Details[edit | source edit] Walkthrough[edit | source edit] To start searching, talk to Ava on the ground floor in the west wing of Draynor Manor. You'll have to look for a book library to open a secret door to get to it. You'll find out the professor at the top of the mansion is his new assistant. After talking for a while, he says he'll do something to you if you get something to fix your bed. He's going to tell you he needs two immortal chickens. Immortal chickens (Morytania)[edit | source edit] Items required: Go to the undead chicken farm west of Ectofuntus with a ghostspeak amulet and 20 ecto-tokens (bring 4 empty pots, 4 empty buckets and 4 bones if you want to get tokens during the adventure) ghostspeak musklet and ecto-tokens (or material for them) and talk alic. After finishing the conversation with Alice, talk to her husband, who is at the farm, next to the undead. Keep talking between Alice and her husband until you know you want to talk to her directly; To do this, the former Crone Alice must make a modified ghost speech amulet for her husband. Cow31337Killer appears and kills Bessie! Animal Magnetism cutscene track just the music track that plays during the cutscene of your quest. The old man in a small house on the east side of the Slayer Tower, go. After talking to him (twice), he gives a biga-made amulet. P.S. You must be wearing a ghostly amulet to give Alice's husband a taliser. Deliver the a taliser to Alice's husband on the farm. Talk to him again: cow31337Killer (31337 leet-speak will play a fun cutscene featuring a fake player character named Elit). Alice's husband has successfully caught some undead chicken, which will eventually offer you to sell-10 ecto-tokens for each. Note: If you have brought pots, buckets and bones to obtain ecto-markers, read here how you can get them. Also note that if you haven't completed Ghosts Ahoy, you'll need two additional tokens to enter Port Phasmatys, so you might want to bring in extra material. Remember: Before you leave, buy two immortal chickens from Alice's husband for a total of 20 ecto-tokens. The mingle (Draynor Manor & Crafting Guild) [edit | source edit] Items required: 5 iron bars, one hammer, and two undead chickens. Recommended items: Give Crafting Guild Return to Ava a necklace of skills to teleport and her immortal chickens. Now he's going to need a ming. Talk to the witch in the north-west corner of the manor (twice) and give her 5 iron bars. It will give you instructions on how to turn a selected iron and bar into a ming. Creating bar mings Teleport with pendants of skills for Crafting Guild (or take a ship from homeirrimington or Pest Control minigame teleport and Port Sarim and run from there, or use falador teleport (tablet), run to the center of the north-east mine in Rimington and use a hammer on the selected iron while facing a north-facing bar mix. If you're not facing north, that's not going to work. To buy some time, get a Mithril axe now, go back to Ava with the ming, and she'll tell you what she wants next. You'll also get the message that crafting will get 50 experiences when you give Ava a ming and improve your business a little Crafting experience with the ming. Undead branches [edit | source edit] Items required: Mithril axe, and a sacred symbol Recommend items: Games necklace (or otherwise to travel quickly to Burthorpe, like the Games Room minigame teleport) Ava will now tell you that undead trees around the manor need undead branches. You need to cut down one of Draynor's immortal trees (not the normal dead trees you can chop, but the type that attacks you as you pass by). Try cutting down an attacking tree; When this fails, go back to Ava and tell her. As he uses hunter skill to find a way to beat undead trees, Turael will tell you to go see. Use the Combat bracelet to beam into the Warriors' Guild (or Burthorpe Games Room minigame teleportation or Games necklace to Burthorpe) and talk to hunter master Turael in the southeast. Turael says he'll give you a blessed axe in exchange for a mithril axe and a sacred symbol. Give him these two items, and he'll give you the blessed axe that can be used to cut down immortal trees. Return to Draynor Manor and cut down an immortal tree with a blessed axe. If successful, you will get undead branches. It is possible to fail if you have a miscarrri Level. If it fails, just click the tree again until you have the branches. Hand over the immortal branches to Ava: she will say that she has almost completed the invention she has prepared for you, but some of the research notes she has collected still need translation. Turning notes[edit | source edit] Required Items: Hard leather and polished buttons will now have to translate his research notes. See the picture to find the combination. Just click on it to change the colors of the buttons at the bottom. Once you have ungarbled notes, talk to Ava, and she will tell you to get a piece of hard leather and some polished buttons to finish the device. You need to combine hard leather and some polished buttons with a piece of 50 Crafting experience to create a container that you will get a pattern along with. Deliver the container to Ava and complete the mission!
