Share this article To say I'm in Phetchaburi or I'm in Bangkok, for example, would you choose to choose in or in good? To be honest, both in/in are intentions that are common when used in spaces. Today, we have a way of remembering the simple use of these two words, and it is included in a small place somewhere. Like their own house. Friends House The house is a department store, school, university, library, etc. Chulalongkorn University is located at 254 Phayathai Street, Pathumwan, Bangkok 10330. Studied at Chulalongkorn University, I will read books in the library. He studied in Bangkok, lives in America. I live on the island. I live on an island. Precautions When it comes to sea, it can sometimes be used both at and up, but the concept is different. Let's meet at the beach. Use this to mean the area of the beach. Any part of it can be a car park, hallway, etc. Let's meet at the beach. Use in inside the sandy area on the beach, or in other cases. If the province/city in which we live is an island like Phuket, Samui, etc. His choice will depend on which part of the area we are focused on when we want to emphasize that the place is an island as I live in Phuket. When we use in, we are more focused on the name of the place as I live in Phuket. Learning English When you start grammar, many people may get bored or impressive. But learning a language has to come with grammar. To be able to apply the knowledge to the next level or apply it in other cases.
