Great googly moogly phineas and ferb

Ad: English View source Share Major Francis Monogram or, as he likes to be called, simply Major Monogram (due to the fact that people often tease him over his first name) is Agent P commanding officer, and gives him his mission every day. Helping him deliver his daily messages and doing general things around the agency is his intern, Carl. From the third season, he doesn't hate being called Francis. Biography Early Life Major Monogram recalls life in the Academy. When Francis Monogram was five years old, he always wanted a pony for Christmas. The wish was never fulfilled, and Major Monogram has a lasting contempt for Santa Claus. (Me, Brobot) He also had the dream of becoming an acrobat, but he was forced to follow in his father's footsteps and trained to fight evil. At a young age, he was forced to move with actor Ray Liotta to a place known only as The Academy, which he now considers a painful memory. It had been imposed on him by his alleged father, who also attended the academy. (Small monogram) As desperate as he had tried to negotiate his father out of the decision, his father refused, saying that the matter was permanently settled and that he was not Francis' father. (Get That Bigfoot Outa My Face!) Major monogram younger. As an adult, he was employed in the O.W.C.A., where he made his way to become a senior officer. Present life major monogram whole body without pants on. Major Monogram is currently the title Major and is head of his branch of the O.W.C.A., a secret animal organization that fights crime and evil. He transmits messages to Perry the platypus (and most likely to other agents), while Carl, his quirky red-haired intern, films them. An interesting peculiarity he has is that sometimes he doesn't wear pants, as he tells Perry the platypus, even though he does when he's on the field or in public. (I Scream, You Scream, Unfair Science Fair Redux (Another Story)) This seems to be because of the importance of professionalism and the general avoidance of potentially embarrassing situations. Major Monogram without hair When he transmits messages to Agent P, he wears a wig. He is bald by her new pneumatic transporter. (Unfair Science Fair, Perry Lays an Egg) His moustache is also fake; he was seen trying out various fake moustache styles. (I was a middle-aged robot) He also has a Unibrow, which led to Heinz Doofenshmirtz calling him Major Monobrow. (Spa Day, Phineas and Ferb: Summer is yours!) Lately, his age has come to him. A For example, the simple fact that his back fails, which means that he cannot inform Agent P for the day. His intern Carl had to do it for him. (The Flying Fishmonger) Major Monogram has mentioned that with gold teeth, a copper spleen, and 35% metal. Metal. and Ferb: Summer is yours!) Future Life In later life, Major Monogram eventually retired from the OWCA and went to a better place, especially Bora Bora. His intern Carl was promoted to commander. The two remained in contact and remained friendly for the past ten years. He grew his previously short hair up to his neck, grew a small beard that goes just below his chin, and wore a blue-pink Hawaiian shirt. (Act Your Age) After a time travel disaster went wrong, Dr. Doofenshmirtz took over the Tri-State Area and Major Monogram was forced to sign an oath with Doofenshmirtz. He looks very old, with a long white beard. His Unibrow is still grey, and he still has his moustache. He still has his job, but Agent P has failed a large number of missions since the beginning of the summer, when he was hit by a huge piece of tin foil, which meant he had to stay in a full-body bond for 18 months, which led to Doofenshmirtz gaining the upper hand, which led to him taking over the three-state territory. After signing the oath with Dr. Doofenshmirtz, it seems that all missions failed. (Phineas and Ferbs Quantum Boogaloo) Personality He has a serious personality and he acts as he is in his O.W.C.A. position all the time, even though he worked in the Slushy Burger (Phineas and Ferb Save Summer) and when he sent his card to Santa,[4] He acted as a major. Still, Francis can make jokes when he tries. In several episodes, he has shown little patience for events such as Carl's awkwardness or Doofenshmirtz's nonsense. In various episodes (e.B. Where is Perry? (Part Two)), it has been shown that he cares a lot about the money that is spent in the O.W.C.A. Easily motivating and irascible, it has been shown that he is overly motivated by positive events (such as his birthday in Backyard Hodge Podge, or the fight between Perry and Doofenshmirtz in Misperceived Monotreme). And on the other hand, he often acts drastically against negative events (for example, when you call for his first name in Phineas and Ferb Musical Cliptastic Countdown, or when Doofenshmirtz finally takes over the Tri-State area after being elected the first Tri-Governor in Last Day of Summer, leaving Monogram very depressed). He proved incapable of doing something himself and incompetent for new technologies (A Phineas and Ferb

Family Christmas, Remains of the Platypus, Candace Disconnected) and did not care too much about the recommendations of others (Remains of the Platypus). Other Half In Split Personality reveals that he has a side that wants to sing, but he keeps it under wraps. Physical appearance Francis has light skin, white in a buzz cut, a grey monobrow and a bushy white moustache. His hairline is the pinnacle of a widow. He has a big nose with both eyes on one side or lying there, as highlighted by Carl. (This is Spirit) That's why he has to wear special sunglasses designed by family friend M.C. Escher. (Where is Perry? (Part 2)) His normal uniform consists of a green long-sleeved shirt and trousers. The shirt has a dark grey collar and dark grey lines on the shoulders and front and around the cuffs. His initials MM are monogrammed in purple on the right chest of the shirt. The trousers have dark grey lines on the sides of the trouser legs. He wears black shoes. Relationships Carl the Intern main article: Monogram and Carl's relationship Perry's platypus Perry's Major Monogram drawing monogram seems to think a lot of Perry. He is very formal with him and has always called him Agent P when others call him Perry. But sometimes he calls him Perry. (Phineas and Ferb-Busters!) And only once did he call him by his full name, Agent Perry the Platypus. (Phineas and Ferb: Mission Marvel) He considers Agent P to be the agency's best agent. When Doofenshmirtz created clones of Agent P, he explained that Agent P was nothing short of the best in his field. He also felt terrible, even crying a little when he felt that Agent P had become a villain. (Cheer Up Candace) Sometimes he thinks he's too rough on Agent P, if perhaps only because Carl fooled him to think like that. (Thaddeus and Thor) Major Monogram and Carl laugh at Perry. Monogram and Carl also like to play pranks on Perry. They once played a prank on him, with Agent P dressing up as a magpie when he went to his hiding place. (Friend of 27,000B.C.) When Phineas and Ferb built a circus, Agent P appeared for his mission in a ridiculous circus outfit in which Phineas had dressed him. Major Monogram laughed at him, and when Perry tried to leave while he still had a shred of dignity, he tricked him into turning around so he could take a photo that he could send to Carl. (Jerk De Soleil) Monogram and Carl also laughed at Perry as he slipped on his chair; Recording and playing again and again and also in slow motion, which made Perry angry. (The Great Indoors) The rest of the O.W.C.A. agents are not known much about his relationship with them, since we only see him debriefing Perry's platypus, and he was never shown a direct conversation with any of them (except Agent W), but he once hinted that Agent T (Turkey) was being eaten for Thanksgiving dinner. At some point, he wonders why all the agents are animals. You can have the same relationship as him with Perry. In an interview, Monogram revealed that he doesn't know why all the agents are animals, but Carl yes, because he's the one who does things to have new agents. It is also shown that he looks down on the agent. An example of this is when Carl seminar on their mission. Major Monogram was called to consider what all the agents who were there to turn around and with him. (La Candace-Cabra) He was known to standard three non-animal agents (fired), Planty the potted plant (fate is unknown) and as Doofenshmirtz went to the good side until he was fired because Agent D complaints from Human Resources. Doof was reinstated by the O.W.C.A. in O.W.C.A. Files. Heinz Doofenshmirtz Monogram and Doofenshmirtz took part in a radio interview to promote the release of the soundtrack and hosted a music clip show. Although quite friendly most of the time, the two make a lot of fun, especially when Doofenshmirtz finds out the first name of Monogram. (2009 Radio Disney Premiere, Phineas and Ferb Musical Cliptastic Countdown) They seem to know a lot about each other, because Dr. Doofenshmirtz knows The Phone Number of Monogram. (Hide and Search) Doofenshmirtz even has the name Major Monogram Monobrow because of his Unibrow. (Spa Day) Monogram also appears on iTunes in the first episode of the Phineas and Ferb podcast, appearing with Doofenshmirtz, Dan Povenmire and Jeff Swampy Marsh and talking about what's coming up for the Christmas special. Despite their rivalry, the two seem to respect each other. At some point, Doofenshmirtz really thanks Monogram (and Perry) for helping him save his daughter Vanessa. (Phineas and Ferb: Summer is yours!) Monogram also really thanks Doofenshmirtz for stopping the insane Rodney from sending the Earth into a new ice age. (Phineas and Ferb Save Summer) Mrs. Monogram Major Monogram is married and goes on date nights with his wife. She also made him and Carl sandwiches when Monogram was ill (although Carl ate Monogram's sandwich). His wife's name has not yet been identified. (Chez Platypus, The Ballad of Badbeard, Excaliferb) However, during a briefing for a joint mission in London, Monogram flirted with Inspector Initials. (Elementary My Dear Stacy) Monty Monogram Major Monogram Son is Monty Monogram. (Small monogram) It is known that Major Monogram wanted his son to become an acrobat, but after seeing his son combine evil with acrobatics, he allows him to fight evil. Phineas Flynn and Ferb Fletcher Monogram don't originally know the boys and ask Carl at one point who are these kids (Ready for the Bettys). Later, his lack of familiarity with the boys leads to the fear that they are building something evil, and he calls for massive military support in the review of Carl (Undercover Carl). After the guys have stopped the massive robot invasion, Monogram calls Phineas by name when he tells him he can't keep Perry while he knows his secret, so he seems to have developed more familiarity with the guys (Phineas and the Movie: Across the 2nd Dimension). Jeremy Johnson Francis Monogram once worked at Slushy Burger and Jeremy was his boss. Jeremy acted politely with MM, but Francis thought he fired although it turns out that Jeremy would ask him to clean the bathroom. (Phineas and Ferb Save Summer) Director Nick Fury As head of O.W.C.A., Major Monogram has connections and partnerships with executives of other agencies, especially director Nick Fury of S.H.I.E.L.D. It is shown in Phineas and Ferb: Mission Marvel, he knew Nick Fury before these events. When Red Skull came to Danville, Major Monogram and Director Fury began working together to warn Agent P of the threat. Aloyse von Roddenstein monogram is considered an enemy with Rodney because of his desire for evil, although he usually considers Rodney a lesser threat than Doofenshmirtz. This was not the case, however, when Monogram learns that Rodney has taken over L.O.V.E.M.U.F.F.I.N. and formulated a vile plan to send the Earth into a new ice age, based on one of Doofenshmirtz's successful plans. Despite the revelation, Monogram did nothing because he was still depressed to lose his job, thanks to an earlier brawl between the O.W.C.A. Agents and L.O.V.E.M.U.F.F.I.N. rogues. Doofenshmirtz, however, is outraged by Rodney's conspiracy and confronts that he has moaned about his loss rather than taking action, pointing out that Rodney's plot goes beyond Doof's standards and that it will endanger billions of lives if it is achieved. When you hear this, Monogram finally comes to the fact that Rodney has become a much more dangerous threat than Doofenshmirtz ever would have been. Monogram shares Doof's disgust with Rodney and takes action by freeing the captured O.W.C.A. agents to fend off I.o.V.E.M.U.F.F.I.N. rogues. He even helped Doofenshmirtz push the Inizor off the roof after he whipped Rodney with a mop. After the earth is saved, Monogram (who then regains his job .B) takes his son Monty into custody; He even thanked Doofenshmirtz for defeating Rodney for her and making sure that he paid Rodney for his crimes against humanity. (Phineas and Ferb Save Summer) Gallery View the picture gallery for Francis Monogram. Background Information Another promotional image of Major Monogram He eats blood sausage. (Are you my mummy?) He likes to eat tacos. (Got Game?, A Real Boy) He once made a trip to Las Vegas. (Don't Even Blink) He wears a wig. (Unfair Science Fair, Perry Lays an Egg) He's frozen in It's About Time! Shown. It is never explained why he was frozen in this episode, but it is likely that Dr. Doofenshmirtz did it because he made a freeze-inator beam in that episode. As he was not frozen, Shown. He once accidentally gave Phineas and Ferb a mission against Dr. Doofenshmirtz when he thought he was talking to Agent P. ( He mentions having a gliding guy. (Raging Bully, Got Game?) He mentions having a cousin who is married. (The (The von Phineas-n-Ferbenstein) He is very slow in playing a rock band theme game (That Sinking Feeling) His first name is Francis. (Phineas and Ferb Musical Cliptastic Countdown) He says he loves being called Major because people keep making fun of his name (Phineas and Ferb Cliptastic Countdown) Francis. When Major Monogram arrests Doofenshmirtz in this episode and tells him to say good night, Doofenshmirtz says: At some point I will be here and your name will still be Francis. On one occasion, Major Monogram was upset when Doofenshmirtz called him Major Mono-Brow in another episode. (Phineas and Ferb: Summer is yours!) Phineas and Ferb Musical Cliptastic Countdown is Major Monogram's biggest role alongside Dr. Doofenshmirtz, although Doofenshmirtz makes a failed attempt to sabotage the video and take over the city. He has a collection of fake moustache. (I was a middle-aged robot) He called Agent P Perry only three times on the show. (Toy to the World, Phineas and Ferb-Busters!, Phineas' Birthday Clip-O-Rama!) Sometimes it is shown without pants. (Run Away Runway, Ready for the Bettys) He has sent Carl on four missions. (Swiss Family Phineas, I Was a Middle Aged Robot, Undercover Carl, The Remains of the Platypus) He is the main character with the least number of songs sung. Undercover Carl is the first episode that Major Monogram fully interacts with Phineas and Ferb, as their meeting in Ready for the Bettys is very short. The first episode in which Monogram interacts with Buford, Baljeet and Jeremy is Wizard of Odd. Hail Doofania!, What Do It Do?, Canderemy, Phineas and Ferb Interrupted, Monster from the Id, What A Croc!, Ferb TV and Road to Danville are the only episodes in which Major Monogram does not interact with Perry. It has an agency sauna, which must be used at least three times a month. (She is the mayor) The only episodes in which he did not appear were Isabella and the Temple of Sap (which focused on Isabella, The Fireside Girls and Pinky instead of Phineas, Ferb and Perry), Canderemy, Phineas and Ferb Interrupted, Monster from the Id, What A Croc! (his voice can be heard in a flashback), Ferb TV, Road to Danville, Bee Story and Terrifying Tri-State Trilogy of Terror It is 35% metal, including gold teeth and a copper smelter. (Phineas and Ferb: Summer is yours!) He likes the Dr. Coconut song. (Take Over with Ernie D. on Radio Disney) Apparently Monogram has a side to him that wants to sing, which he tries to keep under lock and key. (Split Personality, Rollercoaster: The Musical!) He had a Perm in 1974. (Misperceived Monotreme) It usually showers between 3.30pm and 4pm. (Phineas and Ferb the Movie: Across the Dimension) His phone number is 555-4054. (Official OWCA Training Video #5: Unspeakable Powers) He has been married for 12 years. (A (A Perry Christmas) His son Monty is at least 16 years old, however, which means that they either had him before they got married, or that they have actually been married for a long time. He was with Blanca Dishon when he was an exchange student in France. (Phineas and Ferb the Movie: Across the 2nd Dimension (DVD)) His catchphrases are Great Googly Moogly!, Monogram Out!, Good luck, over here/over there and 'Morning/night Agent P. He seems to have an addiction and allergy to cheese that makes his whole body swell. (The remains of the platypus) Major Monogram is not very good with new technologies (The Remnants of The Platypus) and mobile phones and Carl had to teach him. (Candace separated) He wanted to be an acrobat instead of working for the agency. (Minor Monogram, Agent P's Guide to Fighting Evil) Major Monogram seems to be afraid of moths. (Buford Confidential) He can fly a jet. (Where is Perry? (Part 2)) He wears a jersey under his uniform. (Where is Perry? (Part 2)) He is stingy, and that's because the OWCA is skinned by weighing. (The Great Indoors, Where is Perry? (Part Two)) He has a Heebie-Jeebie scale and says Carl is on it. (Fly On the Wall) Jeff Swampy Marsh based Monogram's voice on an impression of the newsreader Walter Cronkite. He once had black hair and a mustache when he was younger. (Phineas and Ferb the Movie: Across the 2nd Dimension) It seems to be a parody of Commander from Dexter's Laboratory. His catchphrase Great Googly Moogly is the same as the catchphrase of The Ferocious Beast from Maggie and The Ferocious Beast.
