Bella customer service representatives can answer consumer questions about parts model numbers and spare parts costs. Bella's triple slow cooker spare parts that consumers routinely look for include 2.5 quart stone pots that sit inside three compartments and pot lids. Other parts that may be damaged or lost and need to be replaced are control dials and serving spoonfuls of the ossuary that come with the device. Bella's triple slow cooker is a good choice for buffet meals because it allows chefs to prepare three different dishes at the same time. The base unit is made of stainless steel, while the three cooking pots are ceramic. Each pot has its own knob to set the cooking time, which include low, high and warm temperature settings. Stoneware can be cleaned in a sink or dishwasher and each lid is made of tempered glass. Reviews on Amazon for Bella's triple slow cooker are mostly positive, and some reviewers choose to use it for holiday meals. However, some reviewers are dissatisfied that one pot out of three is faulty. Faulty.
