He helped pave the way for the hip-hop subgenre of trap music along with other Atlanta-based rappers T.I. and Young Jeezy, especially in the 2000s and 2010s. [4] In 2005, Gucci Mane debuted with Trap House, followed by his second album, Hard to Kill, in 2006. His third and fourth albums, Trap-A-Thon and Back to the Trap House, were released in 2007. After a series of critically and commercially successful mixtape releases in 2009, Gucci Mane released his sixth studio album. After time in prison between 2014 and 2016, he re-emerged with several new retail projects, including Everybody Looking (2016), which was released to critical acclaim, His 2016 collaboration with Rae Sremmurd entitled Black Beatles gave Gucci Mane his first single number one on the US Billboard Hot 100 chart, He has since released several albums; His most recent, Woptober II, was released on 18, [5] Gucci Mane has released 13 studio albums and over 71 mixtapes throughout his career. In 2007, he founded his own label, 1017 Records. He has worked with artists such as Drake, Lil Wayne, Chris Brown, Selena Gomez, Mariah Carey and Marilyn Manson. His prolific mixtape releases and longtime presence as a trap music innovator in the Atlanta music scene have established him as a major influence on younger Atlanta rappers like Young Thug, Migos, Rich Homie Quan, 21 Savage and Lil Yachty, and he has been called an avatar of East Atlanta, and the most influential underground rapper of the past decade. [6] [7] Early life Growing up: 1980-1993 Radric Delantic Davis was born on 12 April 1993. His grandfather, James Dudley, Sr., served in the military for twelve years, [10] And his maternal grandfather, Walter Lee Davis, served in the Pacific during World War II and on the USS South Dakota. [9] Davis's father also served in the military and was stationed in Korea for two years. [9] Davis's parents met in 1978; Davis' mother had a son from another relationship, Victor Davis. When Davis was born, his father was on the run from the police to trade crack cocaine and heroin, [11] and had fled to Detroit, Michigan. [12] Davis's father was not present to sign the birth certificate, and Davis took his mother's last name. [13] Growing up with Davis, he was raised by his grandmother while his mother was a teacher who taught him to read at a young age, and spent most of his time teaching him the scriptures from the Bible. [15] Davis's first school was Jonesboro Elementary, where he attended kindergarten and the first multiple grades in elementary school. [11] His older half-brother Victor introduced Davis to a Run-DMC, Beastie Boys and LL Cool J concert. [16] Before moving to Atlanta with his mother, Davis had a distant relationship with his father, who would visit at irregular intervals; [17] The visits stopped when Davis's father had two children in Atlanta over Davis. [18] Davis moved with his single mother to Atlanta in 1989, when he was nine years old due to family problems in Bessemer. Davis' mother had a boyfriend in Atlanta and planned to move in with him, but she decided otherwise at the last minute. They later moved in with a Davis' mother until his father set them up in a Knights Inn. [18] Davis grew up in an area high in crime. [20] Davis's mother moved Davis and Victor to East Atlanta, and Davis attended Cedar Grove Elementary School. [15] He was generally good at school and considered himself athletic, even though he did not participate in school sports. [11] Davis traded drugs, primarily by selling cannabis with his older brother. Davis sold cannabis on his own and ended up using his career as a drug dealer. [21] Time as a drug dealer: 1993-2001 When Davis began to take his side hobby as a career, he was a freshman at Ronald E. McNair High School, where he got good grades and was considered popular with his peers. [22] Davis never took drugs in the first few years of drug dealing, although his first experience was smoking cannabis with a girl he was in love with. He entered into a friend-with-benefits agreement with the girl, with whom he regularly smoked cannabis, leading to a little psychological Although Davis had been selling drugs for nearly two years in 1995, he had never experienced a violent situation. When he was fifteen, Davis was riding his push bike when a man stopped him and pointed a Desert Eagle at his head. Davis was robbed of all valuable items after the encounter[24] and began carrying a .380 caliber handgun. [25] Davis had many other life-threatening situations, including a feud with a local street gang that called itself the East Shoals Boys in 1997. The feud resulted in Davis' friend Javon being beaten close to death[26] and grown men walking into McNair High School looking for Davis. [27] The feud resolved itself when Davis and several other friends got into a fistfight with members of the East Shoals Boys, who since then have left Davis alone. [28] Davis graduated from McNair High School in 1998 with a 3.0 GPA and a HOPE Scholarship to Georgia Perimeter College. He took a computer programming course, although he rarely attended and was evicted in 2001[29] after being caught with possession of crack cocaine by an undercover police officer. [30] Davis was sentenced to 90 days in prison and then probation. [30] Pursuing music: 2001-2005 Davis enjoyed writing poetry as a child, and began rapping at the age of 14. [2] After his first arrest, Davis began taking music seriously and published La Flare on Str8 Drop Records. It was pressed on about 1000 CDs and distributed throughout East Atlanta. [31] After the release of La Flare, and inspired by Master P, Davis decided that he wanted to start a music label. [32] Davis began directing rapper Lil Buddy in 2001. [33] In 2002, Davis also connected with producer Zaytoven and made his own brand, LaFlare Entertainment. [34] After going to New York to find a distribution agreement and return home empty, he was introduced to Big Cat, the head of Big Cat Records. Ultimately deciding to form an alliance with the brand that brought Khia to prominence, Davis released the song Black Tee, a response to Dem Franchize Boyz's hit record, White Tee, as well as a collaboration with fellow rising local rapper Young Jeezy with So Icy. [34] Davis continued to work underground as he prepared for the release of his debut album. Career 2005-2006: Trap House and Hard to Kill In 2005, Davis released his independent debut album, titled Trap House, which featured the single Icy with Young Jeezy, Disagreement over the rights to this single caused a rift between the two artists. Trap House was considered a success for an independent artist. The album crept into the Billboard R&:B/Hip-Hop Albums charts and landed in first place on the Billboard Heatseeker's Album chart. Guest appearances include Bun B, Killer Mike, Lil Scrappy, Breeze and Khujo by Goodie Mobb. Hard to kill followed in 2006. Among other things, the hit single Freaky girl, which peaked at number 12 on Hot Rap Tracks, number 19 on Hot R& B/Hip-Hop Songs and at number 62 on the Billboard Hot 100. He also posted videos to the tracks Street Nigazzz[35] and Pillz. [36] 2007-2010: Mixtapes, Back to the Trap House, The State vs. Radric Davis The official remix of Freaky girl with Ludacris and Lil' Kim was recorded on his 2007 commercial debut album, Back to the Trap House. Gucci Mane appeared on OJ da Juiceman's Make Tha Trap Say Aye and began working on various mixtapes. [37] Following the success of his mixtapes Bird Money and Writing on the Wall, Gucci Mane signed with Warner Bros. Records in May 2009. [38] He performed on remixes of the songs Boom Boom Pow by The Black Eyed Peas, Obsessed by Mariah Carey and 5 Star Chick by Yo Gotti and made a guest appearance on Mario's Break Up. He made a total of 17 guest appearances in 2009. Gucci Mane's second studio album, The State vs. Radric Davis, was released by Warner Bros. Records on December 8, 2009. Its first single, Wasted featuring Plies, was originally from Gucci Mane's 2009 mixtape Guccimania. [39] It peaked at number 3 on Hot R& B/Hip-Hop Songs, and number 3 on Rap Songs, making it Gucci Mane's most successful single to date. The second single was Spotlight with Usher. The third single was Lemonade. The fourth single was Bingo, with Waka Flocka Flame and Soulja Boy. October 2, 2009, Gucci Mane was listed at number 6 on MTV's annual Hottest MC in the Game list. [134] Davis was released from prison in late January 2006, [2] In September 2008. Davis was arrested for a probation violation for completing only 25 out of 600 community service hours after his 2005 arrest for aggravated assault. He was sentenced to a year in county jail but was released after six months. [135] He was incarcerated in the Fulton County jail for probation violation[136] and released on May 12, 2010. Gucci Mane was arrested for driving on the wrong side of the road, running a red light or stop sign, damage to government property, obstruction, no license, no proof of insurance and other traffic charges. He was taken to Grady Memorial Hospital. On January 1, 2011, a judge at the Superior Court of Georgia's Fulton County ordered Davis to a psychiatric hospital, according to court documents. The documents reveal that his lawyers filed a special plea of Mental Incompetence on December 27, claiming that he was unable to proceed and/or intelligently attend twice in April 2011 in Dekalb County, on September 13, 2011, Davis was given a six-month prison sentence after pleading guilty to two counts of battery, two counts of reckless conduct and one count of disorderly conduct. [142] He was released on 11. [143] 2013-2014 March 22, 2013, the Atlanta Police Department issued an arrest warrant for Davis after he allegedly attacked a fan who was trying to take a photo with him. One soldier, James, claimed that Gucci Mane hit him with a bottle in the head while talking to a security guard about getting a picture with the rapper. He was treated at Grady Memorial Hospital and received 10 stitches. [144] Four days later, another man walking by the initials TJ claimed Gucci Mane punched him in the face when TJ tried to shake his hand after a concert performance at Club Onyx in Philadelphia. [145] Early morning on April 27, 2015. He was denied bond and was jailed in the Fulton County Jail. His lawyer said witnesses claim Gucci Mane had nothing to do with the assault. He appeared in court april 10, 2013 and was charged with aggravated assault. [146] [147] [148] Two days later he posted bail of $75,000, and On April 15, he was arrested again for a parole break. [149] He was released three weeks later, on September 2, 2013, Gucci Mane hung out with a friend and behaved erratically. The friend decided to call the police to help him. When police arrived, Gucci Mane started swearing and threatening them. Authorities took him into custody at 12:05 a.m., and found marijuana, and disorderly conduct. He was reportedly hospitalized after his arrest. On September 30, 2013, it was revealed that Gucci Mane would serve 183 days in prison on charges of weapons possession of a convicted felon, disorderly conduct, concealed weapons and possession of a convicted felon, disorderly conduct, concealed weapons and possession of a convicted felon. firearm as a felon. According to the prosecution, Gucci Mane was in possession of two different loaded guns between September 14, 2013 and can be sentenced to up to 20 years in prison. On May 30, 2014, Gucci Mane pleaded guilty to possession of a firearm by a convicted felon. He agreed to a deal that would result in him being imprisoned until the end of 2016. [154] According to the Federal Bureau of Prisons, his release date would be September 20, 2016. [155] He was serving his sentence in the U.S. prison in Terre Haute, Indiana. [156] On May 15, 2016, Gucci Mane was released from prison ahead of his scheduled September date. this was due to Gucci Mane not initially being credited for the time he served while waiting for his court date. [158] Controversy Young Jeezy In May 2005, Gucci Mane released his first single Icy, which featured Young Jeezy, at the time also a future artist. Tensions grew when Icy is believed to have put on Young Jeezy's debut album Let's Get It: Thug Motivation 101, although it never was. It was set on Gucci Mane's debut album Trap House. Young Jeezy released the controversial song Stay Strapped, which placed a $10,000 bounty on the Gucci Mane chain. Gucci Mane responded by saving: Nigga Young Jeezy, man. The nigga fake. [160] On May 16, 2005, tensions were soaring between Gucci Mane and Young Jeezy when four men set up Gucci Mane in a stripper's home and tried to do so. Gucci Mane took his gun and shot one of the assailants. The assailant, Pookie Loc, a CTE affiliate of Young Jeezy, was later found buried behind Columbia Middle School in Decatur, Georgia. An official arrest warrant was put out for Gucci Mane's arrest. A few days later, he turned himself in to police after hearing about the warrant. [162] During a telephone conversation, Gucci Mane stated: I know I'm not a murderer. I was sorry. I was scared a little bit but I had to do what I had to do. You must be a man about it. I'm not a bad person. I have remorse for everything that happened. Young Jeezy responded to Gucci Mane and the allegations of hiring Pookie Loc at Gucci Mane by saying that Gucci Mane was trying to turn a bad situation into good publicity and sell his record. On January 30, 2006, prosecutors dropped the murder charge against Gucci Mane when he maintained that he was acting in self-defence. On June 30, 2006, after tensions cooled, Gucci Mane joined Young Jeezy on song 745 and raps: Can I smell pussy? No, it's Jeezy. You're not a snowman, you're more like a snowflake, cupcake, corn flake. Nigga, you're too fake. On June 30, 2009, Young Jeezy came to Gucci Mane on the song 24, 23, and raps: I'm on some Louie shit today, fuck some Gucci, man. These niggers still on my dick, they like some groupies, man. Can't keep those lips closed, they're worse than 'Coochies Mane'. [166] In light of the renewed tensions with The Crip-affiliated Young Jeezy, Gucci Mane began to associate with the Bloods street gang, well-known rivals from the Crips, with Gucci Mane using Blood images in his music videos and associating with well-known Blood figures in hip-hop, such as The Game. [167] On December 20, 2009, during a radio interview with DJ Drama and Jeezy, Gucci Mane called in to finally announce a truce between the two and said: I just want to say, it's much bigger than all of us. I feel that the way the city has supported all three of us, they deserve this. It's time, man. We're getting older and growing, so let's do it for the city. On March 30, 2010, members of Jeezy's crew, Corporate Thugz, got into an argument outside a clothing store in Atlanta. Neither Gucci Mane nor Jeezy were present during the altercation. On December 30, 2011, Jeezy explained how the beef originated, saying that Gucci Mane got mad at him because he didn't want to perform ice cold together; Jeezy said he couldn't perform the song because he went through major neck surgery. On October 30, 2012, during a radio interview, Gucci Mane announced that he had no more love for Jeezy because of his controversial fight with rapper Rick Ross. During a radio interview, Jeezy responded by saying: 'Everyone knows the boy is retarded. No one takes him seriously. He's got an ice cream vake in his face. That said, I'm not going back, I'm going forward. [172] On October 17, 2012, Gucci Mane joined Jeezy and other artists on the song Truth by rapping: A thousand dollar bounty put on my neck. I hope you didn't pay them because they had no success and go dig your partner up, nigga, bet he can't say shit, to Pookie Loc. [174] More than 15 years after their feud began, Jeezy and Gucci Mane both appeared in a Verzuz Battle on 19 April 1944. Despite a tense atmosphere, the battle ended with the two performing Icy together for the first time since 2005, followed Gucci Mane telling Jeezy it all love and that he respected him for suggesting the idea. [175] Keyshia Cole March 16, 2012, R& B singer Keyshia Cole came on Gucci Mane for the controversial song Truth, which he had rapped, I made a song with Keyshia Cole and I know you still miss her. But Puff fucked her while falling in love with her, suggesting that in his rumoured relationship with Young Jeezy. Cole cheated on him with his Last Night collaborator P. Diddy. Cole stated on the radio. Putting all va confidence in some of these 'Hood Rappers'... How you will be a G and you spread lies, to sell mix tapes! Where va talent on, Dude doesn't have to lie though! Could have kept me out of it. [176] Yung Joc Gucci Mane attracted controversy when his song Fuck The World had a controversial line that was directed to fellow Atlanta rapper Yung Joc when he rapped I got all eves on me like Pac did, but I'm not tryin' to go broke like Joc did. During a radio interview, Joc responded to the song by saying Gucci is a master at getting his name in other people's mouths, I'm not trippin', I know what my financial situation is. [177] Waka Flocka Flame on March 15, 2013, Gucci Mane announced that frequent collaborator and close friend Waka Flocka Flame was dropped from 1017 Brick Squad Records. The two rappers continued to hurling insults back and forth on Twitter, [178] [179] March 27, 2013, during an MTV Jams interview with Sway. Waka Flocka Flame explained that he would never do music or business with Gucci Mane ever again. None of the rappers have explained where the controversy came from. Waka Flocka Flame has stated: I think we're both at the finish line we just walk our own routes. That's all I can say. What causes? Sometimes you don't care what's causing it. Just understand two men went their own way, but that's no problem. On November 30, 2013, it was revealed that Gucci Mane had taken legal action against Waka Flocka Flame, Waka Flocka Flames' mother Debra Antney, OJ da Juiceman, rapper Khia Stone and producer Zaytoven. The lawsuit accuses the parties of fraud, extortion, and breach of contract. According to Gucci is also accusing the parties in the lawsuit of withholding royalties and inflating the cost of label expenses and alleging that Antney seized his assets and stole a ring and a necklace. [181] In his lawsuit, Gucci Mane also says that Antney took more than typisk 20% administrationsgebyr. Gucci Mane hævdede også, at Antney's handlinger førte til, at han havde penge og skattemæssige problemer. [182] I begyndelsen af 2017 dukkede problemerne mellem de to op igen, da Waka Flocka Flame udgav sangen Was My Dawg, som mange troede henviste til Gucci Mane. [183] Twitter I september 2013 sendte Gucci Mane en række nedsættende tweets til forskellige figurer i hiphopindustrien. I tweetsne hævdede han at have seksuelt forhold til rappers veninder. Et par dage senere, Gucci Mane erklærede, at hans Twitter-konto var blevet hacket. [184] Men han indrømmede senere i sin selvbiografi, at han gjorde forfatteren tweets. Born in London, England, he was brought to Atlanta, Georgia, by his mother at the age of seven, [8] He became known in Atlanta for mixtape The Slaughter Tape 2015 before gaining nationwide attention after an EP collaboration Savage Mode (2016) with producer Metro Boomin and its popular singles X and No Heart, as well as guest features on the 2016 Drake single Sneakin' and the Post Malone hit single Rockstar. [9] [10] [11] [12] His debut album, Issa Album (2017), peaked at number two on the US Billboard 200 and earned him his first top 20 single on the Billboard Hot 100, Bank Account [13] Later that year he collaborated with Offset and Metro Boomin on the album Without Warning (2017). His first number one single came in late 2017 with his feature on Post Malone's Rockstar, which was nominated in two categories at the 61st Grammy Awards. [14] [15] His second album I Am > I Was (2018) was met with critical acclaim, debuted at number one on the Billboard 200 and spent two weeks at the top of the charts. [16] 21 Savage was arrested by U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) on 3 January 2004. Officials stated that he is a uk citizen who entered the United States in July 2005 and then illegally overstayed his visa when it expired in July 2006. [17] He was granted bond on 12. [18] The hearing was originally scheduled for April 9, but was later postponed indefinitely. [19] 21 Savage won the award for best rap song for his song A Lot at the 2020 Grammy Awards, marking both 21 Savage and J. Cole's first Grammy wins. [20] [21] His long-awaited collaborative album with Metro Boomin, Savage Mode II, released on 2 January 2015. British-born parents Heather Carmillia Joseph and Kevin Cornelius Emmons, [1][2] who are of Dominican and Haitian descent respectively [23] [24] His twin sisters, dance choreographers Kyra and Jayda Davis, and father continue to live in London, where Emmons works for Westminster City Council. 21 Savage's grandmother lives in Brixton. [redigation needs] 21 Savage parents separated early in his life, and he moved with his mother to Atlanta, Georgia, at the age of 7. [25] [26] [27] In June 2005, at the age of 7. [25] [26] [27] In June 2005, at the age of 12, he went to the United Kingdom for the funeral of an uncle, [28] stayed for a month and then returned to the United States on 22. [17] [30] [31] 21 Savage's mother then began a relationship with Dr Amsu Anpu, an endocrinologist and British expatriate with whom she had several children. [32] He had a brother Quantivayus (Tay-Man) who died in a shootout after an attempted drug trafficking, [33] In seventh grade, 21 Savage was permanently banned from all schools in the DeKalb County School District for gun possession. [34] This led him to start attending schools around the Atlanta metropolitan area before being sent to a youth detention center. [35] After being released from juvenile detention, he completed eighth grade through an alternative program before completing a semester of high school; he dropped out in his freshman year after several exclusions that he said exhausted him. [36] After dropping out, 21 Savage joined a local street gang [9] and became a full-time drug dealer primarily selling cannabis. [36] He also regularly participated in other criminal activities, including robbery and car theft, although he was arrested only once after contraband was found in a car he was driving. [37] In 2011, when 21 Savage was 19, he lost his right hand, Larry, in a shootout. [36] In 2013, during an attempted robbery on his 21st birthday, 21 Savage was shot six times by rival gang members and his best friend Johnny was killed. [19] [38] Career 2014-15: Early Releases, The Slaughter Tape and Slaughter Tape and Slaughter Tape and Slaughter King After his friend's death in a scuffle on his 21st birthday, 21 Savage began rapping. [37] [39] His music career was originally supported by his late friend's uncle, who gave him money for studio time in 2013. November 2014, 21 Savage's debut thele, Picky, produced by DJ Plugg, was released on May 25, 2015. [40] The release made him what Interview Magazine called an underground hero in Atlanta. On July 22, 2015, 21 Savage released a collaborative EP, Free Guwop, with Sonny Digital. [41] It's a tribute EP to fellow rapper and influence Gucci Mane. On December 30, 2015, 21 Savage released his second mixtape, Slaughter King. [42] Savage Mode, Issa Album, and Without Warning Main Articles: Savage Mode; Issa Album; and Without Warning (21 Savage, Offset and Metro Boomin albums) In June 2016, 21 Savage was named one of the Freshman Class of 2016 by XXL. The EP gained international success and peaked at number 23 on the Billboard 200, which became their highest charting EP to date. [44] He was on the cover of Father. [45] His single X with Future on the EP was confirmed by Billboard as being platinum in the United States when he was 21's first platinum record. On January 20, 2017, 21 Savage announced that he had signed with Epic Records. [47] In 2017, his debut album, Issa Album, debuted at number two on the US Billboard 200. [48] [49] Its first single, Bank Account, peaked at number 12 on the Billboard Hot 100. [50] [51] Later that year he appeared on Post Malone's single Rockstar, which peaked at number one on the Billboard Hot 100 and broke several records. It's 21 Savage's first number one song. [15] [52] [53] October 2017, a collaborative album from 21 Savage, Offset and Metro Boomin, named Without Warning, was released. Without Warning debuted at number four on the US Billboard 200[55] and received generally positive reviews from critics. Its lead single, Ric Flair Drip peaked at number 13 on the Billboard Hot 100. [56] [57] 2018-present: I Am > I Was and Savage Mode II Main article: I Am Greater than I Was 21 Savage in June 2018 In April 2018, 21 Savage had a guest appearance on Young Thug's extended play Hear No Evil along with fellow rappers Nicki Minaj and Lil Uzi Vert. [58] Later that month, he also appeared on the single Outstanding by SahBabii. On March 30, 2018, he was part of the single Rover 2.0, which is part of BlocBoy JB's Simi mixtape. [60] [61] The following month he was featured on Ty Dolla Sign's Clout, which was part of the deluxe edition of his album Beach House 3, 2018, 21 Savage posted a photo on his Instagram of a man in silhouette jumping in the air in the direction away from a large fire. In the lower right corner of the image there is a Parental Advisory message which is oftentimes on the cover of rap releases. 21 Savage also tagged Metro Boomin in the post. For these reasons, some speculated it to be a sequel to 2017's Without Warning album. But it turned out to be the cover for Metro's debut solo album, Not All Heroes Wear Capes. On December 22, 2018, 21 Savage posted cover for his upcoming album, I Am & I Was, on Instagram, which features a blurry image of himself captioning the image with a series of goat emojis. [64] The next day, 21 Savage took to Twitter and his Instagram story to apologize for forgetting to release the album, saving on Twitter: I forgot to drop my album my bad y'all. [65] He announced a new date on December 21, 2018. [66] The track list was leaked by record producer Louis Bell via his Instagram story on December 13, 2018. [67] [68] 21 Savage released his second studio album I Am > I Was on December 21, 2018, with features from Travis Scott, Post Malone, Childish Gambino, Offset, J. Cole, Gunna, Lil Baby, Project Pat, Yung Miami and Schoolboy Q.[69][70] None of these acts are credited as artists on the album. I Am &I Was debuted at number one on the US Billboard 200, earning 131,000 album-equivalent units (including 18,000 pure album. [71] [72] It was led by A Lot, with vocals from J. Cole. It peaked at number 12 on the US Billboard Hot 100 and earned him his first Grammy award. [73] [74] Throughout 2019, 21 Savage released only one song called Immortal. In February 2020, 21 Savage Mode extended game called Savage Mode II. Despite not announcing an official release date, they re-posted speculation by a fan on Instagram that the project would be released on March 13, 2020, leading to speculation there would be the official released on September 13, 2020, a teaser trailer for Savage Mode II, directed by Gibson Hazard, released with a story from Morgan Freeman, who announced the release date of 2. [77] The collaborative album peaked at number one on the Billboard 200 and included two top-ten singles. Musical style Called one of the last real street niggas left makes music by frequent collaborator Metro Boomin, [78] 21 Savage's music is highly autobiographical with emphasis on violent and criminal aspects of his past, including murder and drug trafficking. [37] Vocally, he is known for his trademark villainous monotonous drawl. [79] Controversy In 2018, 21 Savage allegedly started a movement called Guns Down, Paintballs Up, which aimed to reduce gun violence by suggesting the use of paintball guns instead of deadly firearms. [80] The head of the Detroit Police Department, James Craig, described the movement as well-intentioned, however misguided, after several incidents involving paintball guns later resulted in injuries. vandalism (e.g. of police vehicles), violent retaliation, and the mistakenness of paintball guns for firearms. [81] [82] The movement has been linked to several cases of property crime and homicide. [80] [83] 21 Savage has not commented on the case, although he paid for the funeral of a 3-year-old who was killed in a related incident. [80] [83] The controversy arose after 21 Savage withdrew firearms during a pool party on June 10, 2018. [84] 21 Savage had been firearms of a friend after seeing an opposing crew member also pull a gun. [85] ASMR, a song from 21 Savage's second studio album I Am > I Was, caused a lot of controversy with the lyrics. The lyrics included We've Been Getting', that Jewish money, everything is kosher. The lyrics came under fire for perpetuating negative Jewish stereotypes when LeBron James shared an Instagram story quoting the number. [86] 21 Savage later apologized and said on Twitter that the Jewish people I know are very clever with there [sic] money, so that's why I said we got 'Jewish money. I never thought anyone would take action, I'm sorry if I offended everyone, never my intention - I love all people. [87] In early 2020, a feud erupted between the 21st and American producer Young Chop after Chop insulted 21 Savage on an Instagram livestream. On April 15, while he allegedly took an Uber in 21 Savages neighborhoods in an attempt to find out where he lived. No other sources have confirmed whether this story is true, and no shots were captured on the video in which he made the accusation. [89] Personal life 21 Savage practices the traditional African religion Ifá with his mother. [90] [91] [92] In June 2017, Savage started dating model Amber Rose. [93] [94] As of May 2018, the couple had separated. [95] His cousin, Young Nudy, is an American rapper who often works with 21 Savage. Legal Questions Drug conviction in 2014 21 Savage was convicted of felony drug charges in October 2014 in Fulton County, Georgia. [96] Arrest on immigration charges in 2019 February 3, 2019, just two days after releasing the music video for his single A Lot, 21 Savage was taken into custody by the U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) after a vehicle was pulled over that contained him and his cousin, Young Nudy, and two other men. Young Nudy and the other two men had been charged with aggravated assault and violation of the Georgia Gang Act. [97] 21 Savage later claimed that he was also personally the target of the operation. [25] Following his arrest, ICE revealed that 21 Savage is a British citizen who has been in the United States illegally since his non-immigrant visa expired in July 2006. 21 Savage's management team says he has been trying to have his Visa renewed since 2017. Before that, 21 Savage had commonly been considered to be a native of the Atlanta area - for example, Interview magazine had reported in an interview with Seth Rogen in April 2018 that the rapper's birthplace was Atlanta, Georgia, and in a 2016 interview with XXL Magazine, he said he was from Decatur, Georgia (which is in the Atlanta metropolitan area). [30] [98] [99] [100] A spokesman for ICE said of 21 Savage, his entire public persona is false. He actually came to the United States from Britain as a teenager and overstayed his visa. [101] A birth certificate then showed that 21 Savage was born in Newham, London, on 22 January [1] [102] This indicates that he had been 12 years old in July 2005 - not a teenager (and he had also been in the United States from the age of 7 until his one-month departure in 2005). [25] His lawyer acknowledged that 21 Savage had overstayed the expired visa, but said he had not tried to hide his background, and said that the Department of Homeland Security had been aware that in 2017 he had applied for a u-visa - a form of non-immigrant visa offered to victims of crime and their family members willing to assist law enforcement in the investigation or prosecution of criminal activity. [31] 21 Savage has been released from ICE's custody, but his case is still pending. He gets to move around the United States but can't travel abroad. [103] Theft on fraud charges in 2019, February 15, 2019, Savage turned himself in to the authorities and was charged with serving a warrant for fraud. The dispute surrounds a concert organized in 2016 in which the rapper allegedly accepted a payment of $17,000 for showing up at a concert but did not show up and did not give the money back. He was released on his own recognizance pending a hearing at a later date to resolve the charge. [104] [105] Philanthropy In March 2018, 21 Savage announced the creation of 21 Savage Bank Account Campaign (named after his hit song Bank Account) on The Ellen DeGeneres Show; he also announced that he donated $21,000 to the cause. 21 Savage Bank Account campaign and it's helping kids learn how to save money and make money, and open bank accounts for kids. [106] In early August 2016, 2017, 2018, and 2019, 21 Savage hosted Issa Back to School Drive (named after his album Issa Album) in his home neighborhood of Atlanta, Georgia. The drive provided free haircuts, hairstyles, supplies and school uniforms. In July 2018, 21 Savage donated $10,000 to Atlanta's Continental Colony Elementary School to fund an anti-bullying campaign. On July 21, 2020, 21 Savage announced that he was launching a free online financial education program for children and teenagers stuck at home during the COVID-19 pandemic, saying: I feel it is important more than ever to give our next generation the tools to succeed in life. The program includes a partnership with Atlanta Mayor Keisha Lance Bottoms to provide free tablets and WiFi to underserved students in Atlanta. [108] Cinematography In 2017, it was reported that 21 Savage was working on his debut film, Issa Movie. [109] 21 Savage has also been working on an Animated YouTube miniseries named Year 2100.
