George foreman grill with removable plates ireland

George Foreman 4-portion family grill and melt with removable plates 14525 - Silver George Foreman 14525 Family Grill & Melt with removable plates Barbecue George Foreman Family Grill & Melt has an elevated grill feature with articulated joint joint that gives the possibility of cooking with a contact grill for cooking meat, fish and vegetables; or cooking with an elevated grill to melt the cheese into burgers and sandwiches among other uses. It also contains removable plates ideal for easy cleaning in the sink or dishwasher. Fat reduction is at the heart of the George Foreman brand and independent tests have shown that George Foreman Grill can reduce fat content in food by up to 42%* thanks to an angular barbecue design that channels fat away from food. When the grill is closed, a slight pressure is applied and additional grease is removed into a separate drip tray that can simply be wiped with a kitchen roll. Floating Hinge Floating Pig Grill is designed to accommodate extra thick cuts - so users can be generous with their portion cutting. With a floating syringe, the top of the grill can move more freely, which could help toast sandwiches, paninis or grill sizzler foods. Features Cook up to four servings with 432 cm2 grill surface Grill: Oblique grill design, channels of fat and grease in a separate drip tray Melt: Elevated grilling, for cheese on toast, garlic bread, tuna melts Removable non-adhesive plates for easier cleaning Brushed stainless steel top cover with metal handle and digital timer Items can be collected from Finglas M-F 9-5 or Dublin City Centre evenings after 6.30am and weekends (prior notice required) Display 1 - 17 of 17 results Open supported by many celebrity chefs, health barbecues are an incredibly simple, versatile and healthy way to cook. Health grills deliver mouth-watering foods at a fraction of normal time, are easy to clean and encourage a cooking method that helps reduce fat, as well as retaining a higher vitamin content in food than other cooking methods. Other special features in our range of grilling machines include floating hinges to easily adapt to all kinds of food, removables and drip trays and grills, indicator lights and built-in timers. From hot grilled sandwiches and vegetables to steaks and delicious salmon, currys' health barbecue is sure to become a staple appliance in any kitchen.
