The research continues to identify individual elements within products that modulate inflammation and immune response with clinical precarious studies in multiple clinics and university research laboratories in several countries. The main clinical and preclinical candidates are in development for the protection of the gastrointestinal system (GI) against inflammation, including ulcerative colitis and the orphan condition necrotizing enterocolitis, as a medicinal food to help treat age-related Sarcopenia, and as a treatment for iron deficiency anemia, all using fractions of hydrolysate salmon protein peptides. Preclinical trial work with oil is ongoing to improve lung inflammation in eosynophilic asthma and COPD (smoking lung) as well as clinical work in COVID. The company is about the fundamental values of sustainability, traceability and optimal use of natural resources. Through innovative waterhydrolysis technology, HBC can preserve the quality of lipids, proteins and calcium-collagene from fresh out-of-cut salmon. Hofseth BioCare headquarters are located in Ålesund, Norway with branches in Oslo, London, Zurich, Chicago, Menlo Park and Tokyo. The HBC appears in Oslo Børs with the HBC marker. Ltd. Ltd. future purchase transaction regarding the acquisition of the prestigious QBC 1 & amp; amp; 2 in Vienna, Austria joint venture partners UBM Development (66%) and S IMMO (34%). The closure took place on 29 December 2020.The closure includes the properties of the QBC 1 and 2 office with an area of 38,700 m2, as well as QBC 7, the underground car park with 583 parking spaces (total of almost 680 parking spaces) that have been successfully developed by UBM Development in the last 2 years. QBC 1 & amp; amp; 2 are currently one of the most requested office locations in Vienna. This shows that the demand for high quality office space in a prime location remains high. The project was completed without delays despite two closures, comments Thomas G. Winkler, CEO of UBM Development AG about the successful closure. QBC 1 & amp; amp; 2 is rented to renowned office tenants, including Grant Thornton, Regionalmedien Austria and CBRE, as well as commercial tenants such as Hofer, Österreichische Post, a pharmacy and a restaurant. In total, the sale price of QBC 1 & amp; 2, as well as underground parking amounts to about 230 million euros. In the course of the operation, EPH has taken over the existing financing for an approximate amount of 114 million euros granted by Raiffeisen Bank International AG. The remaining part has been financed with funds from the Company. EPH recently completed a capital increase through the offer of new shares on the market. EPH is sure of the awesome location of the property. Quartier Belvedere scores with an optimal combination of a location close to the city center, the main train station's mobility center and extensive infrastructure of shops, hotels, restaurants and entertainment facilities. With its attractive work and life environments, the location at the main station has been developed not only in the new financial district, but also in a place to be in Vienna. About two-thirds of this multifunctional development is offices, while to make sure the new district is also lively after office hours, two hotels and an attractive restaurant scene have been created, plus condominiums and serviced apartments. EPH European Property Holdings Ltd. is an investment company listed on six stock exchange. As part of its geographical diversification and strategic intentions to stabilize securities and cash flows, the company currently invests in Western Europe. The acquisition of QBC 1.2 and 7 follows the strategy of adding attractive real estate investments in consolidated markets with strong long-term economic prospects. The company is confident in the stability of Vienna's main office rentals, sees significant growth potential in real estate markets city, and believes that the addition to the EPH portfolio will create long-term value for its shareholders.
