The hotel is still on the new side. They were very friendly to our dog. At check-in they give you a special door sign that you can use if you decide to leave your pet in your room so the staff know not to enter.... we will never leave our fur-baby in the room on its own, but I understand some people do, and for those, this aspect goes to show that they are pet accommodation. The fee for your pet was very reasonable (for Vegas) $75 per STAY (not per night as some of the hotels listed as pet friendly). We saw a lot of other pet owners there. For people: the hotel was very clean. Breakfast was free and had many options... No skimpy Danish and coffee bar.... pretty nice full bar. They had 3 different juices, different milk options (cow, coconut, almonds, etc.), oatmeal, fruit, yogurt, eggs, bacon or sausage (depending on the day), toast and or chocolate churro bread pudding. It's from the band we liked to be back, it meant it was quieter despite being in Vegas. It also meant more area to walk our dog pot breaks-keep in mind it's a desert of people so we don't talk grass. Also for those who love it: the Cracker Barrel restaurant was through the parking lot that provided sniffing. In general... we loved it so much that on our return trip we booked at another Hyatt in a different state and crossing our fingers it's as good as this one! 4520 Paradise Rd, Las Vegas, Nevada 89169 Hyatt Place Las Vegas welcomes two dogs of any size for an additional fee of $75 per stay. Guests with dogs are allocated rooms on the ground floor. Well-behaved dogs can be left in rooms unattended. There is a large field across the street from the hotel. Cats are not allowed.
