Apa presentation image citation

Photos with numbers and descriptions The source of the image is derived from the following format: Figure 1, Blah blah, from the title of the image, according to the author of the year. From Infinite Loop II by Kurafire (2007, January 3) Retrieved 2010-07-09/ Another option for referring to the source of an image is to create a separate slide named Image Credit or Image Source. For more help with methods of referring to pictures in a presentation (but not necessarily in APA format), see the following sections and pages of the publishing guide No. 6: 2.12 Footnotes (pages 37-38) 5.20 - 5.25 numbers (page 150 - 167 --). Enter your image attributes through references, which gives the presentation audience more details about what they're viewing and also acts as diligence on your part. Use the American Psychological Association or APA guidelines to ensure that your references are properly formatted. Right
