v1.9.2. Intuitive Income bonus: The income bonus shown on the reputable page is used to visually limit it to 18,447Q%. This is the largest 64-bit insy that has not been signed. In v1.9.2, this replaces the invisible and patched income bonus glitch in v1.11.2. Double distortion: Warping twice before the end of the previous warp is used to make the screen become blurry for a while and then return to normal without adding chicken or cash while still subtracting golden eggs. Black text: In rare cases, the name of the shell in the housing menu turns into an infinite rectangle, turning off the screen if the upgrade box is opened. Sharing issues: Some devices have broken sharing and will always have problems when the original sharing menu is pulled up. Invisible Eggs: Eggs in the upper left corner may have disappeared for the entire game. Warp in contract: Use a time event on your main farm and then immediately switch to a contract that is used to transfer part of the warp into the contract. It was fixed when the visual duration of the warp was shortened. Increase copyability: Having some ads on one device and then switching to another device with the same account will provide all the same increases. If one ad is used, the other one may be copied or re-used. Gallery[edit | edit source] Community content is available under CC-BY-SA unless otherwise noted. Note.
