Home » Reviews » Exercise Equipment » Ab Doer 360 Review The ab doer 360 is an exercise device at home that is said to be light, compact, and easy to have in your home. It contains a seat with two striped handles coming out on each side from left to right. It claims to help strengthen, tone, and burn fat and calories throughout the body but especially in the stomach region. The company that produces this device is also called ab doer 360, and it is sold on their main website, rather than straight online, and amazon.com just to name a few. It will cost around $199.95 excluding shipping, and it comes with a teaching DVD with training so you realize how to use it from day one. You will remain sitting all the time you work on this machine, and it targets the middle part but also helps carve out the whole body. The chair is swirling, and you'll grab it to the handle bar located beneath your biceps. There is back support, and many os swirl sideways to side by side and even in round motion to engage the core muscles and back muscles. #1 Diet #1 Diet #1 Is Valued Diet ☆☆☆☆ ☆☆☆☆ ☆☆☆☆ Plan And How does it work? If you want to work your feet just move them side by side and get in for more work in the area. The teaching DVD will show you a variety of movements you can practice to target selected areas. Warning, it looks a bit strange when you first see it but you can tell the muscle group is being pursued. [1] Bottom LineThis exercise devices have users staying sitting while they swirl, right-to-left and back-forwards. Legs can also be worked out as well. Back to the ? If you follow the instructions in the right way, you should not get hurt while using ab doer 360. There is nothing really dangerous about the device but knows how to use it before jumping on it, as it moves and turns various ways. It can be used in the comfort of your own home, so always know your limits before getting any exercise machines because there is no oversight of excessive consumption and techniques. The Ab Doer 360 has a high bar that will

align your spine and get back in a safe position while making the move right to the left and front backwards. Better flexibility will occur while using it because of how much natural stretching occurs. While some people enjoy the Ab Doer 360 for strength and weight loss, others complain it's holding their backs a so-conscious touch. [1] Finally, there are two rollers on each side of the bar supporting the back to gently massh the exterior of the spine. The Bottom LineThis machine is safe, but some people have mentioned that their backs are sick so make sure you are set up properly before operating. Back to the menu ^ Like any home workout device, it is important that you watch the DVD tutorial before jumping on it, so that you do not get hurt. This can be a virtue and a con. If something is so complicated that you have to watch DVDs to understand how it works, it's not as user-friendly as possible. On the other hand it is good that the company provides DVDs for customers. Kon, it can find as a gimmick that might be turned off for some users. Another con is the price, as it is more than $200 with shipping. For those who may not know if it works or not it can be too steep the price to pay. [2] Finally, another con is just the fact that ab doer 360 is not found in many gyms, so nonexistent makes purchases less hard. Bottom LinePros and disadvantages are generally the same. back to the menu ^ This ab product is nothing more than just abs sculpt, it can really work the whole body if you use it correctly. It comes at a steep price, but compared to bigger ticket items like treadmills it doesn't seem expensive. Some users complain of back issues, but generally it is safe to use. It doesn't seem like a bad purchase, but it comes across a little gimmick at first glance. All in all 360 ab performers is another good option to help melt the pounds and get back into good shape.
