New insurance license applicants who have an incorrect national manufacturer's number (NPN) (NPN) through the www.nipr.com or www.sircon.com application and payment will be rejected and a new licence application will have to be submitted. Below is the result of the applicant will receive after the application: Result: Rejected Description: NPN submitted to the applicant, but the applicant is not in the register. Note that the NPN field is NOT a required field in the new license application. In addition, depending on the browser or device used by the applicant, the online application may incorrectly fill in the number (e.g. phone number) in the NPN field. If the applicant is a former producer with a previously assigned NPN, it must ensure that the correct NPN is in place. If you have a new candidate without a previously assigned NPN, the NPN field must be left blank before you can apply. Otherwise, the application will be rejected and you will need to submit a new license application. 11 January 2019 As of January 11, 2019, license renewal applications for individual and business insurance manufacturers, regulators, and consultants licensed with the Indiana Department of Insurance (IDOI) may be submitted within ninety (90) days of the license's expiration date, not within the last sixty (60) days. License renewal notifications will be emailed to registered companies through IDOI, approximately 90 days before the license renewal apps and contact change requests to IDOI online via www.nipr.com or www.sircon.com/Indiana. October 12, 2018 As of October 12, 2018, the restoration of licenses for individual resident manufacturers and independent regulators whose licenses have expired for a period of no more than twelve (12) months may apply for a reinstatement and pay online via www.nipr.com (selecting Renew) or www.sircon.com/Indiana (by choosing Renew License). Full resident individual manufacturer restoration procedures are published online at www.in.gov/idoi/2966.htm, and independent procedures to restore the regulator are published online in www.in.gov/idoi/2729.htm Letters of Clearance are no longer issued by the Indiana Department of Insurance. The change in license status (e.g. licence cancellation/voluntary transfer) can be viewed online through the National Register of Insurance Manufacturers. Changes to the address, telephone, e-mail, fax, or addition or deletion of a designated responsible licensed business entity (DRLP) are no longer made through the Department. The contact details must be online via www.nipr.com or www.sircon.com/Indiana. DRLP must be maintained online through the your Sircon account or www.sircon.com/Indiana by selecting Keep your strong association on the left. August 11, 2017, a business entity licensed with the Indiana Department of Insurance can add or remove a designated responsible licensed manufacturer (DRLP) associated with an online business entity in www.sircon.com/Indiana by selecting Keep Company Association on the left. DRLS can also be handled through a business unit's Sircon account. A handling fee may apply for each transaction. It is the responsibility of the economic operator to ensure that it has an appropriate DRLP list in the Indiana Department of Insurance. Published: August 11, 2017 See 2017 Legislation regarding the Indiana Department of Insurance. In particular, HEA 1318, in force since 1 July 2017, provides that educational courses for insurance manufacturers may include sales, motivation, psychology and time management. These topics will be listed in the course apps and renewal apps in the Professional Development course category. In addition, future lifelong learning providers (CE) can now electronically send follow-up materials to the course. HEA 1318 also provides that independent applicants who tune in to insurance are no longer required to transfer social security numbers to IDOI. HEA 1137, as of July 1, 2017, reduces the deposit agent renewal fee from $600 to $300. 12 May 2017 As of May 12, 2017, at 8:00 a.m. CDT has added or updated various retaliatory fees for applications and renewals of non-resident licenses. The list of non-residents of retaliatory charges can be viewed www.in.gov/idoi/2600.htm. The states with retaliatory charges are the District of Columbia, Georgia, Hawaii, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, New Hampshire, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, and Wyoming. States that have been updated with one or more retaliatory charges include California, Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Jersey. All retaliatory charges for Illinois remained the same. If you have a resident license in one state and move to a new state, you may need to obtain a new resident license from one country to another is available on the Department's website here. Information on transferring a adjuster resident license from one state to another is available on the Department's website here. May 2012 Starting in May 2012, the Indiana Department of Insurance has reched the renewal date of the birth month renewal license for insurance manufacturers and regulators. After the renewal and reinstatement of the license, the license renewal dates will be on the last day of the month of birth The process should be completed by the end of May 2015. For more information, see the IDOI notification below. 1 May 2012 beginning 1 May 2012, approved for authorisation as a manufacturer shall receive licences which expire on the last day of the month of birth at least 24 months after the date of authorisation. Indiana implemented electronic renewal for nonresidents, starting with licenses to be renewed may 31, 2012. After March 1, 2012, paper and invoice renewal notifications will no longer be sent by U.S. mail. Renewal notices will be sent electronically to the company's e-mail address in the file via Vertafore. An electronic renewal notification will be sent approximately sixty (60) days before the renewal date. Licensees may be subject to address violations if we do not have a valid, up-to-date email address in the file. If for some reason the licensee does not receive the renewal invoice, the licensee is still responsible for renewing the license before the expiration date. You can enter or update an email address by selecting Update person's email address (for individuals) or Update corporate email address (for business entities) in the left column of this page. Making sure your email address is correct will allow you to receive license renewal notifications and other Department notifications. For identification purposes, individuals will need a social security number and agencies will need an employer identification number and a manufacturer's license number. You can fill in the confirmation/update of your email address at no charge. The ability to print individual or corporate licenses online is now available. This online service allows you to print your own license. To print the license online, select Print License in the left column of this page. This service is free of charge for up to 30 days after license applications and license renewals terminated through Compliance Express. Duplicate copies of the license may be printed at any time (fees may apply). If you have applied for a license or renewed your license through a vendor other than Vertafore, you can print the license by selecting the Print License link (fees may apply). For those with a Sircon account, printing a license is always free of charge by logging into your account and clicking the Print License link. You can now get your own license profile by clicking the Check Your Status button with the status link on the left. Click here to see all the information contained in the license transcription. A service charge may apply. You can now check the compliance status of the Continuing Education Act. For a free transcription of continuing education, click Search for courses/educational credits in the left column and click Request a transcription of lifelong learning. This unique identification number is assigned to licensed persons by NAIC (National Association of Commissioners for Safety and Health at Work). for various licensing purposes.
