Love the app? Rate us! Your feedback is that the ShowMe engine keeps running. Love this app it is very easy and easy to use. Although I have not been able to use it for what I would have liked as I needed an option where you can paint the fill, i.e. draw a box and click for it to be full of colors instead of doing it all by hand after this review it worked badly, whenever I clicked off all my work disappeared on me and back on it went! Horrible I could give a half if I could. I :(It is very sad. If I could probably give it a two and a half. I don't know. It's horrible as I put me so much work into something on the show and then it crashes and puts me out and I :(all my work loose. It's not bad it's good to draw and write notes and you don't really use it for your purpose. That's fine, but there's still some fixing needed. I have a year 6 Am the one it's so easy to use and I love it so my students can join the app's privacy practices so I've indicated to download the developer, Learnbat, Inc. for advice for work places and schools of the data described below. Even if you accidentally remove the drawing, you can press the back button and you will see your previous drawing which you once removed and you can once again make the slideshow it's really a great whiteboard , another thing is wait there's a lot of colors you can choose from if you press plus on the color line unlike other whiteboard apps it's a great game that you should download anywhere I was excited about this app , even if there are some whiteboard apps that use are easy to do and are more powerful out there. I decided to start with this one because a teacher friend friend This. Unfortunately, unless you have $100 a year to spend on it, it's useless if you're trying to teach because there's no way to store what you make without paying it for you. I misunderstood and assumed there was a way for me to store your presentations on my device or on the drive, but since it's not possible it sucks too much until your school district pays for it for you. It's very bad, because it's the beginning of a wonderful idea and can be really useful..) Especially during remote learning in the midst of the epidemic, but I can't afford it and many teachers who don't know who can and that's relevant in light of the fact that there are so many tech companies and app creators that are providing what we need for free for our students right now. It has been a 5-star rating before the last few months. I've been using this platform to create videos for 5 or 6 years, and have loved it for ease of use and quick turn-around on processing. I pay for a premium account because of the content of several hours I have. However, I have many issues of uploading and processing videos recently. (For example, today... I'm trying to upload a video and receive the message the server with the specified host name couldn't find.) My students tell me regularly that they didn't get the message video... Half a class can get it and not the other half. The money for this account certainly does not come from our district..) It's out of my own pocket. If the service does not improve, I have to consider a different platform.
