Spyro night flight entrance

Next Walkthrough Peace Keeper Dry Canyon Prev Walkthrough Artisans Toasty Peace Keeper is a new home venue Spyro The Dragon. You can get there by balloon of the Artisans Bridge. Similar to the first house location, it allows you to start five levels. What is needed for 100%? Scenario What is required for 100%? Unlocking 100%, each level requires you to find all the crystals and marked targets. In the Peace Keeper, these are the collection of 200 crystals. Save 3 dragons. Find an egg. Walkthrough Starts this level on a bridge with only one road left. Take it to reach the cave in which you can save another dragon. Inside, you can also find crystals to collect along with the first troll armed with the pike. You can eliminate him from charging him or the fire. Then go out to meet the next trolls with pikes and some gunners. The latter have cannons, you can take control. Just approach, aim, and light the fuse. Right next to where you left, you'll find the hallway to Dry Canyon level. If you continue to advance, however, you will encounter more trolls and gunners. Remove them by any method. Furthermore, burn down the mantras as more opponents can hide inside. You can also find here the balloonist [1] and another dragon to save [2]. There is also the corridor to the Cliff Town level and a tunnel leading to the Ice Cave level. To reach the next level you will need to use the cannon. Aim at the wall with a target and shoot. That's how you're going to smash the rock, and a new ledge will appear. You can jump on it. Also, use your cannon to destroy two crates of ledge. You'll find a lot of crystals inside. Then go to the group of ledge and collect the crystals. On one of the ledge, you can find the passage to Dr. Shemp Level. Use the ledge created to make a small cave hide the passage to the night flight level or jump on the other side of the canyon. When you select the latter, you will find the last dragon [1] you need to save on this map, eggs [2], and the key [3]. It will compete with that acid tank, so be careful not to fall into it. Finally, smash all the crates and collect the crystals that drop out of them. Go back to the ledge and jump into another cave. Inside, you will find several crates of crystals, and among them one can open the key. Once you have left the cave, you need to jump into an area under the cave to get to the exit point at this level.
