Crystal picture frames 3d

Curling paper into elegant shapes, or curling, is traditional American folk art. Make this beautiful paper picture frame and put a picture of your best friend inside. What you need: Hard black paper sheet photo Orange, teal, yellow construction paper strips, 1/2 inch wide, 6 or 8 inches wide Ciz Sears or knitting needles White glue Paper round chopsticks Paper Step 1: Trim the photo and glue it to the middle of the black paper. Cut 4 sheets of paper that are an inch longer than the side of the photo. Ad Step 2: Tightly wrappe the end of the strip around the chopsticks. Curl the edges of each strip to fit along the sides of the photo so that the curls fit in the corners. Step 3: Place a puddle of glue on a plate. Dip the bottom edge of the curl into the glue and place it down on the side of the photo. Repeat for other aspects of the photo. Make a round strip at the outer edge of the paper. Add two curls to each side. Glue strips down. Step 4: Fold 4 or 5 paper in half to make 6 heart-shaped curls and curl both ends towards the middle. Glue one heart curl to the top and bottom of the photo. Glue two heart curls to both sides of the photo and fan out from the middle. Step 5: Curl the end of the 3-inch paper in the opposite direction to create an S-shaped curl. Curl the 2 or 3 strip all the way to make spiral curls. Step 6: Glue the S-curl and spiral curl to the open area of your frame to create a clean design. Step 7: Make a cardboard stand and place the photo on the desk, or glue the ribbon loop to the back side and hang it. Keep reading to learn how to make a more amazing picture frame. MDF's made 6x4 inch photo is boxed for simple gift packaging Is it made by my picture framed Native American? L.R., Denver At the turn of the 20th century, Iroquois Native American women produced souvenirs such as beaded picture frames, pin cushions, and clothing. Iroquois were located in western New York and Ontario. Your Iroquois bead picture frame was handmade in 1909. The craftsman hand-sewn beads into the cloth. The cloth was then stretched and glued to the cardboard base. The frame is only fair, but it's still worth it. When the mold is ready, cut the two metal rods and bend them to fit into the mold. Concrete mixture: 4 cups of gravel 4 cups of cement mix them together and add a bit of water every time until satisfied with the density (the denser the concrete mixture, the more bubbles are trapped inside). Before I started pouring the mixture into the mold, I gave water to the wooden frame so that it would not absorb water from the concrete during its drying. When I prepared the concrete, I poured the first layer (about 3 cm of concrete), put the first metal reinforcement, then hit the frame of the bubbles that came out a little, poured the second layer (~4 cm), put the second metal reinforcement, and repeated the bubble extraction process. The last layer of concrete should cover the metal (~3 cm) and repeat the foam extraction process again. Finally, let the mold dry for at least 48 hours before removing, watering the concrete every 12-15 hours. Then just get rid of the old magnetsGlue on the back, cloth, and it's done! If you prefer to make it special to display in your home, you can dress up the frame with small decorations! Halloween is just around the bend, but there's no time like the present to start decorating! There's no better way to go than a classic troll, and the most classic of all is a skull! It's a simple theme for party props and all Halloween related parties and activities. Wholesale party supplies are the reason you're bringing your classic and scary chance to go - in 3D! This skull wall art picture frame is sure to make any wall you hang it this Halloween! Go your creepy! Death mask (skull mask) Old picture frame without glass (16x20 open and close or higher) white foam core 20 inches x 302 Black Fuzzy Pipe Cleaner 2 Pieces Cheese Cross Racki Knife Fabric (Available Online and Available in Most Craft Stores) Spray Adhesive Criron Crackle Spray Paint (Frame Option) Spray Spray Paint (Black, and Gold) Black Duct Tape Tape Gun2 Masking Tape Hand (Opposite Side) See the instructions for creating them here, halved, as shown using a serrated knife to cut the head of the foam. Discard the back half of the head. Place the front half of the foam head inside the death mask. Cut both foam core pieces to fit into the opening of the frame. Place one foam core horizontally and a death mask in the center of the foam core. The jaws of the mask should be about 3-4 from the bottom of the foam core. Pencils trace the contours of the mask. Cut the shape of the mask as shown. The opening should still be about 3-4 from the bottom of the center of the foam. Wrap all sides with black duct tape and hold the foam core pieces together. It pinches two of the foam cores together to add extra durability and helps give the illusion that the skull actually comes out of the frame. Spray the foam core with spray glue and gently place part of the cheese cloth on the glue. Continue to cover the foam core with a cheesecloth. Cheesecloths should be applied loosely to create a textured background. Using black spray paint, lightly spray the background around the skull. Optional - you can add a very light spray of gold paint to give some dimension to the background. If you are dissatisfied with the result, spray it again in black. To darken the eyes, wrap the black pipe cleaner in a flat spiral so that the foam head is not visible. Take one end of the pipe cleaner spiral and stick it into the foam in one eye. It holds the spiral in place. Adjust the pipe cleaner and cover all whites. Repeat with the second pipe cleaner.Will have a really creepy dark look on them. Spray paint the frame. I used Crylon Crackle DIY spray paint. The end result was a cream crackle finish, which I think gives a really old look. You can paint your frame in any color you like. I prefer a bright frame against the dark goulish background we're creating. Spray one of the hands of the masking tape with spray glue. Cover your hands with a small piece of cheesecloth. Mimics the texture of the background. Apply a cheesecloth to the other hand and spray black spray paint on both hands (even gold if used). Cut the bottom of each hand into about three places to create a flap about 2 inches deep. The flaps are folded and hotly glued together to create a flat bottom for each hand. They are reaching outwards, so they hotly glue their hands to the background. The hands were made of masking tape, so they should be light enough to keep flipping using hot glue. Place the background in the frame. Use black duct tape to tape the background to the back of the frame. Gently close the fingers of your hands to make them look more painstaking. Finish the whole piece by adding an extra piece of black spray painted cheesecloth. Place some pieces around the head to create a shrouding feel and hide where they are attached to the frame around the hands. Frame.
