Dian Fossey's classic tale of four gorilla families, the basis of the film starring Sigourney Weaver. For thirteen years, Dian Fossey (1932-1985) lived and worked with Uncle Bert, Flossie, Beethoven, Pansy and Digit in the remote rainforests of the Virunga volcanic mountains in Africa, establishing an unprecedented relationship with these shy and affectionate beasts. In her base camp, 10,000 feet above sea level, she struggled daily with the rain, loneliness and constant threat of poachers who slaughtered her beloved gorillas with horrific ferocity. Gorillas in the Mist is a unique and intimate glimpse of an endangered world and an endangered species. Dian Fossey herself was murdered, probably by poachers, in December 1985, and is buried in her gorilla cemetery next to Digit (who inspired this book), and near many gorillas killed by poachers.
