I've tried high and lower priced products for my face, all on SPF50 if available. I bought these on a whim and I am quite satisfied. I have a combination skin, with a normal cheek ... She's a fan of the Sun Bum SPF 30 Spray and Sun Bum Lip Balm, but I wanted to give the SPF 50 face sunscreen a try. For using this product, I would usually just use what happened to be around when my friends or family would nag me about applying sunscreen. These days, I always start my morning routine by applying this sunscreen lotion to my face – and I'm actually looking forward to it! For starters, the formula is odour-free and extremely lightweight. It glides up effortlessly and is easy to wear under my makeup and daily moisturizer. Better yet, the fast-absorbing consistency never leaves behind a white cast on my skin. Camryn La Sala / TODAYA different added bonus is that it's oil-free and doesn't break out. When I finally cleared my skin with my new favorite face wash, I didn't want to reverse all the progress I've made with a greasy sunscreen that would clog my pores. Fortunately, this has never caused me irritation and the water-resistant formula does not burn my eyes when I inevitably sweat in the summer heat. While the aesthetically pleasing tube seems small at just 3 grams, this product will last you a surprisingly long time since a little goes a long way!
