Permanent disability, old age, death and survival benefits. Benefits for accidents at work and work sickness. For Venezuela: for social security legislation, for the following benefits: partial disability or disability. As for these benefits, it should be noted that: the purchase of the contributory benefits provided for in the Convention may be accompanied by periods of insurance completed in Spain and Venezuela. Contributory tax credits may be obtained whether they are resident or located in Spain or Venezuela. Each country pays its benefits directly to the beneficiary. If the person concerned is not entitled to a pension in accordance with the previous paragraph, periods of insurance accredited in another country shall be added. The amount of the pension is not complete, but according to the proportion of the periods of insurance in that country completed in the country in which it was granted and the amount of periods in Spain and Venezuela. In the case of a Spanish social security pension for which accredited periods of insurance have been set up in Venezuela together, such aggregation shall also be used to determine the age of entitlement to the pension. On October 9, 1944, he began his career. The Institute shall be responsible for the implementation of social security arrangements throughout the territory of the country. Its primary task is to deal with maternity, old age, survival, disease, accidents, disability, death, retirement and childbirth, or forced unemployment. Previous social security rules adapted to the needs of workers and improved the provision of these services from the start of their activities. On 9 October 1944, he began social security activities with services covering the risk of diseases, childbirth, accident and accident pathologies. These services were introduced in 1946, the previous law was re-established, and the Venezuelan Social Security Institute was established with legal responsibilities and inheritance to adapt to the changes proposed by that time. On 5 October 1951, the Law establishing the Central Institute for Social Security was repealed, replacing it with the organic status of compulsory social security. A new social security law was passed by 1966, but it was effectively implemented in 1967. This is based on health insurance, maternity, accidents at work and occupational diseases. Large-scale medical benefits were extended and long-term benefits or pensions were determined on the basis of terms of disability, partial disability, old age and survivors' pensions. It will also be expanded to include northern and funeral assignments. In the same year, Julio Iribarren Borges, president of the Venezuelan Institute of Social Security, was kidnapped, tortured and killed, and the press took out a guerrilla group as the culprit. The event led to a strong rejection of public opinion, including several communist fighters. Felix Fariás (alias Commander Claudius) and Eleazar Fabricio Aristiguieta (a.k.a. El Loco Fabricio).
