Cushing island maine rentals

'The Jail' on Cushing's Island - a second world war, renovated military jailhouse located on the eastern side of Cushing's Island, in Casco Bay. The house is incredibly well equipped and can easily accommodate larger groups. There are 5 bedrooms, 3 small prison cells with single beds (perfect/fun for the kids!), a bunkhouse and 4 full baths. The rental price for the house allows up to 10 quests, but will consider additional fee. Cushing's Island is a privately owned island in Casco Bay, where about 45 families live seasonally. It is one of Maine's most beautiful islands with extensive hiking trails that have access to the stunning landscape. Walking, bird fishing, swimming, or just relaxing on the porch is how most people fill their days. A year-round caretaker drives the only vehicle on the island. There are no shops, restaurants or shops at Cushing's. Ferry service departs from Portland Harbor and runs from Memorial Day to Labor Day. Cushing's Island provides the perfect setting for a quiet, secluded family vacation just minutes from downtown Portland (where, if desired, you can find great restaurants, shopping and museums). Experience the beauty of Peaks - but take a 17-minute ferry ride to downtown Portland for award-winning restaurants. The best of two worlds! Cushing Island is a small privately owned island located across the canal from Peaks Island. Best known for Old Whitehead, which is a hundred and fifty foot granite rock. A rock formation that appears to be silhouetted by a lady can be found in the rocks and is visible from passing boats. There are many stories of settler hardship, but none as unfortunate as George Felt, who took some men to Peaks to round up some sheep left there by fleeing residents only to be massacred by Native Americans who let them land with a false sense of security. During the Spanish-American War, a fort was built overlooking Old Whitehead, which was also used during World War I& II. Save time - get the best Cushing rentals sent directly to your email!
