The USDA is an equal opportunity provider and part employer name food policy snapshot series: Kanawha County Schools 2020 Summer Feeding Program Overview: In Kanawha County, West Virginia, children 18 and younger may pick up a weekly meal kit including five breakfasts, five lunches and milk throughout the summer. Location: Kanawha County, West Virginia population: 180,454 (2018 data) Food policy category: Food security; Nutrition and Nutrition Program Goals: To ensure children are fed during the summer months how it works: Kanawha County schools are part of a federally funded summer food service program. From June 8, Kanawha Schools will provide free summer meal kits for all children aged 18 and under who wish to attend, whether they are enrolled in a Kanawha county public school or not. The program will run until August 4. Families will be able to pick up their meal kit at any of the 19 schools in the district on Monday or Tuesday, depending on the schedule of the specific site. Upon arrival at the school, recipients will be asked to drive up to the check-in point and open their trunk or side door. Team Wearing masks will load the meals into the car and close the door. This protocol will reduce the amount of physical contact required to distribute and receive meals in order to prevent the spread of COVID-19. Meal kits include five breakfasts and five lunches, as well as milk. Some items included in meals will require refrigeration within 2 hours and will be labeled accordingly. All meals have a shelf life of 10 days. Progress so far: In previous years the schools have served meals on site, and students have managed to have breakfast and/or lunch together at the distribution site. Because of COVID-19, this will be the first year meals are distributed for off-site consumption. The meal kit distribution program for this summer will begin on June 8. Why it matters: According to the 2020 County Health Rankings, 26% of children in Kanawha County live in poverty and 14% of all residents are food insecure. Due to the Corona epidemic, nearly 10,000 residents in the province have filed new unemployment claims in recent months, and the unemployment rate rose from 5.5 percent in March to 17.8 percent in April. Many children eat breakfast and lunch at school because their families cannot afford or provide adequate food and nutrition at home. When schools closed in March because of COVID-19, many school systems, including Kanawha County, continued to provide meals to students through on-site pickup or bus delivery. During the last week of bus deliveries, Kanawha prefecture provided 112,500 meals. Spokeswoman Brianna Warner said: We know a lot of families rely on these meals and we were as happy to deliver them as we would as if they were children at school. So this summer, and every summer, that need doesn't go down. Program/Policy Initiated: The summer feed program will begin on June 8, 2020. Point of contact: Diane Miller, Director General of the Kanawha County Department of Pediatric Nutrition: [Protected E-mail] Phone: 304-348-6660 Similar methods: Many cities and counties including New York City; Waco and San Antonio, Texas; And Sue City, Iowa, provides free meals during summer. However, it is unclear whether other places are using a weekly meal distribution system similar to the one in Kanawha. Estimate: No evaluation has been made for this program. Kanawha County schools recently announced its sponsorship of the summer food service program for 2020, which includes five-day boxes for breakfast and lunch available for collection for all children, ages 18 and younger. Diane Miller, girl The Kanawha County Schools Administration (KCS) said it was a parent-only collection program, different from school bus deliveries made at the end of the school year. There will be no connection, Miller said of the process at the sites. There'll be someone there to ask how many meal kits are needed. The next person will open the trunk or ask if they can open the side door to put meals in the car. There are 20 school sites across the county that will have packages of meal kits. Participation varies on each site and schedules can be adjusted according to the region's needs, KCS said. Meal kits for 5 days will contain breakfast and lunch items along with milk. They have a shelf life of 10 days and parts of the kit will need cooling within two hours. They'll be just like they are at the end of our feeding program during the school year. In fact, it's the same company and milk will be included, Miller said of the meals. Miller expects to deliver about 50,000 meals a week over the summer, from 135,000 a week during the school year. She still expects the sites to be overloaded and welcomes all volunteers to help make the process faster. Many website pickups will move to third in the week after the primary.
