Following the acquisition, Robert Family Holdings changed its name to TSL Engineered Products, LLC (TSL). Toronto, Jan. 12, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- The Building Industry and Land Development Association (BILD) and the Ontario Home Builders' Association (OHBA) believe the new COVID-19 restrictions announced by the Ontario government today are needed. COVID-19 infections in the province have reached a point where these actions are needed to get the province where mass vaccinations can take place. The measures announced today will hit the construction industry back to industry requirements similar to those in place in April 2020. The Government of Ontario continues to show confidence in the construction industry to operate in a safe environment with the utmost respect for measures to stop the spread of COVID-19, said Dave Wilkes, president and CEO, BILD. Our industry and our association will take all necessary steps to ensure that COVID-19 health and safety protocols are maintained at the highest possible levels. We will continue to work with members to remind them of the tremendous responsibility associated with Essential Workplace designation under the Emergency Orders. We have to rally. We all want to be safe at home and at work, said Joe Vaccaro, CEO OHBA. With these new restrictions, the Ontario government continues to make public safety the priority. Our industry has a strong track record of implementing improved protocols under COVID-19. While the new restrictions will slow delivery of new housing for some projects, case levels have come to the point that all sectors and residents should be part of the solution. Our members look forward to a time when they can resume full and normal construction levels and continue to serve the residential construction needs of all Ontarians. With nearly 1,500 member companies, BILD is the voice of the house building, land development and professional renovation industry in the Greater Toronto Area. The building and renovation industry offers more than 269,000 jobs in the region and $30.3 billion in investment value. BILD is proudly affiliated with the Ontario and Canadian Home Builders Associations.The Ontario Home Association is the voice of the residential residentials operates in Ontario, representing 4,000 member companies organized in 27 local associations across the province. The residential construction industry contributes more than $51 billion dollars to Ontario's economy, which employs more than 330,000 people across the province.-30- For additional information or to interview BILD's president and CEO, Dave Wilkes, to schedule, contact John Provenzano, BILD Media Relations Manager at JProvenzano@bildgta.ca or 416-617-7994, and to schedule an interview with OHBA CEO Joe Vaccaro, contact Leah Sisnett at lsisnett@ohba.ca or 416-525-8071. We will remove it and make the necessary changes. The Focus Time feature gives parents and kids the tools they need to pass, said Anne Bryan, circle chief executive officer. After hearing about our clients' struggles to be both older and teacher while trying to work remotely, we built this new essential tool. We are proud to make parents' lives easier while supporting distance learning. Focus time, which was released as a beta feature, makes it easy for parents running the Circle App on an iOS mobile device to specify designated school hours, during which children can only access websites, online tools, and apps they need for schoolwork, while blocking everything else. When using Circle Home Plus hardware along with the Circle iOS App, Focus time can be applied to any internet-connected device within a home network, including school-issued Chromebooks, other laptops and desktops, and any iOS or Android mobile device. The Focus Time feature includes a default list of recommended school-related apps, websites, and categories, which parents can customize based on their child's specific needs. During Focus Time, children can access everything on the Focus Time list with no time limits. My child is in the last year of school, one Circle user said. He requires access to one or more platforms for school work, but I'd like to block other platforms in case distractions. I wish I could break certain programs under without sustaining all access, another Circle user said. My My should use the internet to do her homework, so I'd like to be able to use Circle to cut off her access to social media while doing her schoolwork. Circle's features, including content filters, time limits, and the ability to underpin the internet®, configure device bedtime and block specific apps have already served as useful tools for parents during shelter-in-place. By managing all Wi-Fi devices inside and mobile devices outside the home on any network, Circle provides a comprehensive solution for common screen time woes. The Circle website includes resources for parents and caregivers, including advice from experts, a space to learn from other parents' experiences, and a blog with timely tips on topics like screen time during social distancing. About Circle Media Labs Inc. Circle, with offices in Portland, Ore. and Cypress, Calif. are committed to its mission to make families' lives better, online and down. We see a world where families find balance, set healthy limits, build good habits and get the best out of their digital experiences.
