Eric Bratt is a key business leader and entrepreneur with more than twenty-five years of progressive experience in business management. After graduating from the University of Rochester in 1987 with a bachelor's degree in economics, he attended Naval Flight Training at Pensacola Florida where he earned his Navy wings. Mr. Bratt retired from active duty in 1995. While running Bratt Machine, it successfully doubled the size of the company, increased its customer base by 50% and opened new markets. After successfully selling the company in 2005, Mr. Bratt founded Boston Staffing Group, a nih recruitment firm that targets the needs of high-tech manufacturers. In 2014, Bratt joined forces with Steve Vesey at the Oncology Planning Arena and founded Business Legacy Strategies in 2016. Susan A. Weeks of Danvers was appointed principal at Vesey and Weeks, PC, a certified public accounting firm. The company also changed its name from Vesey and Weeks, PC. Weeks graduated from Merrimack College with a bachelor's degree in business administration with double concentrations in accounting and finance. She serves as a business assessment specialist at Vesey & Weeks and is active in the exit planning and succession department. Weeks previously worked at Deloitte where she spent 7 years in the audit department while receiving her label as a certified public accountant and certified government financial manager. Vesey & Company - now Vesey & Weeks - has been working since 2006 and during that time received its certified Valuation Analyst label. I have the pleasure of working with Susan in many capacities, said Steve Vesey, founder of Vesey & Weeks, who added in writing that she is a great problem solver. It has been an integral part of our company's success, as it truly understands the needs of our clients as they navigate the business lifecycle. Susan has been a driving force in helping our business grow by expanding our nonprofit and business valuation services, while always enabling our customers to be successful by empowering them to make sound financial decisions. Weeks said in the same statement that she was absolutely thrilled to be appointed headmistress. Recognition is truly an honour and I look forward to helping steer the company at a strategic and practical level as a director, she said. I am firmly committed to helping business owners and managers across the North Coast make critical decisions, no matter what stage their business is at.
