Words per minute reading test for second grade

Picture: PeskyMonkey/E+/Getty Images A is a great letter. Derived from the Greek letter alpha, it is both the first letter and the first vowel in the English alphabet. It can stand alone as a word, as the indeterminate article a. Only O used to have the same status as a heckling (O! I'm killed!), but it's changed with the modern addition of the letter h, which makes it O! Now A stands alone! A also has the power to change the meaning of a word to the contrary. You don't believe us? Consider the word denist meaning faith in a supreme being. Changed to atheist, it suddenly means non-believers in a god or gods. This letter has a superpower! A' is also an important part of the Latin prefixes ab- and ad-that means courage and away from. This is one of the reasons why many A words in the English language start with ab or ad, like absent or advent. If you're ready to tackle a spelling challenge involving this rock-star letter, we've created a quiz to let you do just that! Note: We would like to acknowledge our debt to both the World Book Dictionary (a printed reference) and the Merriam-Webster website; the latter in particular is highly recommended for people who want to become more articulate or to understand the English language better. Copyright © 2020 InfoSpace InfoSpace LLC, a System1 Company Jay-Z has always been known to be one of the smartest people in the music business, and it must be true, see how he has become one of the most financially successful artists of all time. You don't get to a $1 billion net worth without having a high level of intelligence, and Jay-Z certainly has it. Not surprisingly, stories about Jay-Z's intelligence date as far back as his youth. As a young artist, he would often have to remember his rapper when he was on the street because he had no paper to write them on at the time. Even going as far back as his childhood, his 6th-grade teacher claims he was one of her smartest students. She once told a story about how he scored a 12th-century, 12th-century, 12th-century, 12th-century, 12th-century, 1 Jay-Z grew up in Marcy Projects, in Brooklyn's tough Bestuy neighborhood Jay-Z | Photo by Kevork S. Djansezian/Getty Images) Jay-Z often references his birthplace, Marcy Projects, on his records and in interviews. Growing up in Bedstey, Brooklyn in the 1980s, he was exposed daily to extreme poverty, drug use and violence. Jay-Z never shys away from the experiences he had there as a child and how they shaped him into the person he is today. In an interview with NPR, Jay-Z detailed some of the traumatic experiences he had there as a child. It was a very intense and stressful situation, he said. Suddenly it would just turn violent and there would be shootings at 12 in the afternoon on any given day. It was a strange mix of emotions. One day, your best friend could be killed. The day before, you could celebrate getting him a brand new bike. Jay-Z found an escape from his circumstances in the written word Jay-Z's love of words has long been documented. With that under consideration, it makes sense that he chose to rap as a profession. As a youngster, he was fascinated by another child in the neighbourhood's ability to rhyme words, according to British GQ. There was a guy who used to freestyle around the road. He used to rap about something, you know, 'My clothes are damp/And I like that lamp/And I'm the champ and I was like, it's f--king cool. So I started trying it. It was a gift. Jay-Z also credits his 6th grade teacher, Renee Rosenblum-Lowden, with inspiring him to escape his surroundings by delving into literature. According to a Netflix interview he did with David Letterman, her class was ground zero for his love affair with words. I had a sixth-grade teacher. Her name was Ms. Lowden, and I just loved the class so much. Like reading the dictionary and my love of words—I just connected with her. Jay-Z scored a 12th-grade reading level after taking a reading test in the 6th. Photo by Kevin Mazur/Getty Images for Fanatics) His 6th grade teacher at Brooklyn's IS 318, also has fond memories of Jay-Z, and claims that he was one of her brightest students. During an interview with the Washington Post, she detailed a story about how he scored six grades above the standard reading level when she administered a test. The thing I remember about Shawn is that he took the reading test and he scored the 12th grade in sixth grade, she said. And I remember telling him - because I really feel it's important to tell the kids that they're smart - I said, 'You're smart, you better do good. And he listened. Clearly, Jay-Z took his former teacher word to heart because he went on to become one of the greatest artists in the world and now has a net worth of over $1 billion. Opening a Word document as read-only helps prevent accidental changes to the document from being saved. Read-only mode does not allow you to make changes to your document, which prevents you from inadvertently saving changes. We'll show you how to open a Word document as read-only. The Recent list appears on the backstage screen the first time you open Word. Click the Open other documents link at the bottom of the Recent list. NOTE: If you already have a new or existing document open and want to open another document as read-only, click the File tab, and then click Open on the backstage screen. A quick way to access the Open backstage screen is to press Ctrl + O. Click Computer on the Open screen to access files on your computer, or click OneDrive to open a file from your OneDrive account as read-only. Under the Recent Folders list, click the Browse button on the right side of the Open screen. Go to the folder that contains the file you want to open as read-only. Instead of clicking the main part of the Open button, click the down arrow on the right side of the Open button. Choose Read-Only from the drop-down menu. The document opens as read-only, as shown in the image at the beginning of this article. Read-only mode is similar to reading mode in Word. Last updated on November 18, 2020 If you're like me and really into self-development, you've probably read many of the thousands of self-help books out there on the market. But also like me, you probably find all the information a bit overwhelming. That's why I wanted to do the self-less task of taking the most important, life-changing lessons I've drawn from these books and condensing them to 50 key points. Here are 50 habits of successful people you should learn:1. Believe it to see itsOur mind tends to focus on what is happening around us and refuses to see what could happen. Only when you trust what is possible and dare to dream big can great things happen to you.2. See problems as a wonderful giftBut others only see and give up, successful people use the problem as a lesson to find improvements in themselves or the task at hand.3. Look out for SolutionsEven, if they are knee-deep in trouble, successful people will still put all their focus on finding solutions.4. Remember It's about JourneySuccessful people being conscious and methodical in creating their own success. They don't sit around and do the absolute minimum, hoping success finds them.5. Feel the fear and do it anywayThere is so much fear on the road to success, but instead of letting fear control and limit them, successful people do a good job of just forging forward regardless.6. Always ask productive questionsIt's about asking the right questions. Successful people make sure they are issues that will bring information to a more productive, creative and positive mindset moving forward.7. Understanding the best waste of energy complaintsSuccessful people know that choosing to see the negative side of things will only create a useless and unproductive state.8. Don't play blame GameTaking responsibility for actions and results is a form of empowerment that you can build your success on. While the act of blaming others or without circumstances takes this empowerment away from you. 9. Maximize your strengthsNot every successful person is simply more talented than the rest, but they use what they know they are good at achieving more successful results.10. Being in it to win ItSuccessful people are busy, productive and proactive. Instead of sitting around thinking about and overbe planning a good idea, they're just taking a step toward it, no matter how small.11. Know that success attracts SuccessPeople, who have success surrounding themselves and seek out like-minded people. They understand the importance of being part of a team and creating win-win relationships.12 In fact, choosing to be a successDreaming great is a massive part of being successful, even if your dream seems impossible. Ambition is a mindset that must be a daily conscious choice.13. Visualize, visualize, visualize! You have to see your success in your mind's eye even before it comes. Successful people clarify and get this certainty about what they want their reality to look like instead of being just bystanders of life.14. Be a one-time OriginalSuccessful people look for what works and then create a unique spin on it. Imitates only regurgitators other people's ideas without originality.15. The perfect time to act is nowWaiting for the right time to act is basically hesitation wrapped up in an apology. Successful people know there's never a perfect time, so they might as well just do it now.16. Keep learning, Keep Growing Continuous Learning is the key to a successful life. Whether it's academic, being a student in life actionable learning, it is about expanding your knowledge and development.17. Always look at the bright side of lifeSuccessful people have the skills to find positive aspects in all people and circumstances no matter what.18. Are you having a bad day? Do it anyway! We all feel bad, but that shouldn't be an excuse to stop everything. Giving in a bad mood just stop-starts your life, slowing success way down.19. Sometimes Risky Business is necessaryCalculated risks are a must for success. It's about weighing the pros and cons as you move forward with this element of confidence. 20. Accept Challenge All the timeDealing with problems head-on is a must to be successful. Successful people also face challenges to improve themselves.21. Make your own LuckIn mindset a successful person, there is no such thing as 'luck' or 'destiny'. They take control to actively and deliberately create their own best lives.22. Ignore your initiativeWhile many people are reactive, successful people are proactive - to act before they have to.23. Being Master of Your EmotionsBeing effective at managing emotions is key on the road to success. That's not to say successful people don't feel like we all do, but they're just not slaves to their feelings.24. Champion in CommunicationConsciously working on effective communication skills gets someone closer to success.25. Plan your life StrategicSuccessful people's lives are not a clumsy series of unplanned events and achievements, they methodically work to make their plans a reality.26. Become unique on What you doTo become unique, you typically have to do things that most will not. In order to be successful, difficult decisions must be taken and it is essential to act on them.27. Choose to live outside your comfort zoneWhile many people are pleasure junkies and avoid pain and discomfort at all costs, successful people understand the value and benefits of working through the hard things that most would avoid.28. Live by core valuesSuccessful people first identify their core values and what is important to them, and then do their best to live a life that reflects those values.29. Realizing Money Is Not EverythingMoney and Success Is Not interchangeable, and the most successful people understand this. Putting money on a pedestal and equating it with success is a dangerous mindset to have. Success comes in many forms.30. Don't get carried away withSuccessful people understand the importance of discipline and self-control, and as a result they are happy to take the road less traveled. 31. Self-esteem is not tied to SuccessSuccessful people are safe. They don't get their self-esteem from what they own, who they know, where they live or what they look like.32. Kindness Breeds Kindness (And Success) Generosity and Kindness is a common feature among long-term successful people. It is important to help others achieve.33. More humility, less less people are humble and happy to admit and apologize for mistakes. That's because they're confident in their abilities. They are happy to learn from others and happy to make others look good instead of seeking their own personal glory.34. Change opens new doorsPeople who are successful, are flexible and embrace change, while most are creatures of comfort and habit. They are comfortable with and embrace the new and the unknown.35. Success requires a healthy bodyIt's not just how you think, it's about how you show up for success. Successful people understand the importance of being physically good, not for vain reasons, but because being in tiptop mode creates a better personal life for success.36. Laziness just doesn't existSuccessful people are never considered lazy. Yes, they can relax when they need it, but working hard is their game.37. Resilience at Bucket LoadAerysing hard, most would throw in the towel, but successful people are just warming up.38. Feedback is just another chance to improveHow people respond to feedback determines their potential for success. It is seen most by those who are successful, to be open to constructive criticism and to act on it to improve.39. Your Vibe attracts your Tribelf people hanging out with toxic and negative people, so they need to take a look at themselves. Successful people hang out with others who are positive and supportive.40. Can't you control it? Forget itSuccessful people don't invest time or emotional energy in things that they don't have control over.41. Swim against TideSuccessful people are not people-pleasers and they don't need constant approval from others to move on. 42. Alone Time is valuable timeMore self-esteem means being more comfortable with your own business. Successful people are more happy and see the value in spending time alone.43. Self-Standard is higher than MostEveryone has a choice to set high standards for itself. This makes successful people, which in turn gives greater commitment, more momentum, better work ethic and, of course, better results.44. Failure is not rationalizedWhile many spend age, health, lack of time, 'bad luck' or inability to explain away their failure, the key to success is to find a way to succeed despite these challenges.45. Downtime is an important part of a routineOn an off switch and taking time to do things that make them happy is a common feature of a successful person. See here the importance of planning downtime.46. Career is not who you are, it's what you do, people know their careers are not their identity. They are multidimensional and do not define themselves in their jobs.47. Be interested in Only the path resistanceWhile most people look for the easiest way or the shortcut, successful people are more in the most effective. They look forward to the approach that will produce the best long-term results.48. Follow ThroughMangeren spends their lives starting things that they never finish, but successful people get the job done. Even when the excitement and news is worn off, they still follow up and end.49. Invest in all your dimensionsWe are not only physical and psychic beings, but also emotional and spiritual creatures. Successful people consciously work to be healthy and productive at all levels.50. Put your money where your mouth isTo achieve success, it is important to practice what you preach. Successful people don't talk about the theory, they live reality. So there you have it, a summary of what I've learned from self-help books. But of course you need to start taking actions so you will get closer to success too. Bonus: 5 bad habits to QuitMore About SuccessFeatured photo credit: Juan Jose via unsplash.com unsplash.com
