Complex sentences worksheet 7th grade

A complex sentence has an independent clause and a dependent clause. An independent clause is a complete sentence that can stand alone. A dependent clause is not a full sentence because it cannot stand on its own. A dependent clause is similar to an independent clause, or full sentence, but it lacks any of the elements that would make it a full sentence. Dependent clauses start with the subordinate of conjunctions such as; after, though, as, because, for, though, if, since, though, unless, when, anywhere etc...
