Parcel tracking (or package logging) is the process of localizing shipping container/mail and packages at different points in sorting, warehousing and parcel delivery to verify their origin and predict and assist in delivery. Package tracking evolved because it provided customers with information about the package's route and the expected date and time of delivery. This was important because the delivery of mail often included several couriers under different environmental conditions, which allowed the mail to get lost. PKG tracking provides a quick way to track your package. It includes most global couriers as well as local shipping providers and post/EMS companies. If you can't find the carrier, please contact us to add it to the service. Use the forms at the top of the page to track and track a package. Lumax has its roots in Ward Trucking to go back to infrecause of Lumax's meetings of outbound and inbound freight expectations. Personal service and attention are beyond what most people do. The relationship feels more like a family relationship than a business relationship, and the caring shows over the deliveries. My personal and business relationship has been over 30 years, providing a testament to my family as a personal service provider by Ward Trucking. What an honor it is to work with Ward Trucking. We've been working with Ward since August 2015. Ward went beyond every level of service we expected. The proximity of the Altoona terminal is also a great partnership for us. We can call Ward at any time and always get an outstanding professional quick response. Ward is not a big bit the delivery to our customers and we know that when we gave over the telerward will treat you as if you own. We needed a warehouse and in a very short time we managed to set up a meeting and we were able to implement it for our needs. Time.
