Tivo bolt user guide

Chris Pichereau, Abshier House The TiVo BOLT is an all-in-one solution that supports live, recorded, and streaming content, without disturbing breaks or delayed delays. This device makes cable DVRs obsolete. TiVo has steered its product line towards unified entertainment centres, the first of which is TiVo BOLT. BOLT replaces TiVo Roamio. It has four tuners that allow you to record up to four shows at a time. The TiVo Mini Extender extends its use to three additional tuners. This allows you to view live and recorded programming on additional TV in your home. TiVo BOLT provides OTT (over-the-top) streaming content through apps from Amazon Prime, YouTube, Netflix and others. BOLT also provides 4K support. In addition, this sixth generation TiVo added station graphics to the program guide. The price for the TiVo BOLT is about $300 for 75 hours of HD content, and about $400 for 150 hours. Be prepared to pay a service fee of $15 or $150/year for the first year. TiVo BOLT is the first part of TiVo's unified entertainment centers. Use the new features of TiVo Bolt The redesigned TiVo BOLT has 4K UHD capabilities, a one-touch commercial jump and 30 percent faster views. The new tool also sports one-button features for remotes like OnePass, OneSearch, and collections. With SkipMode, fast-forwarding is a thing of the past. Complete trade breaks are skipped in an instant at the touch of a button. The QuickMode feature allows for a faster viewing experience without any sound distortion. Set up the TiVo BOLT CableCARD (M-Card) To operate TiVo BOLT, you must first install and configure your BOLT CableCARD or M-Card. You receive this card from your cable provider. Provides access to cable channels and the bottom of the SCREW. Here's how to install the card. Order a CableCARD (M-Card) from your cable provider. Connect the cables and set up TiVo. Insert the card into the lower CableCARD slot with the label facing upwards. Call the cable company to activate and pair your CableCARD with TiVo BOLT. Test the channels and perform the guided installation by selecting Test Channels. If you have any problems with this process, contact your cable provider. Using the Remote Control of The TiVo BOLT After the CableCARD has been functioning, TiVo Central can be accessed by pressing the silver TiVo button at the top of the remote control. Here are some features you can access from the remote control. The TiVo Search feature allows you to search and search shows on tv or online. The Guide displays a 14-day programming guide. This function is available on the Remote Control or using the TiVo app. The What now function to see what appears on the cable. The Discover bar TiVo Central screen and make recommendations for presentations based on your viewing history. Recording on TiVo BOLT There are many ways to record on TiVo BOLT. The one-time recording option captures a single show or episode by clicking Record. The OnePass feature tracks down every available episode of web and TV and places these in a folder for later viewing. Simply select Create a OnePass while viewing the programming guide. Not sure when the show's going to be? Simply create a WishList search by actor, director, category, or keyword. Every time a programme broadcasts a programme that meet the criteria, the device is recorded. Download the TiVo app for mobile devices so you can schedule records from anywhere. To access on-demand videos, open TiVo Central and select Find TV, Movies, and Videos. 1 2 3 Table of Contents 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 14 14 15 15 17 18 19 20 21 2 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 35 36 37 38 39 39 40 4 4 1 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 66 67 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 95
