America's leading hamburger expert George Motz is back on the road to updating and expanding his classic book altogether, spotlighting the nation's best roadside stands, nostalgic dinners, mom-n-pop stores, and college town favorites—capture their rich histories and one-of-a-kind taste experiences. Whether you're a armchair traveler, a serious connoisseur, or a curious adventurer, Hamburger America will inspire you to get on the road and return to food that's even more American than apple pie. A wonderful book. When traveling across the United States, take this guide with you. - Martha Stewart A fine overview of the best practitioners of the citizen sciences. -- Anthony Bourdain Just watching this book make me hungry, and reading George's stories will take you on the ultimate American road trip. -- Michael Bloomberg George Motz is the Indiana Jones of hamburger archaeology. --David Page, creator of Diners, Drive-ins, and Diving many years ago, I went over George Motz's Hamburger America website. I didn't realize the greatness I was about to experience. The book was way ahead of George's show Burger Land on Travel Channel, his appearances as the Burger Scholar on his own show, and Alvin Cailan's Burger Show. By the way, you can see me on the Burger Land episode in Miami. There's the Hamburger America book, where Motz hosts a hundred citizens in 39 states. Many people don't realize there's a 2005 documentary either. In it, George covers eight hamburger joints across the US. The film received a nomination for a James Beard Award, which in itself is impressive. If you're a burger fan, then you've found your nirvana. This will open your eyes to the regional specialists who make America great for the first time. So, here are the burger joints in the dock and the book along with their locations and a little information to water your whistle. Restaurants in the Hamburger America Film Hamburger America Film Poster There are 8 burger restaurants featured in the Hamburger America documentary. The Billy Goat Tavern & Grill A famous skit from Saturday Night Live (with John Belushi, Dan Aykroyd and Bill Murray) has recreated the Billy Goat as the Olympia Diner, thinks Cheeseburger Cheeseburger. The small clip after the credits about the Billy Goat is probably the thing in the film. The famous Billy Goat curse merits. The Bobcat Bite The Green Chile Burger looks pretty amazing. No, really, look at it well. Dyer's Burgers Dyer's been selling deep-fried hamburgers since 1912. This segment, when they move to their new place, is burger magic. Louis' Lunch founded in 1895, Louis' Lunch reportedly served the first hamburger in 1900. The Library of Congress website states that the first hamburgers and steak sandwiches in U.S. history were served at Louis' Lunch sandwich shop in New Haven, Connecticut.An old school vertical contraption flame broil the burgers. You've never seen anything like it. Only cheese, tomato and onions should top up your burger, but NEVER ketchup, mustard, or mayo. Two pieces of grilled white bread sandwich your burger patty. The Meers Store 97% lean grass-fed Longhorn beef from their Longhorn herd. The owner is a character. Some people like mayo on their citizens call us this a Sissy Burger, others like ketchup on their burgers call us this Yankee Burger.The Meers Store owner Joe Maranto Solly's Grille Solly's is home to the Butter Burger; you won't believe it. It flabbergiated me at the same time and left me in love. Ted's Restaurant Ted's is home to the steamed cheeseburger. The cheese on this burger is mesmerizing. The Wheel Inn Drive-In The Guber Burger is seen, a burger with melted peanut butter. In 2011, George took up this intro for me to Hamburger America. It played right before the film at my 2011 Burgie Awards. Hamburger America Documentary Here's the Hamburger America documentary at large for your viewing pleasure. Hamburger America released its current edition in 2018. This new third edition features 200 burger joints that you should visit. To simplify your life, I've all listed below.
