

White city oregon movies times

Country Living editors choose each product featured. If you buy from a link, we can earn a commission. More about us. Everything is bigger in Texas or these beloved movies. Whether these best Texas movies were actually filmed there, or it's just the setting of the fictional plot, they all do a great job of paying homage to everything people love about the Lone Star State. From black-and-white Western movies will keep you entertained for hours. If you're in the mood for something serious, watch No Country for Old Men (and find out why it won four Oscars). If you have a lot of time to kill, Boyhood will catch you for what seems like 12 years. If a horror movie is what you're looking for, you can't go wrong with The Texas, but we know something different: Every movie from the great Southern state is definitely worth a look! (And don't miss our best westerns on Netflix, movies about the South and best agricultural movies). 1 of 20 No Country For Old Men A winner of four Oscars, this film about a man who steals millions of dollars from the scene of a desert shoot-out will catch you. 2 of 20 The Last Picture Show The struggles of a group of teens trapped in a small town in Texas in this coming-of-age drama will transport you straight back to your high school years. 3 of 20 Boyhood Filmed over 12 years with the same cast, Boyhood documents the life of a young boy in Texas from his childhood through his first day of college. 4 of 20 Lone Star (1996) A sheriff in Frontera digs up a long-ago murder-and a history of racial dividewhen he comes across a skull in the desert. 5 of 20 Giant (1956) Make sure to stock up on popcorn because this Western drama starring James Dean clocks in at over three hours, but every minute is worth a look. 6 of 20 The Texas Chain Saw Massacre: 40th Anniversary Edition A weekend adventure takes a deadly turn for a group of teens who fall victim to a group of insane cannibals living in the countryside. 7 by 20 Dallas Buyers Club Matthew McConaughey portrays an HIV-positive cowboy who refuses to accept his fate in this gripping true story. Get the tissues out - trust us. 8 of 20 Blood Simple A dark and deadly road trip begins deep in the heart of Texas after a despised salon owner hires a divorce detective to kill his young wife and her bartender lover. 9 of 20 Red River (1948) John Wayne stars in this famous western about a long and exhausting cattle drive after the Civil War. 10 of 20 Friday Night Lights Clear Eyes, Full Hearts, Can't Lose. You will laugh, cry and feel nostalgic while watching a high school football coach direct his to a state title. 11 by 20 Urban Cowboy If you couldn't get enough of John Travolta during his Grease era, you'll love his electrifying performance as a heartbreaking, mechanical bull-busting cowboy. 12 by 20 Hud Is a selfish and rebellious young man who is activated by the support of his father until a deep family clash changes his life and attitude. 13 of 20 Places In The Heart Sally Field's Oscar-winning performance in this drama about a Depression-era widow who fights to save her family's farm will leave you in tears. 14 of 20 Bonnie and Cylde. Find out exactly how the criminals fell for each other – and eventually fell apart – in this classic from 1967. 15 of 20 Dazed and confused A group of noisy teenagers celebrate the last day of high school and are really dazed and confused as they wonder what to do next. 16 of 20 Bernie befriends a wealthy widow, no one thinks any of it until she's found shot to death and stuffed in a freezer. 17 by 20 Tender Mercies A vagabond country singer had nowhere else to turn when he took a job at a motel in Texas. He starts to fall for the owner and her son once he has presented an opportunity for a career comeback-and has to choose what life he really wants. 18 of 20 Varsity Blues High school football is everything anyone cares about in West Canaan, Texas. So the local team is devastated when their starting quarterback gets injured, and it's up to benchwarmer to lead them in their quest for division title. 19 of 20 Baghdad Texas This off-color comedy shows what happens when three Texas cowboys discover that their new houseguest is actually an escaped foreign dictator. 20 by 20 Office Space If you saw Austinbased corporate culture software companies in the 1990s, you'll laugh out loud at the struggles of the employees of this content is created and maintained by a third party, and imported to this page to help users provide their email addresses. You may be able to find more information about this and similar content on piano.io Entertainment Country Life courtesy Ever wishing you could go back in time and handle a situation differently – or live through a historical event before your time? You're not the only one. Time travel has captured the imagination of countless creatives over the years, giving us some fascinating, morally challenging and even hilarious movies. We may not be able to talk a walk into the past - but as some of these films prove, it can be a good thing. Whether you're in the mood for an adorable romantic comedy, a action movie or an unforgettable sci-fi movie, these are time-consuming time-consuming across all genres. So when you exhaust everything on your Netflix list, these are the best time travel movies to watch. Don't forget popcorn (ahem, we recommend these popcorn makers). Ad - Continue reading below 1 About Time (2013) 2 Predestination (2015) Based on Robert Heinlein's short story All You Zombies, this Ethan Hawke movie will leave you guessing (and guessing) all the time. Without spoiling the end, it is definitely worth seeing again. STREAM NOW 3 The Time Traveler's Wife (2009) Of the three films in which Rachel McAdams dates a time traveling husband (girlfriend has got a type), the drama is definitely the most serious. Based on Audrey Niffenegger's 2003 novel of the same name, Clare tries to build a life with the man she loves - while dealing with the fact that he has no control over where and when he will travel through time. STREAM NOW 4 Bill and Ted's Excellent Adventure (1989) Excellent Adventure (1989) Is living the same day over-and-over count as time travel? This Bill Murray film about a weatherman trapped in the worst day of his life is a classic, so we're going to count it. STREAM NOW 6 Doctor Strange (2016) 7 Back to the Future (1985) If you're looking for some good old-fashioned nostalgia, this 80s classic is holding up! Michael J. Fox stars as Marty McFly, a teenager who accidentally got stuck in the 1950s thanks to his mad scientist friend – and must make sure his parents fall in love with each other so he can still exist! STREAM NOW 8 Interstellar (2014) Trippy, mind-bending, and everything you want out of a time travel movie, Christopher Nolan's time-traveling space epic will stay with you long after you've finished watching, STREAM NOW 9 Donnie Darko (2001) Although it initially flopped at the box office, this film amassed a cult following when it was released on DVD, thanks to Jake Gyllenhaal's intense performance and surreal images and themes just waiting to be dissected and discussed. See if you can comb out this famous close plot for yourself. STREAM NOW 10 Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban (2004) One of the best Harry Potter films also happens to be a time-traveling tale. Hermione uses a Time Turner to take several classes at Hogwarts, but not all Harry and his friends use the device for. STREAM NOW 11 Time Bandits (1981) Terry Gilliam's endlessly imaginative film follows an 11-year-old boy who teams up with 6 dwarfs for an adventure through time. STREAM NOW 12 Security Not Guaranteed (2012) A classified ad from a mysterious man looking for a time-traveling companion intrigues three cynical Seattle journalists. An unexpected connection forms between the would-be scientist and one of the journalists in this subdued indie. Stream (2004) Two engineers create an invention that can change time – and butt heads over how to handle the scale of their creation. STREAM NOW 14 Time After Time (1971) H.G. Wells pursues Jack the Ripper in 1970s San Fransisco - as outlandish as the premise is, it's a fascinating film when you get on board with it. STREAM NOW 15 The Terminator (1984) Two time travelers from the future, an evil cyborg and a resistance fighter, fight over the life of modern woman Sarah Connor after it has revealed her fate can save humanity. STREAM NOW This content is created and maintained by a third party and imported into this page to help users enter their email addresses. You may find more information about this and similar content on piano.io What makes a movie great? Why do some stand the test of time while others slowly (or rather quickly) lose their value? For some movies, that's the emotion the story invokes. Sometimes an actor's performance is so unforgettable, it catches our attention. Occasionally a movie is so visually impressive, it can't be forgotten. I put together a collection of the 30 best movies of all time. To warn you in advance, this is not the usual movie snob list of black and white classics and foreign films meant to show my knowledge of classic cinema. These are the movies we watch because we want to, not because we're told to.30. Avatar (2009) Avatar is one of the most visually beautiful movies ever made. Even people who complain about special effects in movies dropped their jaws by watching it for the first time. This film pushed modern cinematic technology into a new age, ushering in the age of stereoscopic 3D. Beneath its beauty, the film has a cross-art love story and a social message. Avatar is a must see for any movie fan. Best Quote: Jake Sully (Sam Worthington) I became a Marine for hardship. I told myself I can pass any test a man can pass. All I wanted was one thing worth fighting for. 29th Scarface (1983) There are a lot of gangster Tony Montana is gritty from front to back. The chainsaw scene at the beginning still gives me quivers. As he gets more power, his greed begins to get the best out of him. He makes a few bad decisions that lead to one of the best death scenes in film history. Best quote: Tony Montana You need people like me so you can point your fuckin' fingers and say, 'That's the bad guy.' So... What does that make you? Good? You're not good. You just know how to hide, how to lie. Me, I don't have that problem. Me, I always tell the truth. Even when I'm lying. So say good night to the bad guy! 28. The Notebook (2004) For the sake of full May I admit that I have never seen The Notebook. The reason I know it's a big big Is because every time I tell a woman l've never seen it, she tries to convince me to see it. The basic premise is a boy falls in love with a girl. They have a budding romance, some conflicts get in the way and they are older. This movie is the bar where many women measure a man. Best Quote: Noah (Ryan Gosling) says: I'm nothing special; just an ordinary man with common thoughts and I have lived a common life. There are no monuments dedicated to me and my name will soon be forgotten. But in one respect, I have loved another with all my heart and soul; and for me it's always been enough. 27th Audition (1999) I judge horror movies by how many full length cartoons I have to watch afterwards so I can sleep, and Audition is easily a 10 toon movie. A widower takes samples of women for his new wife. He chooses a young beautiful woman named Asami Yamazaki (Eihi Shiina)... that turns out to be the scariest psychotic movie character of all time. Yamazaki has scenes of torture so brutal they are impeccable comedic timing. Igor's (Marty Feldman) sarcastic response to Dr. Frankenstein: If you are negative to older movies, this may be the one to change your mind. Best quote: Igor: Dr. Frankenstein: Fronkenstein: Fronkenstein: No, it's pronounced 'Fronkensteen.' ... You must be Igor. Igor: No, it's pronounced 'Eye-gor.' 25. The One Percent (2006) The One Percent is the second of Johnson heiress Jamie gives the rest of us a peek into the lives of some of America's richest families. Jamie's father Jim spends the majority of the film against it. With the crash of the artificial housing market soon after, and the Occupy movement emerging 5 years later, it's easy to see what he's afraid of. Best Quote: Jamie Johnson: The top 1% of Americans, like my family and me, own about 40% of the country's wealth, and we share a total net worth that is greater than the bottom 90% of individuals combined. 24. Cinderella Man (2005) James Braddock (Russell Crowe), a washed-up boxer who fights impossible odds to compete for the heavyweight championship is one of cinema's most memorable underdogs. Director Ron Howard masterfully recreates 1930s attitude to pull you off in this this on a true history of sports drama filled with award-winning actors. Cinderella Man is everything you want in a sports movie. Best Quote: James Braddock I have to believe that when things are bad, I can change them. 23. Bad Boys is a buddy cop movie that never gets old, thanks to personalities Will Smith and Martin Lawrence. Filled with flashy car chases and spectacular shoot outs, this is a movie that you can sit down and watch anytime it's on TV, no matter how far in it is. Best Quote: Marcus Burnett (Lawrence) You made me think you were going to shoot me in a minute. Mike Lowrey (Smith) I was 22. Unforgiven (1992) Before he went crazy and started talking to chairs, Clint Eastwood was responsible for some of the most classic westerns in American film. In Unforgiven, he plays Will Munny, a retired gunslinger who lets his old friend Ned (Morgan Freeman) convince him to collect a bounty from some. On the way, they meet other bounty hunters and a hardnosed sheriff (Gene Hackman). It takes a lot for Munny to snap, but when he does, you'll be glad you're watching from a distance. Best Quote: Will Munny Okay, I'm coming out. If I look out there, I'll shoot him. Every sumbitch takes a shot at me, I'm not only going to kill him, but I'm going to kill his wife, all his friends, and burn his damn house down. 21. Leon: The Professional (1994) This tale of professional assassin Léon (Luc Besson) is dramatic and heartfelt. He takes in a young girl (Natalie Portman) whose stunned looking parents are killed by their psychotic dealer (Gary Oldman) then proceeds to teach her the tricks of the trade while protecting her and seeking revenge. Léon: The Professional is one of those movies where you can't help but stick with the killer who deep down has a heart of gold. Best Quote: The Léon Rifle is the first weapon you learn to use because it lets you keep your distance from the customer. The closer you get to being a pro, the closer you can get to the customer. The killer who deep down has a heart of gold. Best Quote: The Léon Rifle is the first weapon you learn to use because it lets you keep your distance from the customer. While many romance films are difficult for men to watch, Love & amp; Basketball goes a long way in drawing men into this chick flick genre by incorporating an underlying sports theme. Quincy (Omar Epps) and Monica (Sanaa Lathan) meet on the basketball court as children, and their love/hate relationship keeps their lives intersecting as they live their lives the section and their love/hate relationship keeps their lives intersecting as they live their lives the section as they live their lives intersecting as they live th individual dreams of playing pro ball. Best quote: Monica It's a trip, you know? When you're a kid, you see the life you want, and you're never going to tell you it's not going to tell you it's not a propaganda film. It doesn't take a lot. It focuses on the decisions made by soldiers, specifically SFC William James (Jeremy Renner). Hurt Locker is also a war movie ever made that shows the good and bad in every soldier. Best Quote: SFC James You love to play with it. You love playing with all your stuffed animals. You love your mother... your father. You love your pajamas. You love everything, don't you? Yes. But you know what, buddy? As you get older... some of the things you love everything, don't you? Yes. But you know what, buddy? As you get older... some of the things you love everything, don't you? Yes. But you know what, buddy? As you get older... some of the things you love may not seem so special anymore. 18th Princess Bride (1987) Adventure film is a dime a dozen. The Princess Bride stands head and shoulders above them all. It's a playful children's movie with plenty for adults to love too. It has everything an adventure should be: a mysterious protagonist (Cary Elwes), a giant (André the Giant), swordplay, a princess, and a happy ending. The princess bride is a reminder of all that is right about humanity. Best Quote: Westley (Elwes): If you're so busy, you can lower a rope or branch or find something useful to do. Inigo Montoya (Mandy Patinkin): I could do it. I have some rope up here, but I don't think you're going to take my help, because I'm just waiting to kill you. Westley: It puts a damper on our relationship. 17th Inside Man A cop (Denzel Washington) tries to talk down a criminal mastermind (Clive Owen) in the best bank heist movie ever put on film. What makes Inside Man so great is the cat and mouse excitement. As the story progresses, you'll find out this is much more than your average bank robbery. It's not just money these guys are after, and even knowing that they get away with it won't take away the shock of seeing how... and why ... Best Quote: Dalton Russell (Owen): This time next week, I'll be sucking down piña coladas in a hot tub with six girls named Amber and Tiffany. Keith Frazier (Washington): More like taking a shower with two guys named Jamal and Jesus, if you know what I mean. And here's the bad news: that stuff you suck at? It's not a piña colada! 16. Bill & amp; Ted's Bogus Journey (1991)Godfather 2 is often mentioned in the argument about sequels that surpass the original film, but Bogus Journey deserves a place on the list. Bill S. Preston, Esq, (Alex Winter) and Ted Theodore Logan (Keanu Reeves) were models of slacker youth way before Beavis and Butthead. The first Bill & amp; Ted film explored most triumphant time travel in a phone booth, but the second film ups the ante as the dimwitted couple fight for death on a journey through heaven & amp; hell. During the schlock, Bogus Journey is a cheerful look at a scary subject. Best Quote: Bill And Above our bassist, the Duke of Spook, Doc of Shock, The Man with No Tan, please say hello to Death himself, Grim Reaper. 15. Mr. & amp; Mrs. Smith (2005) This is the film where Brad Pitt & amp; Angelina Jolie met. Watching their onscreen chemistry, it's easy to see how they've been lasting so long. No matter how many times this movie is on TV, it's hard not to watch. Filled with shootings, explosions, comedy, romance and flat out sex appeal, Mr. & amp; Mrs. Smith is a spy movie with something for everyone. It doesn't make you think; it just invites you to sit, stare and smile. Best Quote: John Smith (Pitt) Your goal is as bad as your cooking girlfriend... and that's saying something! 14 Love Actually (2003) Love Actually follows intertwined stories of eight British couples who deal with love in very different ways. It's a romantic comedy and a Christmas movie, but it's by no means sappy. It's a touching comedy filled with amazing moments. It's impossible to watch this movie without laughing, crying and falling in love with at least one character. Love Actually is the best romantic comedy ever written. Best Quote: Billy Mack (Bill Nighy) Hiya children. Here's an important message from your Uncle Bill. Don't buy drugs. Become a pop star and they give them to you for free! 13. Good Will Hunting (1997) A janitor with an attitude problem (Matt Damon) solves a complicated math problem at MIT, gets sent to a psychiatrist (Robin Williams), and has to choose between his street life and becoming a respected mathematician. Good Will Hunting's is a charming drama with great writing, brilliant acting, and an intelligent story. Best Quote: Sean (Williams) So if I asked you about art, you'd probably give me the thin on every art book ever written. Michelangelo, you know a lot about him. The work of life, political ambition, him and the Pope, sexual orientations, it all works, right? But you probably can't tell me how it smells in the Sistine Chapel. You've never actually stood there looking up at the beautiful ceiling; seen it. 12. Where Buffalo Roam (1980) While Johnny Depp is often praised for his portrayal of the cultural icon Hunter S. Thompson, Bill Murray nailed it first in the head. Where Buffalo Roam mashes together several of Thompson's writings about his adventures with his lawyer, Oscar Zeta Acosta. Murray gives an amazing performance, perfectly capturing everything we love about Thompson, and proving that he is much more than just a comedian. Best Quote: Hunter In my case, you know, I hate talking for drugs or liquor, violence, insanity to anyone. But in my case, it has worked. 11. Back to the Future (1985) Back to the Future is a time travel movie filled with memorable characters. Biff (Thomas Wilson) a quintessential bully with some of the best quotable lines in cinematic history. Doc Brown (Christopher Lloyd) inspired a generation of children to become scientists. What makes the film so great, though, is that the protagonist Marty McFly (Michael J Fox) is just a normal boy in a crazy situation and he overcomes. If he can overcome, anyone can. Best Quote: Doc Don't worry. As long as you hit that wire with the connecting hook at exactly 88 miles per hour, the moment lightning hits the tower... everything will be fine. 10. Grandma's Boy (2006) Grandma's Boy is an ensemble comedy that hits all the right notes. The story of a 35-year-old video game tester forced to live with her grandmother and her Golden Girl roommates, it's literally LOL fun throughout. Filled with wacky characters played by actors usually confined to bit roles, this film is a hilarious gem in a heap of modern comedies. Everything about Grandma's Boy is best when viewed out loud, but seems just as well sober. Best quotes: Jeff (Nick Swardsen) What does 'high score' mean? New high score... is it bad? What does that mean? Did I break it? 9. The Shawshank is the best prison movie ever made. Morgan Freeman's tale is so good, it launched him another career. Andy Dufresne (Tim Robbins) is the kind of protagonist every movie should have. Dialogue and plot as excellent. The soundtrack is beautiful. Dufresne dancing in the rain after crawling through miles of sewage is an epic movie moment. You'll be tempted to run outside and dance with him. Best Quote: Red (Freeman) When they put you in this cell ... and the bars slam home ... That's when you know it's for real... A lifetime blown away in the blink of an eye. Nothing left, but all the time in the world to think about it ... 8. Pirates of the Caribbean: The Curse of the Black Pearl (2003) When the teaser for this film first appeared in theaters, we were all in doubt. How in the world could Disney turn a subpar ride into a two-hour epic? Three words: Captain. Jack. Sparrow. Johnny Depp's role as a drunk, smart-mouthed, and shockingly resourceful captain without a ship made the Pirates an instant classic. With a well-rounded cast, beautiful set, and a brilliant mix of comedy, action and drama, Curse of The Black Pearl is all we love about Disney rolled into a rare live action gem. Best quote: Captain Jack Sparrow Me, I'm dishonest. And a dishonest man you can always trust to be dishonest man you can never predict when they'll do something incredible... Stupid. 7. Network (1976) What makes the Network so great is that it is a universally realistic portrayal of the media in society. TV anchor Beale (Peter Finch) gets tired of dealing with suffering in society, so he goes live on air and gives the most epic speech in cinematic history. His brutal honesty makes him an instant icon who revives his career. The TV network is exploiting its anti-establishment following for profit. Beale's star power grows until it eventually pops and he must be disposed of. The message in Network is becoming more and more important as our digital society progresses. Best Quote: Beale I don't know what to do about depression and inflation and the Russians and the crime on the street. All I know is that you have to get mad first. You have to say, 'I'm a human being, damn it! My life has value! So I want you to get up now. I want you all to get out of your chairs. I want you to get up right now and go to the window. Open it and stick your head out and shout: I'm as mad as hell and I'm not going to take it anymore! 6. Braveheart (1995) Braveheart is the best war film ever made... Period. Mel Gibson both directed and starred in this epic film depicting William Wallace's (Gibson) war for Scotland's freedom from English rule. The fighting is brutal and graphic. The speeches are inspiring. The cinematography and soundtrack of Braveheart is so moving, you'll find yourself actually enjoying bagpipes music. By the closing credits, you will find yourself wanting to paint your face blue and scream out FREEDOOOOMMM!!, until your last breath. Best quote: Wallace Yes, fight and you can die. Run, and you'll live... at least for a chance—just a chance to come back and tell our enemies that they can take our lives, but they will never take our freedom! 5. Gandhi (1982) Richard Attenborough's three-hour biography of Mahatma Gandhi (Ben Kingsley) is the best biopic ever made. Gandhi fought violence with nonviolence and compassion and became one of the most prolific revolutionaries in human history. The film covers as many highlights as possible from his life, showcasing his wisdom, how anyone can follow his footsteps. Best Quote: Gandhi When I despair, I remember that the way truth and love have always won. There may be tyrants and murderers, and for a time, they may seem invincible, but in the end, they always fall. Think of it: always. 4. Caddyshack (1980) Golf is probably the most boring sport to watch. Caddyshack, a comedy legends at the top of their game, it's not just a laugh-a-minute turn, it's a visually beautiful film. multiple contemporary stories, a variety of comic styles, a soundtrack, and the best pool scene ever put on film, watching Caddyshack feels like a party everyone is invited to. Best Quote: Ty Webb (Chevy Chase) You are pretty attractive to a pretty everyone is invited to. Best Quote: Ty Webb (Chevy Chase) You are pretty attractive to a pretty att erupted with rage. He's never going to be as good as Jack Nicholson, we cried. I wish Heath Ledger could have lived to see the collective jaw of the world drop. Ledger's Joker is the best superhero movie. It's one of the undisputed best movies ever made. Best Quote: Joker (Ledger) Do you want to know why I use a knife? The weapons are too fast. You can't enjoy all the... small feelings. You see, in their last moments, people show you who they really are. So, in a way, I know your friends better than you ever did. You want to know which one of them was cowards? 2. The Iron Giant (1999) Don't let the fact that The Iron Giant is an animated film fool you. It's pure cinematic brilliance. It's a sci-fi movie with a giant alien robot mass destruction. After crashing into the ground, he is rescued by a young boy named Hogarth (Eli Marienthal), and they develop a friendship. The film approaches war and the destruction of the world from the eyes of a child. It makes you fall in love with a robot... and then it breaks your heart. If you don't cry at the end of this movie, you're the robot. Best Quote: Hogarth (Marienthal) Oh, here. This is Superman. He looks a lot like you. Crash-landed on Earth, didn't know what he was doing... but he uses only his powers for good, never for evil. Remember that. 1. Forrest Gump (1994) Forrest Gump is the best film ever made. It spans generations to tell the fictional story of the most likeable, honest, caring and really good person this world will ever see. If everyone in this world will ever see. If everyone in this world will ever see. If everyone in this world had a fraction of Gump's heart, we would solve all the world's problems. The soundtrack is a classic. Tom Hanks is amazing. Forrest continuously overcomes adversity throughout the film. His life consists of every heroic act in the news on any given day. From the first second to the last credit, everything about this movie is flawless. You can see it 100 times and never tire of it. Forrest Gump is why movies exist. Best Quote: Forrest Stupid is so stupid does. Makes.