Plot [edit | edit source] Kohinata Minoru is a college student at a college that is popular for its sports rather than academic orientation. Although he starts out as a gymnast alongside his friend, Nana, Minoru is bullied by the higher ranked gymnasts. One evening, a karate student at the college, Mutou Ryuuiji, witnesses Minoru being bullied and coming to the rescue ... but his intentions are not to save Minoru, but to drag him into the world of karate. Minoru makes new friends and learns some of their dark past, including a shocking death that reveals motives for revenge. Community content is available under CC-BY-SA unless otherwise specified. Edit sharing Did you know? Minami's weak point is his hemorrhoids. Mutou is often referred to as a gorilla by Minami and Hayama. After 30 volumes or so, Yasushi Baba begins to develop his way of drawing muscles. It becomes more defined, shady and solid; it coincides with MMA Genre Shift as characters are now mostly shirtless, and no less important, he starts to pull the women more curvy as well. Characters in particular got a beauty upgrade, Hayama and Seiji are glaring examples, their designs are completely renewed; it may be for matching looks with their beautiful girls as they got Rika and Akiko as their Love Interests. Imai Yuuto, a prodigy of MMA karate, experiences a taste of defeat against Minoru in the Kaburagi-ryu nationals. Aniya Souhachi is an old master of traditional Okinawan martial arts, he is also an avid bodybuilder and rides a motorcycle. Mamiya Seiji tends to get very jealous of Minoru's success with the ladies. Especially when one of the ladies in question is a blonde. The scariest guy with a nightmare southern face: Kevin Norton. He is a bit odd looking to begin with, but hopped up on PCP in the underground fighting ring, he looks positively inhumane. In the long run, each protagonist gets a Love Interest. The girls are introduced in the very first ten volumes (some are protagonists themselves), no one has competition and they were quite obvious even before they become official couples. All of them are solid and have zero competition to even start a possible Love Triangle or break-up. Haruka's use of Taekwondo - a martial art with a very high focus on kicking - while wearing a miniskirt leads to Panties galore. In the same scene, she also makes sure to remove her high-heeled boots before starting to kick: high heels aren't easy to balance on in real life. beating people in the face is considered to be a very very tactics both in the universe and in reality. Minami explains to Minoru that the bones in human hands are much thinner than the bones that make up the skull, the result being that if you were to hit someone in the head without wearing any protective glove, you would be more likely to damage your hand than your opponent. Subsequent kaburagi Ryu blows aim to cause nosebleeds and cuts over the eyes, rather than knocking someone out. The first time the term Karate Shoukoushi is ever mentioned in the series is in Chapter 251, when the media tries to come up with a catchphrase for Minoru. That means the Little Prince of Karate. Edit Comments Del Karate Shoukoushi Monogatari is a manga written and illustrated by Baba Yasushi. Plot[edit | edit source] Meo and Takeru, who are now the first year of Reinan High School. The president of the student council is Izumi Touko, the only daughter of Izumi Koushou, the head of Koudan-kai. Of course, she's planning something from the start. Takakura Akiko and Akamine Rika are new teachers at this school as well. Meanwhile, in the background, Kohinata Minoru continues his rise in the world of martial arts, transforming from Karate Shoukoushi to Karate Ouji. Community content is available under CC-BY-SA unless otherwise specified. Kohinata Minoru is a college student at Reinan University who is popular for its sports rather than academic orientation. He starts out as a gymnast alongside his friend, Misaki Nana, but is bullied by his gymnast seniors. One evening, a karate student at Reinan, Mutou Ryuuiji, witnesses Minoru being bullied and coming to his rescue. So Mutou tries to change Minoru's passive behavior by dragging him into the world of karate. Minoru, joining the other Karate Club (Kaburagi-ryu karate), makes new friends and learns some of their dark past, including a shocking death that reveals motives for revenge. His goal is to stay strong and catch up with Mutou, Ibuki and Samart. It's also becoming a champion. He says that if he does anything, he will be No 1. His target is similar to Satoru's. Appearance[edit | edit source] Medium length Blond hair / Baby-faced (because of this, Minoru comes out as attractive). Light-skinned. Muscle tone has grown since years jump. Thin full-length eyebrows. Personality[edit | edit source] Passive behavior in the first place. After being taken in by the 2nd Karate club, Minoru switches from an athlete to a fighter. Usually still passive, but when someone spots/beats his friends his behavior changes from passive to aggressive and shows that he is ready to fight. It can be said that he has been infected with Mutou's venom as Kohinata loves to fight as a to improve themselves. But he doesn't go around and start random fights, as we first saw Mutou do. Sometimes Minoru's aggressive behavior can become his Achilles heel in some cases, as he may tend not to listen to fight plans and start fights with fighters stronger than him Mutou once described Minoru as an idiot-a person who doesn't think about winning or losing in a fight. The same kind of idiot Satoru should be. Kohinata is too easy (nice) on people, some say it is his virtue as a human being. He is also shy and awkward when it comes to dealing with the opposite sex. Relationships [edit | edit source] He is in love with Misaki Nana and they promised to be together upon her return from America. Abilities[edit | edit source] He has strong and flexible legs because of his time in gymnastics. He also has good and sensitive eyes. Although something leaves his field of view for a moment, he has the ability to understand and continue to intuitively imagine and perceive the goals in three dimensions. Which is why if Minoru's spinning techniques are great, their accuracy is abnormally high. He can also move his body exactly the way he imagines, without the need for practice. Before the break, Kohinata desperately uses acrobatic attacks on his opponent. He has taken out many of the opponents with these spinning techniques. After the year, his basic ability goes up and he becomes more of a well-rounded fighter. He still tends to use acrobatic attacks in some of his pro fights, at the beginning of the fight to shake up the opponent and remove maii, but he is not relying heavily on them and can sort through other attack modes. One weakness Kohinata runs into is the strength of his fists. He is an absolute amateur when it comes to punching because he doesn't often throw punches or get hit by them either. His solution to this is makiwara. He hits makiwara over 1,000 times (sometimes to 10,000) every day for more than a year. After that year, Minoru's blow hurt, like being hit with a brick. In preparation for his pro debut against the 2-time world champion Gianni Skandalaki, Hamada steps in as his coach and teaches him several techniques and tactics. He initially loses due to differences in technique, skill, and physics. It is said that he can control the light class at the national level. But he is too easy to take on Europeans or guys from Thailand, and so are his punches and kicks. While training for the Genesis tournament, his punch variation is getting stronger (confirmed by Takahashi Hayato-2 time world champion). While he is trained by Hamda, his punches are stronger and have almost certainly grown by 10cm. Plot [edit | edit source] A day in the gymnastics hall while watching Nana practice High Jump, Minoru was accidentally hit in the face, giving him multiple injuries to his mouth, and a bloody nose. Seeing face, Nana apologetically trying to help. Mutou Ryuuto, watching the gym is still open long after school hours, decides to investigate. Suddenly, the gymnastics team make their entrance to the gym, and after finding Minoru and Nana, begins to beat up Minoru out of jealousy. Nana tries to protect Minoru, but instead is sexually assaulted. Minoru, see this, gets angry, and contrary to the expectations of Mutou, who was watching all the time, kowtows. Mutou sees this and gets angry. Coming back from defeating Judo club members, Mutou is still holding his mask. He quickly beats all the gymnastics members, then continues to punch minoru, making him weak. Mutou picks him up and declares that Minoru is weak, so he will Change Minoru. But minoru wakes up in Dojo of the 2nd Karate Club, with a bandage on his nose and wearing a gi, much to his chagrin. He notices a man standing over him who introduces himself as the leader of the other Karate club, Minami Hiroko. Suddenly, Mutou arrives, still wearing his mask and scaring MInoru. Mutou takes off his mask and introduces himself, explaining the process after Minoru was knocked out and misunderstanding the relationship between Minoru and Nana. Hiroko cuts in and asks him to join the Karate club, declaring that he has the talent and eyes of a fighter. Minoru accepts much to Nana's anger later in the day. She beats him and storms out. Suddenly Mutou comes out from behind and tries to comfort him. He offers to make Minoru his apprentice so minoru can become as popular as him, with Judo club members appearing. They ask if the Judo club is being attacked and Mutou laughs at them, saying there are too little people to pose a threat to him. Suddenly, OB of the Judo club and a yakuza, Tachiyama Yoshiaki appears. He decides to deal with Mutou himself and is able to mount Mutou, although Mutou's first hit was able to knock his front teeth. Mutou tries to land a palm strike on Yoshiaki's ears, forcing Yoshiaki to stand up to avoid. Then he stabs Yoshiaki's neck. Again, Yoshiaki gets Mutou on the floor with an Arm Bar, but Mutou reads the lock and slams his elbow into Yoshiaki's face. Mutou lifts his foot to squeeze Yoshiaki's balls but misses on purpose and he and Minoru leave. The Judo members are chasing him, but they're all beaten. Trivia[edit | edit source] Minoru qualifies as Almighty Janitor a character who is near the bottom of the scale in terms of rank but is at the top compared to what he can actually accomplish. Being a white belt and later progressing to a green belt before the hour-skip, but he is able to beat the head of Reinan's kendo team, and becomes able to fight and defeat black belts. Minoru is pretty weak to throw punches, something his opponents can take advantage of until he develops into one more fighter later. Minoru's specialization is kicking off. This is due to his gymnastics background, which gives him flexible legs. Signature Move: The domawashi (full body rolling kick) Minoru is occasionally referred to as Kohinata Kairyuu, which is a more common way of saying kanji in his name. The first time the term Karate Shoukoushi is ever mentioned in the series is in Chapter 251, when media people try to come up with a catchphrase for Minoru. That means the Little Prince of Karate. He is very shy when it comes to dealing with women. He still hasn't recognized Nana's feeling for him. He lives with Hayama and Pedro in the men's dormitory on Reinan. Reinan, what's there?
