Toefl writing template pdf

August 10, 2019May 27, 2020 Benchmark Support Team TOEFL, TOEFL Writing, TOEFL Independent Writing You've probably heard that one way to succeed in the TOEFL Writing Section is to use templates. There are many templates out there for the Integrated Writing Task, but did you know that there is also one for the Independent Writing Task? What is toefl's independent writing task? The last task you have in the TOEFL exam is the TOEFL Independent Writing. For this task, you will receive a question related to the topic that asks your opinion. Often these questions are designed for you to choose a side of a controversial argument, declare your preference between two or three conflicting options, or explain why you agree or disagree with a particular statement. You will have 30 minutes to plan and write about your opinion on the topic, including providing reasons for your opinion and a personal experience to support each reason. The TOEFL suggests an Independent Writing that is 300-325 words, but we recommend writing 350-400 words. How to structure your essay of independent writing tasks toefl? The best structure for the Independent Writing Task is to write four paragraphs: an introduction, two body paragraphs, and a conclusion. The introduction paragraph should be short - only two to four sentences. In these sentences, you should state your opinion with clarity and passion on the issue (do not copy the language of the word from question word to word), and your two reasons for support. In the first paragraph of the body, you will write about your first reason for support for your opinion. Then you should write 3 or 4 sentences saying a personal experience or anecdote to better explain your reason for support. The last sentence of your body paragraph should be a concluding sentence linking your personal experience to your general opinion. The second paragraph of the body follows the same structure as the first paragraph of the body, but it is about its second reason for support. In the concluding paragraph, write one or two sentences summarizing your opinion on the topic from the question and its two reasons for support. The toefl independent writing task template using a template in the TOEFL exam will save valuable time and prevent you from losing the notion of yourself in your response. While there is no way to predict what kind of opinion question you will get, there is a model that you can follow, no matter the type of question. 1. Introduction Your introduction paragraph has 3 parts: a) the general statement of background on the subject, b) your opinion on the subject and c) your two reasons of support. a) General statement on the theme In the first sentence of its Independent Writing, it is better to start the general context of the issue of the subject. For example, if you are asked about your opinion about the use of mobile phones by adolescents, your first sentence may general as: Nowadays, mobile phones play an increasingly important role in the lives of adolescents. This is not indicating your opinion, but usually mentioning the background on this topic. Here are some other phrases you can use to get started: Nowadays,... These days,... In today's society,... Right now,... These days,... Currently... It is commonly accepted that... It is believed that... It is generally recognized that... The debate is over... People remain divided over... There's no consensus on whether... The question of... People tend to have different opinions about... Time Phrases: General Knowledge Phrases: Here are some phrases you can use to finish your first sentence: ... fundamentally changed our lives. ... plays an increasingly important role in... continues to advance at an astonishing rate. ... Progress in... allowed us.... ... is an increasingly disturbing issue. ... caught widespread attention. ... is having a profound impact on... ... caused a great stir. ... continues the anger. ... triggered intense arguments. ... is a highly debatable question. Expressing Concern Continuous Controversy b) Your opinion on the topic After making a general statement on the backstage of the topic, then you will give your opinion. The phrase will depend on the type of question you ask: start the general context of the topic question: choose a side, say your preference, or explain why you agree or disagree. Here are some other phrases you can use to express your opinion: Choose a side In my opinion,... It's better than... For me, it's better... For me, the best option... What I think is best is... I feel like... It's better... For me, I prefer... That... Actually, I'd rather... About... If I had to choose, I would choose... Instead of.... I fully agree that... I'm definitely in favor of... In fact, I disagree with the view that... I don't share their point of view on... Preference I agree/disagree c) Your two reasons of support The last part of your introduction is to state your two reasons of support for your opinion. Here are some other phrases you can use to enter your support reasons: I think that way because... And... I am of this opinion because... In addition... That's because... just like... The reason for this belief is... Also... I feel strongly about it because... And... The last part of his introduction is to declare his two reasons of support for his opinion. Here are some other phrases you can use to enter your support reasons: 2. Body paragraphs You will write two body paragraphs, one for each of your support reasons. Each body paragraph has 3 parts a) support ratio, b) personal experience and c) binding phrase. a) Support to get started, use a word or phrase to get each of your Paragraphs. First paragraph First paragraph ,... First of all... For starters... To start with... First of all... The main reason for... Right... Second... Secondly... In addition... In addition... Besides... The second reason for... Right... b) Personal Experience You should spend most of your body paragraph telling a personal story that supports or illustrates your reason. Although this is the freest part of your essay, there are a few useful phrases to help you get started: When I was a kid... I remember once... There was a time when... The reason I feel that way is because once... When I was younger... c) Linking Sentence At the end of each of your body's paragraphs, you should link your personal experience back to your opinion. To do this, use one of these words and phrases:
