The RSA Hardware Setup and Support Guides available on the RSA SCOL website have photos of the device's hardware. Can use this image in the Visio diagram. As RSA envisions, Vision Hardware is actually a rebased Dell PowerEdge 2950 or Dell Poweredge R710, you can use the Dell Visio template for this type of hardware. You can download the Dell Visio template for this type of hardware from different websites on the Internet. From visio's coffee? dell's website, see Download templates on a Dell PowerEdge Rack server. Note An additional 2-port network adapter is added with the TargetVision appliance, so it will not appear in the default Dell Visio template rear view. Also, the RSA logo tag provided by RSA will not appear in the default Dell Visio template. Hello everyone, the Engineering Team recently gave permission for security analysis templates to be made available to customers on request (on request SATCE-1341) with a disclaimer that they should only be used for internal purposes within their organization, as the templates are copyright protected. I attached the templates to this post. Updated Visio source files are now available here: RSA Security Analytics 10.6.x Visio Source Files Thanks, Jeff2 people also had this issue RSA NetWitness platform8962 ViewsLast changed on May 29, 2015 1:44 NETZOOM, Inc.
