Hockey CentralGenreHockey newsStarringDavid Amber, Caroline Cameron, Jeff Marek, Ron MacLean (Saturday)ReleaseOriginal networkSportsnetChronologyRelated NHL on Sportsnet, Hockey Night and Canada Hockey Central is a brand used for programs and segments covering hockey (notably the National Hockey League) on Canadian sports channel Sportsnet. The Name Hockey Central includes several programs, including segments that are broadcast during Sportsnet. CBC, City, and Sportsnet 590 radio show Hockey Central on noon. The typical format of Hockey Central segments between Sportsnet Central and Saturday's show is four personal records of former NHL players, coaches and GSs in addition to hockey journalists and broadcasters. Panel members vary from day to day, but they are usually from the same small pool of regulars. The show is known for (and often promotes) its sometimes ethereal debate between Bill Watters and Nick Kypreos. In the summer of 2006, host Darren Dreger left Sportsnet to join TSN and Daren Millard left the network in 2018. Jeff Marek and David Amber are the current hosts of most of the Hockey Central segments that appear on Sportsnet. Rogers Rights Agreement Saturday replaced Scotiabank Hockey Tonight as a pre-game show for Hockey Night in Canada, playing in a simulcast with Sportsnet and CBC Television. [1] During the 2013 Stanley Cup playoffs, The Score (after rogers was purchased) was on the Xtra nightly hockey playoffs. [3] Radio versions of Sportsneta radio stations are also air-oriented programmes under the same or similar headlines, often focusing on news and analysis relating to their local teams. Hockey Central at CJCL Rogers's Toronto radio station CJCL broadcasts a radio version of the show, originally known as Hockey Central at Noon, which is simulcast by Sportsnet 360. It is currently hosted by Jeff Marek, and as an analyst is Anthony Stewart. David Amber will be looking for Marek on Wednesday. The program was originally hosted by Daren Millard. Between August 2010 and March 2011, it was hosted by Greg Brady, who worked until noon until 3 p.m. In March 2011, Brady was cast on the morning show, and Millard returned as host. Jeff Marek replaced Daren Millard as host in 2018. [5] When Brady was unable to host Hockey Central at noon, Doug Farraway served as host. During the summer (mid-June to September), Farraway took over from him the host duties, and Howard Berger was filling the farraway. In October 2019, the program expanded to two hours. [6] The programme has a national focus; CJCL with Ben Ennis and J.D. Bunkis available a program focused on the Toronto Maple Leafs directly ahead of Hockey Central, Leafs Hour. Hockey Central 960 CFAC in Calgary is broadcast by Hockey Central 960, hosted by Kelly Kirch and Peter Klein. The program focuses primarily on coverage of the Calgary Flames. Canucks Central at Noon, hosted by Scott Rintoul and Bull Nizzar, and focuses on the Vancouver Canucks.
